

漫画人

JAPANESE
POP CULTURE
& LANGUAGE LEARNING

No. 32

MANGAJIN

$4.95

SHUKANSHI WEEKLY MAGAZINES

Japan's Guerrilla Press

Toriyama Akira's
Dr. SLUMP

漫画人

MANGAJIN

CONTENTS

page 7

page 20

page 64

FEATURES

特集 tokushū

- 7 Political Cartoon
Prime Minister Hosokawa cooks up a dish using imported rice.
- 10 Mad Ad
Mad Amano portrays President Clinton (Kuri n Ton) as a bentō vendor hawking American rice to Japan.
- 14 Shūkanshi*, Japan's guerrilla press
Japan's weekly magazines serve up sex, gossip, scoops and scandals, providing a lively alternative to the staid and sober major newspapers.

DEPARTMENTS

連載/コラム

rensai/koramu

- 4 Letters The readers write.
- 5 Brand News
A clever name for an herbal candy to help you stop smoking.
- 20 A Taste of Culture, by Elizabeth Andoh
TV shows about food—eating as well as cooking—are popular fare in Japan. Recent changes in these shows reflect changes in Japanese society.
- 24 Book Review America and the Four Japans, by Frederik Schodt.
- 26 Computer Corner
A look at WordPerfect 2.2J (for Macintosh) and KanjiWORD 2.0 (for Windows).
- 34 Basic Japanese: Titles
The “politeness levels” in Japanese and the corresponding social hierarchy make it important to know exactly where you stand, and titles help to keep this structure clear. We examine some of the more common titles and how they are used.
- 84 Vocabulary Summary
- 86 Classifieds

MANGA

漫画

manga

- 30 Calvin and Hobbes, by Bill Watterson
- 33 The Far Side, by Gary Larson
- 40 Midori-san • みどりさん, by Akizuki Risu
- 42 A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms • 図説現代用語便覧, by Deluxe Company
- 55 After Zero • アフター0, by Okazaki Jirō
- 64 Dr. Slump • Dr. スランプ, by Toriyama Akira

Mangajin is a made-up word combining manga (“comics/cartoons”) and jin (“person/people”). It sounds almost like the English word “magazine” as rendered in Japanese—magajin. All of the Japanese manga in Mangajin were created in Japan, by Japanese cartoonists, for Japanese readers.

漫画人

MANGAJIN

Editor & Publisher
Vaughan P. Simmons

Translation Editor
Wayne Lammers

Advising & Contributing Editors
Peter Goodman, Karen Sandness
Frederik L. Schodt, Jack Seward

Contributing Writers/Editors
Elizabeth Andoh, Adam Fulford, Douglas
Horn, Okuyama Ikuko, Richard Matthews,
Daryl Shadrick, Tanaka Kiyoko, Ginny Skord
Waters, William Wetherall

Associate Editor
Ben Beishline

Editorial Assistant
Virginia Murray

Art & Graphics
Ashizawa Kazuko

Business Manager
Kathy Sattas
Tel. 404-590-0092 Fax 404-590-0890

Subscription/Office Manager
Mary Ann Beech
Tel. 404-590-0091

Marketing Manager
Greg Tenhover
Tel. 404-590-0270

Advisory Board
Doug Reynolds,
John Steed, William Yamaguchi

Cover by Kazuko

Printed in U.S.A.

Mangajin (ISSN 1051-8177) is published 10 times a year, monthly except January and July, by: Mangajin, Inc., 200 N. Cobb Pkwy., Suite 421, Marietta, GA 30062.

Second class postage paid at Marietta, GA 30060 and additional offices. Postmaster: Send address changes to: MANGAJIN, P.O. Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065. USPS # 006137.

Subscription prices:
$35/year in US, US$50/year in Canada.
Overseas (except Japan) subscriptions:
US$80/year
Exclusive agent in Japan:
Sekai Shuppan Kenkyu Center,
Minami Aoyama 2-18-9, Minato-ku, Tokyo
Tel. 03-3479-4434, Fax 03-3479-5047.
Subscriptions in Japan: ¥9,000 and ¥8,000/year

Editor's Note

We get lots of compliments on our covers, and I suspect that there are those who purchase Mangajin primarily for its coffee-table value. That's fine with us—having Mangajin on your coffee table is at least a step in the right direction.

The original idea behind using adaptations of ukiyo-e woodblock print characters on the cover was to show that although Mangajin was light and entertaining, it had "culture" too. We had some image problems in the beginning, primarily with people who thought that manga were trash, and that any magazine featuring manga was obviously not worth reading. We have pretty much overcome that perception now. For example, the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs has purchased 240 subscriptions to Mangajin for their embassies and consulates around the world as a way of promoting better understanding of Japan and the Japanese language. Mangajin has spread to most of the major US universities with Japanese programs, and it's even being used at Japanese universities as a way of teaching English. The largest single segment of our readership, however, is made up of business professionals who recognize the value of Mangajin in keeping up with contemporary Japanese language and culture.

At any rate, this issue marks something of a departure from our cover art so far. The cover of this issue may look like computer graphics, but actually it's a hand-drawn simulation (a trend we're sure will catch on with other magazines sometime in the next few years). Even though some of our previous covers used a humorous twist, the style involved only relatively minor changes to the standard ukiyo-e approach. In 1994 we want to experiment with new styles and approaches while still maintaining our identity. You can look forward to the "next generation" of Mangajin covers.

With two exceptions (No. 3 and No. 6), all of our cover art has been done by Kazuko, a free-lance artist right here in Atlanta. Any comments or fan mail to Kazuko can be sent to our address on the left.

Vaughan P. Simmons

The name Mangajin is registered in the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office.

Copyright © 1993 by Mangajin, Inc. All rights reserved.

• Calvin and Hobbes, by Bill Watterson, from The Essential Calvin and Hobbes, copyright ©1988 Universal Press Syndicate. All rights reserved. Reprinted/translated by permission of Editors Press Service, NY. • The Far Side, by Gary Larson, from Unnatural Selections, copyright ©1991 Universal Press Syndicate. All rights reserved. Reprinted/translated by permission of Editors Press Service, NY. • Midori-san, by Akizuki Ritsu, first published in Japan in 1990 by Take Shobō, Tokyo. Publication in MANGAJIN arranged through Take Shobō. • A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms, by Deluxe Company, first published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo. Publication in MANGAJIN arranged through Futabasha. • After Zero, by Okazaki Jirō, first published in Japan in 1990 by Shogakukan, Tokyo. Publication in MANGAJIN arranged through Shogakukan. • Dr. Slump, by Toriyama Akira, first published in Japan in 1980 by Shūeisha, Tokyo. Publication in MANGAJIN arranged through Shūeisha.

Japan And The Art Of Landing Feet First.

The Daruma Doll is a Japanese good luck symbol, believed to be sighted to always land feet first. To make a wish, you paint the line of the eyes. When the wish comes true you gratefully paint the other eye. This is the non-busshie side of Japan you need to know in order to understand its busshie side. All the books you need to fully know the real Japan are now at KINOKUNIYA (Kinokuniya Storey Inc.)—in both English and Japanese.

KINOKUNIYA BOOKSTORES

The Largest Japanese Bookstore Chain in The U.S. and Japan

San Francisco
(415) 551-7625

San Jose
(408) 252-1310

Los Angeles
(213) 607-1400

Turkey
(310) 327-6577

Costa Mesa
(714) 434-0906

Seattle
(206) 537-2477

New York
(212) 765-1461

New Jersey
(201) 941-7500

3½" X 4" PADDED CALENDAR
FITS MOST DAY PLANNERS

A-KANJI-A-DAY
1994 Daily Calendar

by MARJORIE E. HEY

Featuring:

- Kanji used in newspapers
- ON-KUN readings
- Stroke order
- Sample compounds

$11.50* Gift Boxed

add $3.00 shipping and handling (USA only)

*CA residents add 8.25% sales tax

ALSO AVAILABLE:

- Weekly and Monthly Kanji Calendars
- Japanese Software
- Personalized in Japanese/English
Business cards, Note Pads, Labels,
Book Plates, Rubber Stamps, Tiles,
Photo Mugs, Luggage Tags, Shirts,
Keychains, and Magnets
- Japanese Typesetting

Call or write for your FREE Gift Catalog

HEY PUBLISHING CO.

P.O. Box 801235

Santa Clarita, CA 91380-1235

(805) 295-5905

Letters to the Editor

MANGAJIN welcomes comments by letter or fax, although we reserve the right to edit for clarity or length. Please address correspondence to: Editor, P.O. Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065-1119. Fax: 404-590-0890

日本語の投資も大歓迎です。日本在住の方は世界出版研究センターへ送っていただいで結構です:〒107東京都港区南青山2-18-9, Fax: 03-3479-4436

Where have you ben?

I really enjoy your magazine, especially as a supplement to my "textbook" study of Japanese. However, when I showed a recent issue to my Japanese friend, she pointed out many examples of "Osaka-ben" and "Tokyo-ben" in the comics. It is often difficult for foreigners to distinguish between these dialects, and the many others used in Japan. In the future, could you alert us when a particular dialect is being used? This would help your readers appreciate the diversity of the Japanese language, and would also help us avoid mistaking "ben" for standard Japanese.

CARLTON B. COLTRANE

Ibaraki, Japan

We generally mention somewhere in a story or strip that dialect is being used (and frequently give the standard Japanese equivalents), but space limitations make it impossible to mark every occurrence of dialect. Your point is well taken, however, and we will make renewed efforts to clearly identify occurrences of dialect. While it is important to know the difference between dialect and standard Japanese, dialects or traces of dialects, are so widely used that the "danger" you describe is almost impossible to avoid unless you stick completely to textbooks.

Michigan & Mi-Shiga-n

Last summer, our state of Michigan celebrated 25 years of a successful sister-state relationship with Shiga Prefecture in Japan. Michigan is not a rich state, by any means, and so our sister-state board came up with the idea of a T-shirt billboard as a fund raiser. I had been turning over in my mind the idea for a unique logo, to symbolize our relationship with Shiga Prefecture. The idea was really simple: the kanji used to write the name of our sister-state look like this: 滋賀. By adding the hiragana み mi at the beginning and ん n at the end, we came up with み滋賀ん, or mi-shiga-n, which sounds like the name of our state (with the kanji for our sister-state in the middle).

JOHN J. COVELL

Belmont, MI

Just goes to show that you don't have to be Japanese to make a share (洒落, "pun/wordplay").

Linguistic lingo

I refer you to Mangajin No. 29, the Pronunciation Guide on page 31, which has a category about the "n" sound in Japanese. A comparison is made between kin'en and kinen, stating that the former has four syllables and the latter three syllables; in fact, both have only two syllables. The correct unit of metrical time to describe the amount of "beats" in a word is the mora; in this case, four morae in kin'en and three morae in kinen.

FRANCIS VASSALLO

Alameda, CA

(Mangajin translation editor, Wayne Lammers, replies:) In Mangajin we usually try to explain grammar and vocabulary using familiar language rather than technical terms. For the lay student of the Japanese language—by which we mean any student, novice to near-native speaker, who is not also well versed in linguistic science—"one syllable" in Japanese conventionally means "one kana" when speaking of writing and "one metrical beat" when speaking of pronunciation, and it's in this sense that we say きんえん (kin'en) is four syllables and きねん (kinen) three.

This usage reflects the way kana are introduced to beginning students as each representing a full syllable, including ん (n), which is typically referred to as "syllable n" (to distinguish it from the n that occurs in na, ni, nu, ne & no).

(continued on page 48)

Turn a fresh eye on the East with this stimulating journal devoted to the culture, art, history, and essence of Japan. Published in April and October JAPAN FORUM presents an international perspective. Each issue features articles, book reviews, Japanese language abstracts, and a Noticeboard that keeps you up to date with worldwide news and events related to Japanese study.

Write or call, and we'll send you details about the 1993 issues as well as what's planned for 1994. The '93 volume is available to individuals for $54.

Oxford University Press, 2001 Evans Road, Cary, NC 27513

800-852-7323

Innovative uses of the Japanese language

これで煙きり Kore de En-kiri “Quit Smoking with This”

An herbal candy to help smokers kick the habit, Kore de En-kiri makes use of the fact that the two kanji 煙 (“smoke”) and 縁 (“relationship/connection”) can both be read en. The expression En o kiru (縁を切る) refers to “Cutting/severing a relationship,” but by combining en (煙 “smoke”) and kiri, a noun form of the verb kiru, the makers of this candy created a name that would appeal to smokers who wanted to “sever their relationship” with smoking. The product description on the package reads:

煙草嫌い になる 美味しいハーブ 飴
Tabako-girai ni naru oishii hābu ame
 tobacco/cigarettes-dislike become/come to delicious herb(al) candy
“The delicious herbal candy that makes you dislike smoking”

- -girai is from kirai, a noun referring to a feeling of dislike/repugnance, so tabako-girai = “a person who dislikes cigarettes.”

Thanx to: Sekai Shuppan Kenkyū Center

Send us your examples of creative product names or slogans (with some kind of documentation). If we publish your example, we'll send you a MANGAJIN T-shirt to wear on your next shopping trip. In case of duplicate entries, earliest postmark gets the shirt. BRAND NEWS, P.O. Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065

KanjiWORD™ for Windows

Introductory Price
$199.00

KanjiWORD edits documents easily in Japanese and English. 日本語を書けます。

- Save money by using your own English/European Windows system!
- Combines a user-friendly format with advanced bilingual editing
- Enter Japanese words in Kana-Kanji phonetically!
- Create accurate documents with pop-up English-Japanese dictionary
- Correct errors with on-line English spell checker
- Change menus and boxes to English or Japanese with the click of a mouse
- Import and Export a choice of text files to other systems!

1.26" 1.00" NUM INS Page 1

To order contact
 Pacific Software
 Publishing, Inc.
 2737 77th Ave. SE,
 Mercer Island, WA
 98040, USA
 Tel 206.232.3989
 Fax 206.236.8102
KanjiWORD is a trademark of Pacific Software Publishing, Inc.
 Microsoft Windows is a trademark of Microsoft Corporation.

1-800-232-3989

Momokawa Premium Sake

Momokawa Sake is a splendid, smooth, versatile wine that Japanese connoisseurs have enjoyed for more than a century. Now Americans can enjoy the same pleasure—and, in true Japanese style, share it with their friends. Momokawa is the best sake available in the U.S. and some of the finest sake available in Japan. Momokawa products have won awards of excellence from the Japanese government's National Seishu Contest and the Japanese brewmasters Nanbu Toji Sieshu Contest. The Tokusengai Magazine Sieshu Contest which is judged by the public awarded Momokawa the distinction of "Best in Japan" in 1992. Your business associates will enjoy being introduced to the magnificent flavor of Momokawa sake and appreciate your thoughtfulness when you give a gift from Momokawa Sake, Ltd.!

Give a gift of friendship

This gift box presents a 720 ml bottle of Momokawa Gold, the true connoisseurs sake, and two Momokawa cypress masu, the traditional wooden drinking cups for premium sake.

GBG-72M ..... $63

Momokawa Gold

Give a gift of culture

Momokawa Silver Dry sake is a favorite among sake drinkers. Its full body is straight forward and smooth. This 720 ml bottle of Momokawa Silver dry is nestled in a pine gift box with two cypress masu.

GBG-G2M ..... $48.50

Momokawa Silver Dry

Give a gift of warm feelings

Momokawa Black sake is the only Momokawa sake that may be served warm (95°-105°), if desired. This gift box includes two 500 ml bottles of Momokawa Black sake, one Momokawa choshi and two Sakazuki cups.

GBG-5CS ..... $40

Momokawa Black

Give a gift for celebrating

This fine hand-crafted pine tote gives the sake or wine lover an excellent opportunity to try four of Momokawa's sakes, the Gold, Silver Dry, Silver Sweet and Black. The tote contains a 180 ml bottle of each sake.

GBT-180 ..... $36

Momokawa Assortment

CALL OR WRITE FOR

MOMOKAWA'S CONNOISSEUR'S GUIDE TO PREMIUM SAKE—

More than a catalog, this quarterly publication features helpful information on the history of sake, how it's made, and how to enjoy it. Also included is information on how to join our sake club.

To order by phone: Call our sake hotline at 1-800-356-4SAKE, 8:30-5:30 Pacific time. To order by fax: Send a hand written order which includes your shipping address and daytime phone; the item number, quantity ordered; and a major credit card number and expiration date to our 24-hour fax number: 503-357-1014. To order by mail: Send the same information as above to MOMOKAWA SAKE LTD., 920 ELM STREET, FOREST GROVE, OREGON, 97116

From the Asahi Shinbun (朝日新聞)

After a poor rice harvest due to a cool summer, Japan has been forced to partially open its market to rice imports. A Diet resolution has effectively kept foreign rice out of Japan, although theoretically it could have been imported if it was needed to meet domestic demand. Prime Minister Hosokawa pushed to open the market, but members of the Diet from agricultural constituencies fought every step of the way. Public opinion polls over the last few months show that most Japanese are in favor of accepting rice imports.

This cartoon is from the Asahi Shinbun of December 9, a few days before Hosokawa made the official announcement of the partial opening of the rice market on December 13. Japan agreed to gradually increase rice imports to eight percent over a period of six years starting in 1995, and then shift to a system of slowly declining import tariffs. Here, Hosokawa forcefully forms nigiri meshi ("rice balls") out of imported rice around the resisting Diet (represented by the Diet building).

Diet: 「国内 完全 自給」 国会 決議
Kokunai kanzen jikyū kokkai ketsugi
 domestic perfect/complete self-reliance Diet/parliament resolution “Diet resolution: Complete domestic (rice) self-sufficiency.”

Rice cooker: 部分 開放 米
Bubun kaihō kome
 part liberation/liberated rice
Rice from the partially opened market

Caption: 握り(つぶし)飯
Nigiri (tsubushi) meshi
 grip smash/crush rice
Squeezed (crushed) rice ball
Squeezed (to death) rice ball

(Artist) 針 すなお
Hari Sunao (Name of the artist)—a “pen” name

- the Japanese Diet passed a resolution against importing rice in 1988. Such resolutions are not law, they merely serve to demonstrate the opinions of the Diet. The new policy goes completely counter to this resolution.
- nigiri is the noun form of nigiru, “grip/grasp,” and meshi means “(cooked) rice.” Nigiri meshi, also called onigiri, are rice balls shaped by squeezing them, usually with the hands.
- tsubushi is the noun form of tsubusu, “crush/smash.” In the context of legislation/policy-making, nigiri-tsubusu means “crush/kill/shelve (an idea/plan/resolution/etc.),” and implies that some strong-arm tactic is used to crush resistance.

Get the facts behind corporate Japan.

Unless you're reading The Nikkei Weekly, you're only getting an outsider's view of business in Japan.

You need an insider's view to really understand the ebb and flow of news, trends, facts, and figures. Our American journalists in Japan interpret stories from the pages of Japan's four leading business and economic publications for you.

Get all the vital information on Japanese industries, specific companies — and the key players that call the shots.

Get the basis for your critical decisions on your business.

Get the same advantage as your business counterpart in Japan.

Get an insider's view. Subscribe now.

When you subscribe to The Nikkei Weekly, you'll receive two free gifts. The first is the latest edition of Nikkei's Address Book of Japanese Companies in the U.S. and Canada. You'll also receive Enjoy Japan, a handy travel guide for touring Japan.

Just fill out the attached order form and drop it in the mail. And we'll teach you everything there is to know about Japan.

In English. Indispensable.

NIKKEI®

You don't have to sacrifice great service for a low price when you travel

- Need an expert to handle all your business travel needs?
- Want to know who has the lowest airfare this week?
- Confused by the hotel's minimum night stay restrictions?
- Puzzled by the airline's long list of purchase restrictions?
- Need advice on where to take your family for vacation?
- Want to get information on that perfect get-away?

NTA PACIFIC is the one-stop agency for all your travel needs. Fast, expert service. Over 25 years experience in business, leisure, and group travel. And the lowest fares around.

Call us toll free at
1-800-USA-NTA1 (872-6821)
from anywhere in the United States for all of your travel needs

— NTA PACIFIC's highly-trained agents are waiting to serve you —

- ◆ CORPORATE HEAD OFFICE
Tel: 213-896-0341 / Fax: 213-624-8289
- ◆ ATLANTA
Tel: 404-640-9292 / Fax: 404-640-9627
- ◆ CHICAGO
Tel: 708-228-5655 / Fax: 708-228-5677
- ◆ DALLAS
Tel: 214-702-0517 / Fax: 214-702-8156

- ◆ HONOLULU, ALA MOANA
Tel: 808-951-4000 / Fax: 808-955-1181
- ◆ HONOLULU, BISHOP SQUARE
Tel: 808-545-1122 / Fax: 808-528-0533
- ◆ LOS ANGELES-DOWNTOWN
Tel: 213-683-1613 / Fax: 213-624-8289
- ◆ LOS ANGELES-SOUTH BAY
Tel: 310-329-1130 / Fax: 310-329-7383

- ◆ LOS ANGELES, ORANGE COUNTY
Tel: 714-757-0230 / Fax: 714-757-0237
- ◆ MANHATTAN
Tel: 212-944-8660 / Fax: 212-944-8973
- ◆ NEW JERSEY
Tel: 201-420-6000 / Fax: 201-420-1515
- ◆ SAN FRANCISCO BAY
Tel: 415-591-9402 / Fax: 415-591-7634

MAD AD

Mad Amano is well known in Japan for his satire and political parodies. A former planning manager with Hitachi, he left the corporate life in 1974 when he won the cartoon prize of Bungei Shunju, a leading Japanese journal of political and social commentary. Although he works almost exclusively for the Japanese press, he also has an office in the US, and he targets the politics and happenings of other countries as much as he does those of Japan. Mad Amano makes full use of the punning potential inherent in the many homonyms found in Japanese.

© 1993 Amano. All rights reserved. First published in Japan in 1993 by Shinchosha.

1	Clinton: 米の国の中でも特においしいカリフォルニア米をたっぷり使った  Kome no kuni no naka de mo toku-ni oishii Kariforunia-mai o tappuri tsukatta              rice of country of inside even in especially tasty California rice (obj.) plenty used 「栗<sup>n</sup>豚 弁当」はいかがですかあー。  "Kurinton Bentō" wa ikaga su kā?              chestnut &amp; pork box lunch as-for how about it? "How about a 'Clinton Bento,' chock full of California rice, the tastiest in the land of rice/USA?"              (PL3) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• bentō is becoming increasingly familiar to English speakers as a word referring to Japanese-style, rice-based box lunches. Spelling it "Bentow" probably reflects the American tendency to pronounce the last syllable like English "tow/toe," with a closing diphthong, instead of simply lengthening the open o sound. Ekiben (from eki ["station"] + bentō) hawkers traditionally walked up and down the train platform shouting bentō, bentō whenever a train stopped, but have been increasingly replaced by stationary bento stands/kiosks in an era when most train windows are sealed shut.</li> <li>• kome no kuni, literally "land of rice," is a word play on 米<sup>国</sup> Beikoku, the traditional kanji name for the United States.</li> <li>• kuri ("chestnut") + n' (from English "and") + ton ("pork") combine to make a pun on the name クリントン "Clinton."</li> <li>• kome no kuni no naka de mo toku-ni oishii is a complete thought/sentence ("is especially tasty even among [the rices of] the land of rice/USA") modifying Kariforunia-mai ("California rice"), and the entire first line is a complete sentence modifying Kurinton Bentō ("Clinton Bento"): "A Clinton Bento in which California rice, that tastiest of rice in the land of rice/USA, has been plentifully used."</li> <li>• ikaga su ka is a dialect/informal ikaga desu ka, "how is it/how about it?" here meaning "how would you like . . . ?"</li> </ul>
2	Clinton: 防虫・防腐のための薬品を、アメリカ基準でたっぷりかけて  Bōchū, bōfu no tame no yakuhin o, Amerika kijun de tappuri kakete              anti-pest anti-decay for purpose of chemicals (obj.) American standards by/according to plenty covered/sprayed-and 輸出した米の弁当はいかがですかあー。  yushutsu shita kome no bentō wa ikaga desu kā?              exported rice of bento as-for how about it? "How about a bento (made) of rice exported with a plentiful dose of pesticidal and preservative chemicals according to American standards." (PL3.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the complete thought/sentence ending in yushutsu shita ("was sprayed according to American standards with plenty of pesticidal and preservative chemicals and exported") modifies kome ("rice"), which in turn modifies bentō.</li> </ul>
3	Clinton: アメリカの大豆でつくった油揚げをアメリカの大豆でつくった醤油で味つけて  America no daizu de tsukutta aburage o Amerika no daizu de tsukutta shōyu de ajitsuke shite              USA 's soybeans with made aburage (obj.) USA 's soybeans with made soy sauce with seasoned-and アメリカの米で作った「いなり鮎」、  Amerika no kame de tsukutta "Inarizushi,"              USA 's rice with made inarizushi "Or how about some inarizushi, made with American rice stuffed in aburage made from American soybeans flavored with soy sauce made from American soybeans. . . ." アメリカの米を磨いてつくった「吟醸酒」、  Amerika no kame o migaite tsukutta "Ginjō-shu,"              USA 's rice (obj.) polished/milled-and made (type of sake) "or some (special) ginjō sake made by milling American rice. . . ." アメリカの麦でつくったビールなんかもいかがですかあー。  Amerika no mugi de tsukutta biiru nanka mo ikaga su kā?              USA 's wheat/barley with made beer things like also how about it? "or some beer made from American barley?" (PL3) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• each of the . . . de tsukutta clauses is a complete thought/sentence modifying a noun.</li> <li>• inarizushi refers to thin aburage ("deep-fried tofu") seasoned with sugar and soy sauce and stuffed with vinegared "sushi rice." Sushi changes to -zushi in combinations. Ginjō-shu is made from highly milled rice (see Mangajin #25).</li> <li>• mugi, usually translated as "wheat," actually refers to a class of grains (barley, wheat, oats, rye), each of which have more specific individual names.</li> </ul>
4	<table border="0"> <tr> <td data-bbox="287 2074 627 2226"> 星条旗 弁当 Seijōki Bentō star-stripe-flag bento Stars&amp;Stripes Bento </td> <td data-bbox="627 2074 925 2226"> 栗<sup>n</sup>豚 弁当 Kurinton Bentō chestnut &amp; pork bento Clinton Bento </td> <td data-bbox="925 2074 1500 2226"> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Seijōki bentō is a play on the Japanese Hi no Maru ("round sun," referring to the Japanese flag) bentō, which has a red umeboshi in a field of white rice.</li> </ul> </td> <td data-bbox="1500 2074 2034 2226"> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• amaku is the adverb form of amai ("sweet"), and shoppaku is the adverb form of shoppai ("salty" — here an antonym for "sweet": i.e., "seasoned with salt but little or no sugar").</li> </ul> </td> </tr> </table>	星条旗 弁当 Seijōki Bentō star-stripe-flag bento Stars&amp;Stripes Bento	栗<sup>n</sup>豚 弁当 Kurinton Bentō chestnut &amp; pork bento Clinton Bento	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Seijōki bentō is a play on the Japanese Hi no Maru ("round sun," referring to the Japanese flag) bentō, which has a red umeboshi in a field of white rice.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• amaku is the adverb form of amai ("sweet"), and shoppaku is the adverb form of shoppai ("salty" — here an antonym for "sweet": i.e., "seasoned with salt but little or no sugar").</li> </ul>
星条旗 弁当 Seijōki Bentō star-stripe-flag bento Stars&amp;Stripes Bento	栗<sup>n</sup>豚 弁当 Kurinton Bentō chestnut &amp; pork bento Clinton Bento	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Seijōki bentō is a play on the Japanese Hi no Maru ("round sun," referring to the Japanese flag) bentō, which has a red umeboshi in a field of white rice.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• amaku is the adverb form of amai ("sweet"), and shoppaku is the adverb form of shoppai ("salty" — here an antonym for "sweet": i.e., "seasoned with salt but little or no sugar").</li> </ul>
5	甘く煮た栗がたっぷり入ったご飯に、しょっぱく煮つけた豚肉。田舎の駅弁の人気者。  Amaku nita kuri ga tappuri haitta gohan ni, shoppaku nitsuketa butaniku. Inaka no ekiben no ninki-mono              sweet-simmered chestnuts (subj.) plenty mixed in cooked rice together with/&amp; salt-simmered pork country of ekiben of popular one Rice mixed with lots of sweetly simmered chestnuts, together with pork seasoned in a savory broth. A favorite among country ekiben!
6	Bentow あーかん荘  Bentō Ākan-sō              bento (name)-inn/shop Bento Shop Arkansas <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the suffix -sō can denote a "villa/inn/apartment house," but is also used in the names of shops specializing in traditional food items like tea, sweets, or local delicacies.</li> <li>• あーかん荘 is a pun on アーカンソー Ākansō, the katakana rendering of "Arkansas." Using hiragana instead of katakana makes it look/feel more traditional. Ākan doesn't have any meaning in Japanese.</li> </ul>

Weatherhill

PUBLISHERS OF FINE BOOKS ON ASIA AND THE PACIFIC

A NEW WEATHERHILL IMPRINT

BUTTERFLIES OF THE NIGHT MAMA-SANS, GEISHA, STRIPPERS, AND THE JAPANESE MEN THEY SERVE by Lisa Louis

A fascinating tour of Japan's infamous mizu shobai—the nightlife industry that caters to the sensual needs of Japanese men. From cabarets to the most refined geisha houses, Lisa Louis exposes a complete portrait of Japanese nightlife. Wide-ranging interviews paint a surprising picture of the women of this world, the men they serve, the mob connections, and the mizu shobai's crucial role in Japanese life and business.

224 pp., 6 1/4 x 9 1/4. ISBN 0-8348-0249-X $19.95 (HARD)

JAPANESE STREET SLANG

by Peter Constantine

The only comprehensive compendium of Japanese slang as it is used on the streets of Japan today. A useful tool to help non-native speakers of Japanese understand the forceful and colorful twists and turns of "street" Japanese, which also offer the general reader amusing and informative insights into Japanese thought and speech.

216 pp., 5 1/2 x 8. ISBN 0-8348-0250-3 $9.95 (SOFT)

漢字をどれくらい覚えるか
the practical jitsuyi
[na] 実用的 [な] jis
English-1 (language)
Eigo 英語 2 (person)
Japanese 1 (language)
Nihon-go 日本語 20 dictionary ji'sho 辞書
jiten 辞典; jibiki 字 Noah S. Brannen (a
Noa Esu Buranen
ノア・エス・ブランナン

ESSENTIAL KANJI by P.G. O'Neill

The classic guide to learning kanji, rigorously tested and refined by years of use in university classes. An integrated course for learning to read and write the 2000 basic Japanese characters now in everyday use, a mastery of which makes it possible to read most modern Japanese.

328 pp., 5 x 7 1/2. ISBN 0-8348-0222-8 $16.95 (SOFT)

THE PRACTICAL ENGLISH-JAPANESE DICTIONARY by Noah S. Brannen

A pocket-sized dictionary containing nearly 8000 entries both in romanization and Japanese characters. Introduces up-to-date, colloquial, and natural-sounding expressions to meet the needs of students, residents of Japan, and visitors. Includes a guide to Japanese grammar and pronunciation, a date conversion table, a listing of suffixes used in counting, and verb conjugation tables.

216 pp., 6 1/4 x 9 1/4. ISBN 0-8348-0249-X $19.95 (SOFT)

JAPANESE NAMES by P.G. O'Neill

The problems of reading Japanese names sometimes confound even the Japanese themselves. Japanese Names is a comprehensive dictionary of some 36,000 Japanese names by character and reading. "Indispensable. Easy to read and commendably exhaustive."—Times Literary Supplement.

412 pp., 3 1/4 x 6. ISBN 0-8348-0187-6. Appendices. $12.95 (SOFT)

FINGERTIP JAPANESE edited by Lexus, Ltd.

Don't let the language barrier keep you from having fun! The right word or expression to get you what you want or to where you want to go is now at your fingertips. Easy-to-follow, situation-based chapters will help you to: find inexpensive accommodations; eat at tasty local restaurants; see famous sights and offbeat attractions; shop for local crafts; enjoy Japan as the Japanese do; and much more.

192 pp., 3 1/4 x 6. ISBN 0-8348-0270-8 $9.95 (SOFT)

420 Madison Avenue, 15th Floor, New York, New York 10017-1107 Tel: 212-223-3008 Fax: 212-223-2584

To receive a catalogue or place an order: 41 Monroe Turnpike, Trumbull, CT 06611 1•800•437•7840

Weatherhill

PUBLISHERS OF FINE BOOKS ON ASIA AND THE PACIFIC

A NEW WEATHERHILL IMPRINT

SECRETS OF JAPANESE ASTROLOGY

The Science of Kigaku

by Takeji Mori and Dragan Milenkovic

Before making any decision, the Japanese consult horoscopes, determined by Kigaku, the "science of the spirit." This is the first book in English to explain the fascinating, ancient science of Japanese astrology. With a wealth of charts, diagrams, and clear explanations to help you understand your number, color, element, and animal sign, you'll be able to discover—and outwit—your destiny.

144 pp. 5 x 7 1/2. ISBN 0-8348-0290-2 $9.95 (SOFT)

JAPANESE JIVE WACKY AND WONDERFUL PRODUCTS FROM JAPAN

by Caroline McKeidin

English is widely used in Japanese product names and packaging, often with hilarious results. Is this simply more copying from the West? Or is it a genuine but misguided bid for scrutability? Regardless, if any truth about Japan can be gleaned from its advertising, Japanese Jive will provide abundant grist for the analysis mills of Japan watchers, linguists, and pop psychologists.

80 pp. 8 1/2 x 5 1/2. ISBN 0-8348-0248-3 $9.95 (SOFT)

SUSHI MADE EASY by Nobuko Tsuda

Sushi can now, with this book, be made easily at home by anyone, anywhere. Here are easy-to-follow instructions for cleaning and filleting fish. Includes 42 recipes with full-color illustrations demonstrating attractive serving suggestions. "A useful primer for sushi lovers interested in preparing it at home."—Publishers Weekly

216 pp. 6 1/4 x 9 1/4. ISBN 0-8348-0249-X $19.95 (SOFT)

ZEN FOR CATS by Alfred Birnbaum and Riku Kanmei

"Does a cat have a Buddha-nature?" "Mew!" "Door open—stay in! Door closed—go out!" These are just a few of the Zen riddles that any cat solves with an insouciant flick of the tale, as he pads down the path to enlightenment. Zen for Cats will delight all those who've survived the strict master-disciple relationship that cats use to lead us humans to the truth. Deft ink-wash paintings capture the Zen essence of cats.

96 pp. 5 1/2 x 6 1/2. 70 ink paintings. ISBN 0-8348-075-9 $9.95 (SOFT) $12.95 (HARD)

STONE CATS by Yoshimi Nagata

Yoshimi Nagata's stone cats are every bit as bewitching and entertaining as the furry felines who share our homes and lives. Choosing stones with accommodating shapes, he draws, paints, and varnishes, to concoct a collection of cats droll and daffy, mysterious and majestic. Easy-to-follow instructions help you to create your own family of fossil felines.

48 pp. 9 x 8. 60 photos in full color. ISBN 0-8348-0279-1 $14.95 (HARD)

THE KOBE HOTEL by Sanki Saitoh; translated by Masaya Saita

Sanki Saitoh, one of the leading haiku poets of the twentieth century, was also a writer of offbeat short stories. The stories in Kobe Hotel are based on the author's experiences during WWII, when he lived in a run-down hotel in the city of Kobe. Wartime Japan is recreated in the adventures of colorful group of Japanese expatriates stranded in the hotel during the war. The final stories are set in the postwar days: a visit to Hiroshima, and to a brothel built for occupation soldiers.

224 pp. 5 1/4 x 8. ISBN 0-8348-0274-0 $12.95 (SOFT)

420 Madison Avenue, 15th Floor, New York, New York 10017-1107 Tel: 212-223-3008 Fax: 212-223-2584

To receive a catalogue or place an order: 41 Monroe Turnpike, Trumbull, CT 06611 1-800-437-7840

週刊誌

SHŪKANSHI

Purveyors of Sex, Gossip, Comics, Booms, Exposés, Scoops and Scandals

by Adam Fulford

They're lurid, they're lascivious, their fare ranges from bare-breasted women to bald-faced lies, but their influence extends from the torrid soaplands of Kawasaki to the corridors of power in Nagatachō—and, as of 1993, to the Imperial Household itself.

Shūkanshi (週刊誌, "weekly magazines") are a major media phenomenon in Japan. Standing somewhere between People magazine, Newsweek, and supermarket tabloids, with a dose of old-fashioned muckraking stirred in, they present a lively and very popular alternative to the staid and sober daily papers and generally more "serious" monthly magazines.

As well as scrambling to identify or engineer the latest boom or buzzword, they compete with each other by engaging in risky and risqué coverage, striving to appeal to the lowest common denominator of taste among their potential readers. For many, this means filling their pages with material of dubious quality, veracity and morality. A peek at their garish advertising posters hanging in train and subway cars each week gives the flavor of their offerings.

"The Perverted Archipelago, Japan" 変態列島ニッポン Hentai Rettō, Nippon

"The Poor Rice Harvest Is a Man-made Disaster" コメ凶作は人災だ Kome Kyōsaku wa Jinsai Da

"I Saw Kadokawa Haruki Snorting Cocaine" 私が目撃した角川春樹のコカイン吸入現場
Watashi ga Mokugeki Shita Kadokawa Haruki Kokain Kyūnyū Genba

Inside their covers, the magazines generally live up to the sensationalism of their ads. Gossip, especially about showbiz, political or sports figures, abounds. Sex is a mainstay; there are nearly always glossy nudes, how-to articles, and in the raunchier magazines, reviews of the latest porn flicks, and guides to "massage" parlors and "health" clubs are standard fare. One magazine, Shūkan Hōseki, offers snapshots of a dozen or so young women who were stopped on the street and asked to pose (dressed, for a change)—then invites its readers to guess which of them are still virgins, and which have "graduated." The answers, apparently provided by the young ladies themselves, appear on another page.

What sets the Japanese weeklies apart from their closest counterparts in the United States is their heavy attention to politics. America's supermarket scandal sheets confine themselves mostly to Hollywood stars, Elvis sightings and UFO visits, while Japanese magazines such as Shūkan Bunshun are just as likely to jump on politicians. Although Bunshun can't be credited with bringing down the administration of Miyazawa Kiichi in 1992, you can bet his cause wasn't helped by a headline that read: "Dear Prime Minister Miyazawa, You Really Are A Useless Fart."

That headline is what weekly magazines are all about: cynical, funny, provocative, bold, and, OK, schoolboyish, but it's precisely this youthful energy that makes them such an effective antidote to the seriousness of "official Japan."

Barely a week goes by without each magazine claiming a dokusen sukūpu (独占スクープ), or exclusive scoop, about some scam or scandal. Headlines often boast of information that "the big papers just can't write about," or that "you don't see on television." Often these turn out to be less than meets the eye, but from time to time they hit pay dirt.

(continued on page 18)

• purveyors = 供給者 kyōkyūsha • bald-faced lies = 大胆な/真っ赤なウソ daitan-na/makka-na uso • muckraking = 醜聞あさり shūbun asari • veracity = 真実性/正確さ shinjitsu-sei/seikaku-sa • porn flicks = ボルノ映画 poruno eiga • (hit) pay dirt = 貴重な情報/掘出物(を見つける) kichō-na jōhō/horidashimono (o mitsukeru)

The Bashing of Empress Michiko

Weekly magazines have a reputation for picking up subjects that the big newspapers find too hot to handle, and a fine example of this was provided in 1993 by magazine reports on the Imperial Household.

It was a monthly magazine, Takarajima 30 (宝島30), that got things rolling when, in its August 1993 issue (there were sporadic reports earlier than this that questioned the Imperial Household), it ran a story by one "Ōuchi Tadashi," (大内礼) who claimed to be writing from a vantage point "behind the chrysanthemum curtain," and who made various criticisms of the Imperial family, and Empress Michiko in particular.

Brace yourself. One of the principal complaints was that the Imperial couple asked their staff to make instant noodles in the middle of the night. Another was that constant changes of clothing were turning the palace into a dry cleaning establishment; others were that the Emperor and Empress had "bourgeois" tastes in holiday destinations; more serious perhaps was the suggestion that the Empress was in fact the supreme power within the palace.

This almost unthinkable breach of protocol made the nation—or at least the Japanese media world—catch its breath.

Shūkan Bunshun and Shūkan Shinchō were soon on the case, but it was Bunshun that really took the ball and ran with it. In a series of pointed articles that ran in September and October, Bunshun delivered jab after jab at the Empress.

Bunshun found fault with the Imperial couple for being away in Europe when the new coalition government was formed in Japan, and put the blame on the Empress; it said the Empress had ordered the razing of woods on the palace grounds that had been loved by the Shōwa Emperor; it claimed that the Imperial Couple didn't like Self-Defense Force uniforms (on their return from Europe, the party welcoming them included a senior military official in civilian dress).

This was daring reporting, even reckless, because Bunshun couldn't have any idea how its readers would react to an attack on the highest institution in Japan.

While Bunshun raged on, Shinchō became rather quiet, but then the counterattacks began. By October, the women's weeklies were beginning to speak up for the Empress, and Shūkan Asahi, an old foe, really tore into Bunshun. In its October 15 issue, Shūkan Asahi called Bunshun's theory about the SDF uniforms "ultra groundless" (超根拠レス, chō-konkyo-resu). Bunshun immediately struck back with an article headlined: "Is Shūkan Asahi a PR Magazine For The Imperial Household Agency?" (see below).

But then the Empress collapsed and lost her powers of speech. So did Bunshun. It was said that the collapse had been caused in part by inaccurate media reports. By now, the weeklies had their own name for that: Michiko-bashing (美智子皇后バッシング, Michiko-Kōgō basshingu).

In its issue of November 11, Bunshun broke a two-week silence with an apology to the Imperial Household, and an article in which it expressed regret about certain inaccuracies in its reporting. But the overall impression left by the article was that Bunshun remained unbowed. It accused "the big newspapers," "reporters' club journalists," and "the mass media" of failing to report adequately on the Imperial Household. Bunshun's parting shot—fired before the weekly resumed a silence about Imperial matters—was that among the world's royal families, it is only the Japanese Imperial Household whose "legal standing is unclear."

One in the series of "bashing" articles, this headline is from a newspaper ad for Shūkan Bunshun.

大新聞が報じない
美智子皇后
訪欧中の評判

大新聞 が 報じない
Daishinbun ga hōjinai
big newspaper(s) (subj.) don't report/cover
The big newspapers don't report (it)

美智子 皇后
Michiko Kōgō
(name) Empress

訪欧中 の 評判
Hōō-chū no Hyōban
while visiting Europe (s) reputation/gossip
Empress Michiko's reputation during her trip to Europe

- the word hyōban basically means "reputation/public estimation." It can have positive or negative implications depending on the context, and the ambiguity makes it a good choice for this headline.

A counter-counterattack by Shūkan Bunshun on Shūkan Asahi (from a newspaper ad for Shūkan Bunshun). Asahi had criticized Bunshun's article claiming that the Imperial Couple didn't like Self Defense Force uniforms (see text above).

週刊朝日は
宮内庁のPR誌か

週刊朝日 は
Shūkan Asahi wa
(mag. name) as-for 宮内庁 の Kunaichō no

Imperial Household Agency (s)

PR誌か
Pū-aru shi ka
PR magazine (?)
Is Shūkan Asahi a PR Magazine For the Imperial Household Agency?

- the smaller type at the bottom reads Hin surya don suru, "Poverty dulls the mind," implying that the Asahi's tight financial situation had adversely affected its journalistic judgement.

• from a vantage point behind the chrysanthemum curtain = 菊のカーテンの裏 (宮内庁のインサイダー) の観点から kiku no kāten no ura (kunaichō no insaidā) no kanten kara • "bourgeois" tastes = ブルジョア趣味 burujōa shumi • breach of protocol = (慣習的な) きまりを犯すこと (kanshū-teki-na) kimari o okasu koto • coalition government = 連立政権 renritsu seiken • the highest institution = 最高機関 saikō kikan

Japan's Top Weeklies

Japan's top shūkanshi can be grouped into several categories or niches; we've selected a couple of representative magazines from each. Circulation figures are taken from The Japan Bureau of Circulation Audit (ABC) Report for 1992. Figures for magazines not monitored by the ABC are estimates, indicated by (est.).

Reputable shūkanshi

Shūkan Bunshun • 週刊文春

Circulation: 686,384

Published by Bungei Shunjū

Targeted at readers in their late 30s and 40s who the publisher claims have "above average awareness of social issues and ambitions to improve their lifestyle." Women are said to comprise one third of the readership.

Bunshun is famous for its long-standing feud with the newspaper Asahi Shinbun. Both are anti-establishment, Bunshun taking a mildly anarchic stance, while Asahi hovers to the left of center, but Shūkan Bunshun feels that its rival's criticisms are not constructive.

Shūkan Shinchō • 週刊新潮

Circulation: 527,861

Published by Shinchōsha

A sober weekly covering current issues. Similar to Bunshun but not quite as journalistically aggressive. Shinchō regards itself as a "specialist in common-sense matters." It believes in standing up to authority and claims it is loath to indulge in copycat journalism.

Over half the readers are white-collar workers and it is mandatory reading for company executives and middle management, although it's also considered suitable for the entire family.

Shūkan Asahi • 週刊朝日

Circulation: 410,043

Published by Asahi Shinbunsha

Because of its newspaper connection, Shūkan Asahi frequently features material which expands on stories covered by the paper and television station (TV Asahi). Nearly half the readers are said to be women, many of them university graduates. Male readers are mostly in their mid 30s to mid 40s, with a high level of education and income.

From the major newspapers

Sunday Mainichi • サンデー毎日

Circulation: 207,549

Published by Mainichi Shinbunsha

Targeted at salarymen in their 40s, but it is also subscribed to by over 47,000 households and is thus likely to be read by housewives as well. Like Bunshun, Shinchō and Asahi, Mainichi claims a highly educated, influential readership, but its circulation is the lowest of these. Editorial "themes" change frequently. The most recent has been "equality of the sexes."

Shūkan Yomiuri 週刊読売 is the third entry in this category.

Down & dirty

Asahi Geinō

アサヒ芸能

Circulation: 306,440

Published by Tokuma Shoten

This earthy publication is a descendant of the tabloid newspaper Geinō Gossip. The word Geinō refers to the entertainment world, which Asahi Geinō still covers, along with general scandals, commercial sex, and the yakuza (gangster) beat.

As might be expected, there are plenty of scantily clad females gracing the pages.

Shūkan Jitsuwa

週刊実話

Circulation: 270,460

Published by Nihon

Jānaru Shuppan

Perhaps even more than Asahi Geinō, Shūkan Jitsuwa specializes in covering the world of yakuza, who apparently enjoy the attention, but who have been known to object violently to what they consider unfair reporting.

Shūkan Taishū 週刊大衆 is also in this morally dubious category.

• long-standing feud = 長年にわたる反目 naganen ni wataru hanmoku • be loath to ~ = ~ (する) のがいやだ ~ (suru) no ga iya da • indulge in copycat journalism = まねっ子ジャーナリズムにふける manekko jānarizumu ni fukeru • mandatory reading = 必読書籍/刊行物 hitsudoku shoseki/kankōbutsu • scantily clad = わずかしか衣服を着ていない/つけていない wazuka shika ifuku o kite-inai/tsukete-inai

Photo magazines

FOCUS
Circulation: 850,000 (est.)
Published by Shinchōsha

There's not much difference between these two popular photo weeklies. Covering a variety of topics, from natural disasters to sports to politics (with a little cheesecake thrown in for good measure), both feature large, mostly black and white photos with some explanatory text. "I've been FOCUS-ed!" (fōkasu sareta) is the inevitable wail from showbiz people, sports stars, prominent businessmen and politicians who've been caught off their guard. FOCUS is the source of the Mad (Amano) Ads occasionally featured in Mangajin.

Friday • フライデー
Circulation 950,00 (est.)
Published by Kōdansha

Beauty parlor favorites

These two, plus Shūkan Josei, are standard fare at beauty parlors, although in the trendiest sections of Tokyo they've been replaced by the likes of Hanako (a "trend" weekly) and An An. Eighty percent of their readers are women in their 20s and 30s, and they are still the top-selling women's magazines.

Their ability to keep young women happy with endless showbiz gossip, tame stories about the Imperial Family, and beauty and health tips have earned them the reputation of being totally immune to bad times, but the recent recession has produced a downturn in advertising revenue. Daytime gossip programs and "wide shows" on TV are competition in a sense, but sometimes the shows feature material from these magazines.

Josei Seven • 女性セブン
Circulation: 746,617
Published by Shōgakkan

Josei Jishin • 女性自身
Circulation: 756,482
Published by Kōbunsha

SPA!
Circulation: 400,000 (est.)
Published by Fusōsha

Describes itself as an urban weekly, the opinion leader for the post-baby-boom generation.

Over 70% of the readers are male white-collar workers in their 20s and 30s, while the remaining 30% are young women. SPA! provides information on politics, current affairs, social climate, sex, fashions and leisure activities. It's printed on glossy paper, enhancing the impact of numerous color photos and illustrations. SPA! stands for "Sportive, Positive and Aggressive."

AERA
Circulation: 230,000 (est.)
Published by Asahi Shinbunsha

Essentially a news magazine with a strong Asahi (somewhat left of center) flavor; in appearance it's almost a Japanese version of Newsweek or Time. No sex, scandals or serialized novels. Useful for people seeking substantial data on current topics and convenient for students of Japanese because it has kana notations on the more difficult words and names. Slim (around 90 pages) and visually pleasing.

Mavericks

Weekly プレイボーイ (Playboy)
Circulation: 644,000 (est.)
Published by Shūeisha

Although there's no connection with the US Playboy, it lives up to the name with a generous helping of young Japanese gals in seductive poses. It has a more serious side, too, with articles on politics, education, sports and some unusual topics, as in a recent theory that Sumerians visited Japan 4,000 years ago.

• inevitable wail = 必然的な/おきまりの嘆き hitsuzen-teki-na/okimari no nageki • showbiz people = 芸能人 geinōjin • immune to bad times = 不況知らず fukyō shirazu • social climate = 社会情勢 shakai jōsei • kana notations = ふりがな furigana • seductive poses = 挑発的な/誘惑的なポーズ chōhatsu-teki-na/yūwaku-teki-na pōzu

ASSOCIATION FOR ASIAN STUDIES

The Association for Asian Studies is a scholarly, non-political and non-profit professional association open to all persons interested in Asia and the study of Asia. It seeks through publications, meetings, and seminars to facilitate contact and exchange of information among scholars and to increase understanding of Asia.

AAS is the largest society of its kind in the world. AAS's 7,000 members include scholars, teachers, business people, diplomats, journalists, and interested laypersons.

AAS publications include The Journal of Asian Studies, the Bibliography of Asian Studies, Doctoral Dissertations on Asia, the Asian Studies Newsletter, and the Monograph Series.

Membership dues are based on gross income. Please call 313-665-2490 for more information on becoming an AAS member.

The AAS Annual Meeting

Over 30 programs dealing with Japan-related topics...

The AAS Annual Meeting includes a wide range of programs of scholarly papers, round table discussions, panel discussions, and a large and profitable book market. Research and teaching, and international influence.

The conference also features a number of field trips including the book market, computer applications, language learning software, and formal and exchange programs.

For further information on the AAS Annual Meeting contact:

K.F. Fricke
AAS Conference Coordinator
1 Lane Hall
University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, MI 48109
Tel: 313-665-2490
Fax: 313-665-3801

Japan's Top Weeklies

(continued from page 17)

Salaryman standbys

Shūkan Post • 週刊ポスト

Circulation: 661,929

Published by Shōgakkan

Readers are mostly businessmen in their 30s and 40s, living within an hour's commute from work. Post has gained a favorable reputation for its long campaign against political corruption. One of its current manga features a topical theme: a construction company scandal. Post also has a fairly high cheesecake content.

Shūkan Gendai • 週刊現代

Circulation: 510,306

Published by Kōdansha

Claims to be the salaryman's weekly, featuring a practical approach to bettering his lot. A recent issue answered questions on falling wages and unemployment, new problems for the Japanese worker. Gendai generally has less nudity than Post.

(continued from page 14)

It was a weekly, after all, that brought down Prime Minister Uno Sōsuke in 1989. Casting off an old taboo about not making a fuss over the sex lives of politicians, Sunday Mainichi reported Uno's dalliance with a geisha. Uno was swept up by the wave of moral righteousness that had broken after the Recruit scandal and it left him high, dry, and out of a job.

Even when they don't break a big story themselves, the weeklies will hang onto it like bulldogs, splashing every development, no matter how small, across their pages like news of the Second Coming. During the Recruit scandal, one magazine ran photos of various high-ranking politicians with cartoon-like word balloons quoting their denials of any connection in one issue, then their admissions of involvement a few weeks later.

With so many publications in the same genre, there is fierce competition, of course. There are virtually no subscriptions—readers pick them up at bookstores, and in train stations, and can easily switch from one to another on impulse. An important survival strategy is to distinguish themselves also from the faster media of newspapers and television, by finding information that the reader can't get elsewhere, sooner.

But how do weeklies employing a few dozen editors and writers compete for scoops with, say, national dailies that boast

(continued on page 44)

• political corruption = 政治汚職 seiji oshuku • better his lot = 出世する/地位を向上する shusse suru/chii o kōjō suru • dalliance = 情事 jōji • politicians = 政治家 seijika

46th
AAS

ANNUAL MEETING

MARCH 24-27, 1994

Boston Marriott
Conrad Plaza

Boston
Massachusetts

THIS IS THE ONLY MEETING OF ITS KIND FOR SCHOLARS AND OTHERS INTERESTED IN THE STUDY OF ASIA

Navigate The Kanji Jungle With The Click Of A Mouse

KanjiWorks displays the stroke-order for each kanji. Click on any contained element in the diagram for animated brush strokes.

Search for kanji by selecting any contained element or the stroke count.

Windows display all groups of kanji that fit the search pattern. Use the On/kun index to reference any kanji at the touch of a button, or build entire lists of grouped kanji.

* All palettes are reduced size.

KanjiWorks is a new language learning aid and kanji dictionary designed to make mastering kanji faster and easier than ever before. With over 2200 characters, 6200 compounds, and 3000 example sentences in both Japanese and English, stroke-order diagrams for every kanji, and animation, KanjiWorks is the most complete kanji learning aid available for Macintosh.

Custom lists permit you to concentrate only on the kanji you want to study. Kanji recognition tests drill you on the characters you want to master. Easy reference by reading, meaning, stroke count, radical, or contained element will help make reading Japanese much easier.

Floating windows and search palettes make KanjiWorks fun and easy to use. One click of the mouse brings up all the kanji with a given element, reading, or stroke count.

introducing

Kanji Works

Or type in the reading or English meaning of a Japanese character, and put the power of a computer dictionary to work.

The wealth of information contained in KanjiWorks make it a useful program you'll never outgrow. There are enough characters, compounds, and example sentences in KanjiWorks to satisfy the needs of most college-level students of Japanese. And future upgrades to larger data-sets will help your dictionary grow into a complete desk-top reference set and tutor.

KanjiWorks does not require the Japanese Language Kit, KanjiTalk (although it is recommended for superior performance), or any other software. 1 Mb RAM and 2-5Mb of disk space required depending upon your system configuration.

Now through February 15, Asia West Software is selling KanjiWorks intermediate, with 1006 kanji, over 3500 compounds, and 1500 example sentences for only $85. The complete KanjiWorks, with all 2229 kanji, 6200 compounds, and 3000 example sentences is only $125. Call or write for a free brochure, or send $10 for a demo disk.
 Asia West Software • 225 Park Place, No 1A • Brooklyn, NY 11238 • Orders 800 SYS ASIA • Inquiries 718 636 6726 • Fax 718 636 6723
 All Major Credit Cards Accepted

TV Dinners

Television programs about food—both cooking and eating—are perennial favorites in Japan, but they are changing to keep up with the times.

by Elizabeth Andoh

Scanning a typical daily listing of Japanese television programs will remove any doubt about the national obsession with food. Although the total number of channels broadcast in even the largest cities in Japan are scant compared to the many channels visible in small communities throughout the US, the sheer number and variety of programs devoted to food on Japanese TV is staggering.

In addition to the many regularly scheduled variety and quiz shows, contest programs, and news broadcasts that often include food features, elaborate “specials” devoted to seasonal and/or regional food products fill the airwaves. Some programs focus on how to prepare food, others are more interested in showing the enjoyment of it.

In the instructional category, perhaps the best known, and longest running, show is Kyō no Ryōri (今日の料理, “Today’s Cooking”), broadcast on weekday mornings from 10:05 to 10:30 AM, and repeated at night from 9 to 9:25 PM, by NHK (日本放送協会, Nippon Hōsō Kyōkai, “Japan Broadcasting Corporation,” which maintains several national educational channels). For more than a quarter of a century now, the familiar tinklebell theme song and guest/host-dialogue format has prevailed. Different cooking sensei (先生, “teacher” or “master”) are invited to prepare two or three dishes for each televised segment. The role of host or hostess on these kinds of shows involves prompting the guest teacher to reveal his or her “secrets” in addition to repeating essential information such as how much soy sauce to use or how long to boil the spinach. As with all of NHK’s educational programs, companion soft-cover text books are published monthly. These cooking texts look like ordinary commercial magazines with recipes, process photos and illustrations; they contain lots of paid advertisements and are sold in nearly every bookstore throughout the country.

Because of limited bookshelf space, I recently gave up my 25-year collection of Kyō no Ryōri magazines, but not before carefully clipping out evidence of dietary and social change over the past two and a half decades. Among young adults there has been a recent revival of interest in regional and home-style Japanese cooking, primarily because the new generation has come of age unable to make anything but instant miso soup. Current programs on Japanese food include information on such basic things as how to make dashi (だし, basic soup stock) and wash rice. Twenty years ago it was presumed that everyone already knew those things. Today’s lessons devoted to Western-style foods include a wide range of dairy products, and hybrid dishes such as korokke (コロッケ, croquettes) and potage (ポタージュ, creamed soup). Chinese-style cooking, especially noodle dishes and dumplings, accounts for much of what the student and young adult population eat every day. Ramen soup noodles or gyōza (pan-fried) dumplings have become so assimilated into the Japanese diet it may not be fair to call them “Chinese” any longer.

Not only have palates changed over the years in Japan, but so have lifestyles. In particular, the family unit has undergone enormous modification. Although the ideal of Mom’s home cooking, and an extended family with three or more generations housed under the same roof, still persists, the reality of “latchkey” kids is part of contemporary, urban Japan. So, the most recent addition to NHK’s cooking round-up is Hitori de Dekiru Mon (ひとりでできるもん, “I Can Do It By Myself”), featuring 7-year-old Mai-chan and her younger brother Bun.

Seven-year-old Mai-chan’s Hitori de Dekiru Mon cooking program is popular with the latchkey set

• scant = 少ない sukunai • sheer number and variety = 多大な数とバラエティ tadai-na kazu to baraeti • staggering = 驚異的 kyō-teki • elaborate = 大規模な daikibo-na • was presumed that = ... とみなされた ... to minasareta • become assimilated = とけこむ tokekomu/同化される dōka sureru

Broadcast weekday mornings from 8-8:15 and repeated in the evenings from 5-5:15, Mai-chan's menus in the past few weeks have included omuraisu (オムライス, omelette filled with ketchup-flavored rice), karē pan (カレーパン, curry-filled rolls), and French-style vichyssoise. Adults are conspicuously absent from the TV cast. Rather, Mai-chan is ably instructed in her lessons by cartoon characters—a benevolent, Santa Claus-like Kukkingu (クッキング, "Mr. Cooking"), two robot-like creatures Ojama オジャ魔 and Yajama ヤジャ魔 (jama means "nuisance"), and three giggly girls, the Ikenai sisters (ikenai means "mustn't do" or "naughty"). Although the names of some of these characters suggest they are possible troublemakers, things are pretty happy-go-lucky in Tokimeki ("Great Happiness") Land. In addition to providing actual recipes, the programs' songs and quizzes teach, and test, young viewers' knowledge of things such as how yeast works, where flour comes from, and how to use sharp knives safely. Mai-chan has an enthusiastic following and program time is often spent reading letters and showing off drawings made by her fans. I know that had this program been around when my daughter was little, Mai-chan would have been her idol.

Kuishinbō Banzai! travels all over the world in search of good (or unusual) food.

Kids aren't the only ones learning to cook from television. "Cooking Papa," an animated half-hour program, is aimed at "married bachelors." Yes, I know that's an oxymoron. But it's also the best way to explain the tanshin funin 単身赴任 phenomenon (literally "going to a post alone"). It is increasingly common for Japanese families to be split geographically, with the salaried worker (most often the husband/father) in one city and the spouse and children in another. Typically such split households meet only on weekends, and even then, it is rare that everyone's schedule permits more than a few hours of shared time. I'm sure that most social scientists studying this situation would recommend

(continued on page 28)

• vichyssoise = ビシソワーズ bishisowāzu • conspicuously = 目立って medatte • benevolent = やさしい yasashii/善意ある zen'i aru
 • enthusiastic = 熱心な nesshin-na • oxymoron = 矛盾語法 dōchaku gohō [両立しない語句を並べて新しい効果をねらう語法 ryōritsu shinai goku o narabete atarashii kōka o nerau gohō]

SystemSoft is Your One-Stop Source For Japanese Software on Macintosh and Windows Computers

We Support and Stock:

Apple JLK, Kanji-Talk 7.1
 Adobe Fonts & Apps • Aldus Apps
 Ambassador, Shasta
 Claris Apps • Deltagraph Pro
 Deneba Canvas • ErgoSoft Apps
 Microsoft • Nisus
 Quark ExpressJ • Turbowriter
 MacroMedia Director
 Various software upgrades... and much, much more.

For our full range of products see Mangajin's "Definitive Guide to Japanese Application Software in the U.S." in issue #29.

The SystemSoft Advantage:

- Great prices.
- Full support for all of the products we sell.
- Bilingual support staff.
- Most packages available immediately.

Call SystemSoft for more information on these and other Japanese software products, or for the dealer nearest you.

 SystemSoft
1-800-882-8856

Materials suitable for a seal

When a person is buying a personal or corporate seal, known in Japan as inkan 印鑑, the first thing to be considered is the material used to make the seal. Almost all options fall into one of six categories: tusks, horns, stone, metal, wood, and synthetic materials. The most prized among these is tusks, especially ivory.

Ivory is ideal, but other tusks will do

Ivory is pleasant to handle, has a distinguished appearance and withstands many years of use. Adequately hard and yet easy to carve, this material does not deform. Ink sticks well to ivory, too. Coming as it does from the largest animal on land, it commands esteem. The image of the elephant amplifies the seal's talismanic character.

Ivory is ranked according to quality. The kind from the east coast of Africa, which is translucent and graceful, is regarded as the best. The core of the tusk is also considered better than the exterior because the composition of the middle is finer. Ivory which for some reason was buried for a long period and has turned white is not good for use.

The importation of ivory is now banned by the Washington Convention. Ivory traders expected a shortage and subsequently skyrocketing prices, and they rushed to supply themselves before the ban took effect. Ivory is commonly thought to be in short supply in Japan, but there is actually three times the amount more in storage than in circulation, due to frantic buying the year before the ban. During that time, some even went so far as to import mammoth tusks from Siberia. Claimed to be comparable to ivory, these tusks had been completely buried in tundra, and consumers have complained about stains and hold doubts about its durability. Another tusk-like material is the tooth of the sperm whale, the only whale with teeth. The ban on whaling makes this a precious inkan material. Only a few seals can be made from the tooth of the sperm whale, which is not as long as ivory. Harder and more beautiful than ivory, some experts consider the sperm whale tooth to be superior.

How about horn?

The prime example of horn material is that of the kurosuigyū 黒水牛, a variety of water buffalo. Although strong, easily shaped, and long-lasting, this material is more prone to degeneration than tusk. A tusk is a tooth; horn, on the other hand, is keratinous, having the same components as hair. It cracks if it dries up. The horn of cattle known in Japan as "Holland" cattle is often used for making seals. There is no actual breed by that name—Holland happens to be the country from where the cattle are exported. Attractive seals are produced from this material that often is pale yellow. It is also used to make buttons and combs and is less expensive than water buffalo horns. "Sheep horn" comes from a variety of sheep inhabiting the Himalayas. Recently introduced to the seal market, this material has substantial hardness and a pleasant reddish brown color. Deer antler can be supplied readily since antlers grow back every year, but it is too soft.

Seals of stone

A wide range of stone materials are available but seldom used for seals because the surface tends to chip. Crystal had been used to make seals earlier than most stone materials; however it also has the drawback of being brittle. Although difficult to shape due to hardness, it is still used for seals, favored for its transparency and abundant supply from mines in Yamanashi Prefecture. Yamanashi consequently has a large number of seal manufacturers: about fifty percent of all Japan. Other stone materials are tiger-eye, gold dust, agate, the olive green chrysoberyl and others.

... and seals of metal

Gold, platinum and bronze are some of the main metals for producing seals. Gold is soft and easy to shape but also prone to damage. It is not usually used for making seals other than the mitomein 認印 (a seal used for minor tasks, distinguished from the formal jitsuin 実印, which is officially registered). Platinum has much greater hardness than gold and is used quite frequently. This precious metal often comprises the engraved portion of gold rings. In ancient times, metal seals were usually cast in molds; bronze was the primary material. At present, metal seals are mostly utilized as gain 雅印 (seals for pen names) rather than for jitsuin.

Next time: more materials

by Sawane Fumitoshi

暮らしの文化の国際化

暮らしの文化の国際化

Eurocentres courses receive the generous support and close cooperation of the Ishikawa Prefectural Education Board.

The programme provides opportunities to experience Japanese culture, history and tradition along with intensive language instruction.

Optional programmes include calligraphy, zen practice, industrial/cultural visits, and weekend excursions—to name a few.

Learn Japanese ways of life while staying with a Japanese family.

Eurocentre Kanazawa is a small cosmopolitan world with participants from many countries. Together they learn the Japanese language and culture, and also about each other.

A course unit lasts 4 weeks; more than one may be taken at a time.

Eurocentres is a non-profit foundation devoted to the teaching of languages to adults. We teach English, French, Italian, Spanish, German, Russian and Japanese where they are spoken.

For a brochure please write to:

ユーロセンタージャパン
EUROCENTRES JAPAN

東京都千代田区神田駿河台 2-12 深井ビル4階
Fukai Building 4F, 2-12 Kanda Surugadai
Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 101, Japan
 Phone: (03)3295-5441
 Fax: (03)3295-5443

Friend, Foe, Model, Mirror

America and the Four Japans. Frederik L. Schodt.
Berkeley: Stone Bridge Press, 1994.
200 pages, $10.95 (paper)

Japan's mushrooming visibility in the global community has created an equally burgeoning US market for books neophyte and erudite, promising to explain the Japanese phenomenon in 300 pages or less. As the trickle becomes a flood, it seems that in more than half of all the luggage carried by Americans departing Narita, tucked along with the kokeshi, second-hand kimono and plastic food, lie field notes for yet another definitive opus on Japan. In such a climate, you have to ask if there really is a need for yet another book on Japan.

But happily, America and the the Four Japans is not another “what we can learn from Japan,” its pesky cousin, “my encounter with Japan,” or its more ominous brother, “the yellow peril redux.” Rather, it focuses upon the US and the shifting conglomerate of images Americans call Japan. America and the Four Japans explores four modes that dominate American perceptions of Japan: friend, foe, model and mirror. Japan is presented not as a social, cultural, political or economic entity, but a set of assumptions and approaches by which America identifies the Other. Thus, the real object of America and the Four Japans is not Japan so much as the US; not relations so much as meta-relations: the modes of thought that govern relations between the two.

Schodt opens with a deliciously insightful quote from Jack Kerouac's 1958 The Dharma Bums:

Alvah says that while guys like us are all excited about being real Orientals and wearing robes, actual Orientals over there are reading surrealism and Charles Darwin and are mad about Western business suits . . . Think what a great world revolution will take place when East meets West finally.

The revolution has mostly been a matter of a few fireworks and lots of duds, for Americans and Japanese alike have been unable to surmount the fractious ironies and inconsistencies that Kerouac found so promising, and which Schodt addresses in America and the Four Japans. Each chapter identifies the genesis of the perception (friend, foe, etc.) under discussion, then moves on to a wide-ranging discussion of fact and fiction, prototype and stereotype. In this way, it rounds up a plethora of disparate topics within a single thematic fulcrum. This organizational strategy provides an ideal format for teasing out the subtle interplay between perception and reality on either side of the Pacific. The ultimate value of the book lies not necessarily in the originality of its observations, but in the evocative juxtaposition and contextualization of those observations.

All material and references are smartly up to date—even, with the phrase “the 1992-94 recession (p. 148),” anticipatory. (One can only hope that time will prove Schodt correct.)

Understandably, supporting examples are heavily drawn from fields in which the author holds considerable expertise, such as electronics, language, robotics and manga. Occasionally references are all too glancing for anyone but the specialist: the summary of the Kanemaru scandal (p. 88) is all too brief to be coherent to anyone without prior knowledge of that amusing event; the reference to the success of fuzzy logic (p. 139) is intriguing, but misses its mark for lack of elaboration. Nitpickers prone to reading every footnote will discover a certain slippage between notes and bibliography, whereby a substantial number of sources cited in the former fail to show up in the latter. “Suggested Reading,” or even “Selected Bibliography” would be a more accurate description of that list. It's a minor problem, but one compounded by other bibliographical inaccuracies, such as rendering the author of In the Realm of a Dying Emperor as Fielding rather than Fields.

In the last, most provocative chapter, Schodt holds up a mirror to Japan in order to reflect back differing images of America. Japan-based American critics such as John Russell and Hideo Levy are cited to show that certain facets of what Americans deplore as Japanese “racism” originate in the US, and that other facets are more properly seen as ethnically rather than racially motivated. When we read that Shiba Ryōtarō regards the US as a rare achievement in civilization (as opposed to the more comfortable “culture” of Japan), we are reminded that indeed the US is a remarkable, if fragile, experiment in human organization.

Through Schodt's reading of phenomena ranging from computer logic to democratic political practice, it becomes apparent that if the Japanese tend to the tedious, circular self-definition of Nihonjin-ron, Americans tend to the unproductive criticism of self and other that has hamstrung their efforts to revitalize. As Schodt notes, Americans would do well to read more books written by Japanese about the US—you know, the ones that began life as manuscripts crammed together with the frozen steaks and playbills into bags of Japanese returning from the US. But this one book will serve nicely instead—and it's already available in English.

Ginny Skord Waters is a professor of Japanese language & literature and a regular contributor to Mangajin.

• neophyte = 素人(による) shirōto (ni yoru) • erudite = 学識深い gakushiki-bukai / 学究的な gakyūteki-na • opus = 著作 chosaku / 作品 sakuhin
• pesky = やっかいな yakkai-na / うるさい urusai • ominous = 不穏な fuon-na • redux = 再来 sairai • a plethora of 多量の taryō no • juxtaposition = 併置 heichi • contextualization = 文脈化 bunmyaku-ka / 文脈を整えること bunmyaku o totonoeru koto • nitpicker = あらさがしをする人 arasagashi o suru hito • has hamstrung = 妨げている samatagete iru / 差し支えている sashitsukaete iru • playbill = 演劇のプログラム engeki no puroguramu

International Haiku Contest 1994

For the 300th Anniversary of MATSUO Basho's death,
The Haiku International Association will hold a commemorative international haiku contest to honor the memory of this foremost haiku poet of Japan (1644-1694).

GUIDELINES

- 1. No entry fee. Languages: Chinese, English, French, German, Italian, Japanese or Spanish. In the case of other languages, translation in one of those 7 should accompany it. Form: 5-7-5 syllable format, and seasonal words are not required.
- 2. No limitation on age or sex or nationality. We welcome haiku from all over the world. Please send us your haiku and ask your friends to contribute their entries also. We welcome entries from educational associations and institutions also.
- 3. One to five haiku per person. Submit previously unpublished haiku, no foreword or subject.
- 4. Each haiku should be submitted on a postcard (or on paper the same size as a postcard). Name and address should be written on the reverse side of each postcard or paper. Please type or print in clear block letters.
- 5. Deadline: February 28, 1994.
- 6. Please send your haiku to:
Contest Committee
Haiku International Association
P.O. Box 257
Tokyo 100-91, Japan
- 7. The haiku entries will not be returned. Copyright belongs to the author provided The Haiku International Association will have the right to publish your haiku in its publications.
- 8. The winners will be judged by The Haiku International Association. Prizes: Foreign Affairs Minister's Prize; President of Haiku International Association Prize; and Honorable mentions. Winning haiku will be published in a special issue of Haiku International with translations.

Haiku translated in the MANGAJIN style

300 Poems by Seishi Yamaguchi
Japan' Master of Modern Haiku

This is the first large-scale translation of modern Japanese haiku to be published outside Japan. Breaking free from centuries of poetry limited to nature themes, Seishi has modernized haiku while at the same time retaining the elegant beauty of the classics. Translated by Kodaira Takashi and Alfred H. Marks, The Essence of Modern Haiku is both a practical learning experience as well as an artistic milestone.

For Poetry lovers and students of Japanese alike

月よりも 上雲を飛ぶ 白鳥座
Tsuki yori mo Ue no kumogata o Tobu Hakuroza

Higher than the moon, the white swan constellation flying through the sky.

Original text:
The author's original text is in the original. The author's original text is in the original. The author's original text is in the original.

Translator's notes:
The author's original text is in the original. The author's original text is in the original. The author's original text is in the original.

Seishi's original Japanese
Romaji transliteration

English translation maintaining the concise 5-7-5 syllable pattern of the original

Seishi's own notes help readers see how a poem is constructed, enabling the aspiring haiku writer to see how a modern master creates.

Translator's notes
provide vocabulary as well as cultural and linguistic insights, adding new dimensions to the reader's Japanese understanding.

Available from MANGAJIN

362 pages: $24.95 Hardcover,
$19.95 Paperback ¥3000 in Japan.

Call 1-800-552-3206 in the U.S.

or 03-3479-44324 in Japan.

Call to order your copy today!

The (nearly) Perfect Word Processor

It all depends on your needs.

by Douglas Horn

There is no such thing as a perfect Japanese word processor. Needs differ among users—a feature that one could not live without may be extraneous and confusing to another. But though no word processor can be perfect for every user, this issue's column will discuss two Japanese word processors that will be nearly perfect for many.

WordPerfect 2.2 J for Macintosh

If you are a Macintosh user who needs to create professional-quality Japanese documents, WordPerfect lives up to its name. The program allows users to write and lay out text with amazing ease and quality. WordPerfect supports all the advanced gizmos that users expect from a high end word processor—search and replace, 125,000 word English spelling correction, footnotes, and the like—plus page layout capabilities nearly on par with the most expensive page layout applications.

There's very little that this program will not do: It does not allow fractional typeface sizes, but few users must use 10.5 point type as opposed to 10 or 11 point type. On the other hand, users can use bezier curves, shading, and a 256-color palette to create drawings from within the program, then place them anywhere in the document—including over or behind text. Drawings aren't the only graphics this program will handle—graphical objects can be imported from other sources, and QuickTime digitized movies can be imbedded into documents as well.

Included with the word processor is EG Bridge 5.1, a popular front end processor used to convert hiragana, katakana, and Roman characters into kanji. (This program is sometimes called a kana to kanji converter) The front end processor is the brains of the word processor, in terms of selecting the proper character by its phonetic spelling, and EG Bridge is a good one, able to make quick work of even complex homophone-filled phrases.

With all of these features, why isn't WordPerfect perfect for everyone? First, the four pounds of documentation are excellent, but entirely in Japanese, as are the program's menus and help screens. Users who do not feel comfortable with their ability to read the manuals should look elsewhere, as the normally easy to use program becomes confusing without them. Further, even those users who understand Japanese well might not need all of WordPerfect's features.

WordPerfect's power comes at a price. At $695, the program is among the most expensive word processors available, and requires 5 MB of hard disk space and Apple's Japanese Language Kit or KanjiTalk 6.0.5 or higher to run.

WordPerfect 2.2J is the Lexus of word processors, but many users will find that a Toyota Tercel will get them where they're going just as well. Many of WordPerfect's advanced features will be of little use to most users—not at first, anyway. I've gotten by for years without needing a palette of 36 different border styles, but now that I've seen WordPerfect, a simple box outline will no longer do. The program is full of such features—not necessary, but handy for improving the appearance of the document. If the language, required equipment or economics are not concerns, get yourself a copy of WordPerfect post haste.

KanjiWORD 2.0 for Windows

If WordPerfect is an ideal Japanese word processor for professional and business users fluent in Japanese, KanjiWORD fills that role for users who have not converted their computer to a Japanese operating system, but still need a solid Japanese word processing application. KanjiWORD 2.0 for Windows, by Pacific Software Publishing Inc. does not have all the bells and whistles of WordPerfect, but it has effective word processing capabilities plus just a few extras to make using it enjoyable.

KanjiWORD runs on the standard US version of Microsoft Windows 3.1, and employs all of the advantages of the graphical environment. Chief among these, of course, is that KanjiWORD will print well to any Windows-compatible printer. Any font in the system is available for printing alphanumeric characters; Japanese characters are printed in a high quality 48 bit bitmapped font which approaches the quality of outline fonts, but is still somewhat jagged. It is, however, quite suitable for business and personal correspondence—much more so than 16 and 24 bit fonts available with other DOS and Windows Japanese word processors.

The documentation is good—included with KanjiWORD is a 220 page manual printed in both English and Japanese. In addition, the program menus can be switched between English and Japanese. On-line help is English only. KanjiWORD is clearly intended for users who can read and write Japanese, but would prefer not to have to wade through a Japanese manual when they have a question about the application. Other software publishers would do well to follow the example set by companies like Apple (for their Japanese Language Kit manual) and Pacific Software Publishing, and provide bilingual manuals for their bilingual programs.

KanjiWORD's star attraction is its front end processor, which is the best kana to kanji converter I've seen on a PC that was not running a Japanese operating system. Though noted nowhere in the documentation, the front end processor used is called Katana (which explains why the icon for the front end processor setup program is a Japanese sword cutting through a dictionary). Katana is the same front end processor included with the Japanese version of PageMaker for Windows. While not quite as robust as EG Bridge 5.1, Katana is fully configurable and can handle long sentences. It has a 'learning' feature, which remembers the last character chosen from each set of similar sounding kanji. If there is a single feature which determines the serviceability of a Japanese

(continued on page 50)

Requirements:

WordPerfect 2.2 J for Macintosh

Macintosh Plus, SE, SE/30, Classic, LC, Powerbook, or Quadra computer with Apple Japanese Language Kit or KanjiTalk 6.0.5 (KanjiTalk 7 recommended), 3.5 inch floppy disk drive, 1.2MB of RAM, 5MB hard disk space.

$695
WordPerfect Corporation
1555 North Technology Way
Orem, UT 84057
800-526-6215

KanjiWORD 2.0 for Windows

i80386 SX IBM PC or compatible computer with Microsoft Windows 3.1, 3.5 inch floppy disk drive, 4 MB of RAM, and 10 MB of hard disk space.

$199
Pacific Software Publishing, Inc.
2737 77th Avenue SE
Mercer Island, WA 98040
800-232-3989

Employment

Help Wanted In Japan ..... 100

Help Wanted
In Japan ..... 100

Teach In Japan

Bi-Lingual Language Institute of Japan is an innovative member of the English language instruction industry. All of our schools offer a full range of English conversation programs for adults in private, semiprivate and group classes. The courses are structured programs using Bi-Lingual's unrivaled teaching methods.

We are currently accepting applications from enthusiastic college graduates for a rewarding opportunity to teach English in Japan. Successful applicants must complete an intensive training program in our New York office before taking a position in one of our twenty-two schools across Japan. Teaching contracts are for one full year, renewable upon completion.

Teaching and business experience are preferred but not mandatory. Bi-Lingual instructors are professional, conscientious, organized and self-motivated. Japanese language ability is not required.

Send your resume along with three letters of reference to:

BI-LINGUAL USA CORPORATION

Dept. Teach English in Japan
500 Fifth Avenue, Ste. 2140
New York, N.Y. 10110-2196

(continued from page 21)

more than just cooking skills to improve the quality of family life, but, then again... many of the extra-marital affairs and other sob stories aired on daytime talk shows like Waratte Ii Tomo (笑っていいとも, "It's OK to Laugh," hosted by Mr. Mino Monta, a Donohue-type) are blamed on wives and husbands with insufficient cooking skills. The Japanese truly believe that the way to someone's heart is through that person's stomach!

Not all TV cooking is devoted to making meals. Instead, many programs are devoted to the enjoyment of good food. In fact, there is an entire genre, called tabe-aruki 食べ歩き, or gourmet travelogues, which can be as short as the 5-minute restaurant round-up Kuishinbō Banzai (くいしん坊!万歳, "Gourmands, Hurray!"), sponsored by Kikkoman for the past 20 years, or full-length documentary specials. Tabe-aruki typically feature either a particular location, such as Kyushu, or focus on a particular type of food, such as okonomiyaki, that has wide regional variances. By the way, after watching the program last week on okonomiyaki (お好み焼き, savory griddle cakes filled with bits of meat, vegetables and seafood, then generously dribbled with a spicy brown sauce), I'm convinced that the Japanese love of this turn-of-the-century hybrid is what has paved the way for the more recent explosion of wa-fū (和風, "Japanese-style") pizzas.

I marvel at the poise of the many stage and screen stars who appear as narrator/commentators on Japanese tabe-aruki programs. It can't be easy to have a TV camera zoom in on your face as you ingest some unusual or disliked food. Although the final televised tape has undergone considerable editing, all those close-up shots that remain in the final version are "first takes," so there is no choice but to say oishii.

Much has been said about honme 本音 vs. tatema 建前 (the "real" truth, as

• hybrid = ハイブリッド haiburiddo/混成物 konseibutsu • paved the way for = ~への道を開く... e no michi o hiraku • poise = 落ち着き ochitsuki

Make studying Japanese easier... Order your language texts, tapes, dictionaries, kanji charts and more from

SASUGA

JAPANESE BOOKSTORE

At Sasuga, we stock a full selection of language tools, and we are ready to help you find the right combination of materials to suit your level and interests.

Sasuga Japanese Book Store
 7 Upland Road
 Cambridge, MA 02140
 (617) 497-5460 • (617) 497-5362

Call for a free copy of the 1994 Sasuga catalog!

(Mention Mangajin with your first order and get free shipping to anywhere in the U.S.)

CHAMINADE UNIVERSITY OF HONOLULU

Earn a Master's degree in one year by enrolling in Chaminade's exclusive Master of Science in Japanese Business Studies Program

Study in Honolulu (9 months):

Learn Japanese language, culture, and business practices and theory.

Study in Japan (2 months):

Serve an internship, work with Japanese management, and gain hands-on experience.

Applications are now being accepted for the fall 1994 entering class which starts September 22.

For Enrollment Information Write or Call:

Director-MSJBS/WSJM
 Chaminade University
 3140 Waialae Avenue
 Honolulu, HI 96816-1578

Phone (808) 739-4689/4677
 Fax (808) 735-4734

The Japan Study & Teaching Guide

Info on over 600 schools!

☆ Now in Bookstores ☆

日本で学ぼう

日本で教えよう

Send $11 US or ¥1200 to:
 〒170東京都豊島区北大塚3-18-22

TOKYO CENTRAL

3-18-22 Kita Otsuka, Toshima-ku,
 Tokyo 170 Japan

TELL
 (03) 5721-4347

Tokyo English LifeLine

Tokyo English Life Line was founded in 1973 to provide confidential client-oriented telephone counseling to the English-speaking community. TELL now also provides face-to-face counseling, workshops and other services for the international community.

TELL Telephone Service

Highly-trained telephone counselors provide counseling, crisis intervention, accurate information, and referrals. Call 03-5721-4347.

TELL Community Counseling

Multi-disciplinary team addresses physical, mental and spiritual issues. Flexible sliding fee scale. Services offered in individual counseling, couples therapy, substance abuse recovery, and family therapy. Call 03-5721-4435.

TELL Community Education

Workshops on topics including grief, stress management, co-dependency, marital communication, health issues, parenting, family systems, managerial style. Call 03-5721-2201.

TELL Training Programs

Staff training programs on conflict management, listening and communication skills, crisis intervention for front-line staff, and the human side of management. Call 03-5721-2201.

TELL HIV/AIDS Line

Emotional support, pre-test counseling, information, referral. Call 03-5721-4334 • 4-7 PM daily.

opposed to the story told for "public" consumption). Although this discussion usually takes place in the arena of interpersonal relations, the real vs. public truth dichotomy prevails in culinary matters, as well. I have suspected for a long time that what the Japanese actually eat, and what they say they eat, are not necessarily the same. Apparently, I wasn't the only one who was curious to know, since Totsugeki! Tonari no Ban Gohan (突撃! 隣の晩ご飯, "Charge! [On to] the Neighbor's Dinner!") received a high viewers' rating last month.

The program began with the sudden appearance of TV cameras in a quiet Osaka residential neighborhood one evening at 6:30. The obviously flustered but flattered wife invited the TV crew into her kitchen where she was about to serve a special feast celebrating her son's acceptance to a prestigious university. The menu included tai 鯛 or "sea bream" (a culinary pun on the word medetai め でたい, "joyous/auspicious"), and fukusa-zushi 服紗ずし (a pun on the word fuku 福, or "good fortune/blessing," although fukusa is written with a different kanji) sushi. After a short interview with the surprised-but-proud family, it was time to move on to the next house. Similar to Olympic athletes who are charged with carrying the eternal torch from one site to another, this housewife was presented with a huge shamoji (しゃもじ, "rice paddle," a symbol of hearth and home) and asked to carry it to a neighbor's house. There she pleaded with her embarrassed friend to let the camera crew in. Finally agreeing, a zoom-in shot of the kitchen table revealed cold fried chicken still in its take-out box, an ajitake nori (sheets of pre-seasoned seaweed) tin actually filled with packets of instant soup mix, leftover rice in a plastic container waiting to be zapped in the microwave, and an assortment of pickles in a bowl covered with plastic wrap

(these, too, obviously a leftover from a previous meal). Waribashi (割箸, disposable "split apart chopsticks") bearing the logo of a local sushi take-out shop were scattered across the table. Off in a corner, the camera caught an open cupboard. Individual packets of soy sauce (the kind that come with take-out orders), mayonnaise in a squeezable tube, and sesame seeds in a garish pink plastic grinder were stuffed into an old tea box and shared shelf space with bottles of cooking oil, sake, vinegar, and seasoned soup concentrate. Yup, that's a real Japanese kitchen.

Correspondence to:
Elizabeth Andoh, c/o MANGAJIN,
PO Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065-1119

• dichotomy = 両分不一致 ryōbun futchi • prevail = 広くはびこる hiroku habikoru • culinary = 料理の ryōri no • feast = ごちそう gochisō • zap = チンする chin suru (電子レンジで) 加熱する (denshi renji de) kanetsu suru • scatter = 散らばる chirabaru

New books in time for Christmas from STONE BRIDGE PRESS

America and the Four Japans: Friend, Foe, Model, Mirror

by Fredrick L. Schodt
(author of Manga! Manga!)

"Offers fresh, subtle, and often funny insights on the interaction between Japan and America."—JAMES FALLOWS

$10.95 soft ($19.95 hard), 200 pages

The Name of the Flower Stories by Kuniko Mukoda

translated by Tomone Matsumoto

Startling, disturbing tales of Japanese family life. "Superbly rendered"—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

$10.95 soft, 152 pages

We also recommend Still Life and Other Stories by Junzo Shono (Wayne P. Lammers, translator), $11.95

STONE BRIDGE PRESS

P.O. Box 8208 • Berkeley, CA 94707

Call toll free 1-800-947-7271 (credit cards welcome)

The Future of Information Management Requires
Multi-Lingual Computing

Partial List of Japanese Products:

- Japanese PostScript Printers
- Apple's Japanese Language Kit for System 7.1 日本語
- FontWorks PostScript Fonts 日本語
- Adobe ATM & PostScript Fonts 日本語
- Apple Kanji PageMaker-J 4.0 日本語
- FreeHand-3.1J & FreeHand-3.1A 日本語
- TurboWriter Japanese 2.0 & Shasta 日本語
- SoloWriter 日本語
- Microsoft TwinBridge Japanese for MS Windows 3.1 日本語
- Microsoft Japanese Windows 3.1 日本語
- JALM & KanjiMaker 日本語
- DOS-V 日本語
- Русский 日本語
- 中國語言 日本語
- Ελληνικά 日本語

Pacific Rim Connections

1838 El Camino Real, Suite # 109,
Burlingame, California 94010, USA
Tel: 1-(415) 697-0911
FAX: 1-(415) 697-9439

Calvin AND Hobbes

by WATERSON

1

Calvin: "Somebody told me rotten eggs smell bad."
 → [誰かが言っていたけど、] 腐った卵っていやな臭いがあるんだって。
 (Dare ka ga itte-ita kedo,) kusatta tamago tte iya-na nioi ga suru n da tte.
 (someone (subj.) was saying but rotten egg(s) (quote) unpleasant odor (subj.) do/have (explan.) is (quote))

Mother: "They smell terrible."
 → ものすごくいやな臭いがあるわ。
 Mono-sugoku iya-na nioi ga suru wa.
 very/extremely unpleasant odor (subj.) do/have (fem. colloq.)

- Somebody told me (that) ... 以下、節を伴って、不特定の他人から聞いたことを述べるときに用いるが、that は省略されることが多い。同様の表現に I heard (that) ... がある。日本語では語尾に「だって」をつければ、必ずしも「誰かが言っていたけれど」と訳す必要はない。
- since using datte in Japanese means that the speaker heard the information somewhere, it's not really necessary to explicitly translate the "somebody told me" into Japanese.
- smell bad 「いやな臭いがある」、smell terrible 「ひどくいやな臭いがある。」 smell good は「いい臭いがある」だが、smell が単独で使われると悪い臭いを指す。

4

Mother: "Put 'em back, Calvin."
 → もどきなさい、カルヴィン。
 Modoshinasai, Karuvin.
 return/put back Calvin

- 'em = them の省略形で、会話文でよく使用される。ここでは、eggs を指す。明らかに、カルヴィンが腐らせようとして、冷蔵庫から卵を持ち出した音を聞いた母親がこれを注意したもの。
- a more specific translation would be 卵をもどきなさい、カルヴィン ("put the eggs back, Calvin"), but it is more natural to leave the object understood in Japanese.

The Authoritative Calvin & Hobbes, copyright © 1990 Universal Press Syndicate. All rights reserved. Reprinted/translated by permission of Editors Press Service, N.Y.

Calvin and Hobbes

by WATSON

1 Mother: "Feeling any better this morning, Calvin?"
 → カルヴィン、今朝は少しは気分(が)良くなった?
Karvin, kesa wa sukoshi wa kibun (ga) yoku natta?
 Calvin this morning as-for a little mood/feeling (subj.) became good

Calvin: "No."
 → ううん。 Uun.
 uh-uh

- feeling の前の are you が省略されている。Any は「いくらかは」、「少しは」の意。

---

2 Mother: "I guess I'd better make you an appointment with the doctor."
 → お医者さんの予約をしたほうがよさそうね。
O-isha-san no yoyaku o shita hō ga yosasō ne.
 (hon-) doctor (-hon.) 's reservation (obj.) seems like it would be good to make (colloq.)

Calvin: "OK."
 → オーケー。 Okē
 OK

- I guess + (that) 節 = 「...と思う」。通例 that は省略される。Comma で文を切って、文末に使われることも多い[... I guess]。推量の意味を含むので、日本語では「...そうね」が訳として自然。
- I'd better の'd は had の省略形。Had better + 原形の動詞で「...したほうがよい」。
- make an appointment with ... = 「...の予約\アポイントをとる」「...の予約をする」。You を入れることで、「あなたのために」という意味が強調されているが、ここでは you がなくても基本的に意味は変わらない。Make an appointment for you としてもよい。なお、日本では一般的に開業医の場合、歯科医以外は診療の予約をとる必要がないことが多いが、米国ではほとんどの開業医は要予約。

---

3 Mother: "It's Saturday, by the way. You won't miss school."
 → ところで、今日は土曜日だから学校はないのよ。
Tokoro de, kyō wa doyōbi da kora gakkō wa nai no yo.
 by the way today as-for Saturday is because school as-for not exist/have (explan.) (emph.)

Calvin: "I know."
 → わかってる。
Wakatte-ru. understand

- won't = will not.
- miss school = 学校を欠席する、休む。日本ではほとんどの公立学校は土曜日は半日授業があるが、米国では毎週土日は休み。ここではカルヴィンの反応を見て、仮病でないかを確認するために聞いたもの。

The best of both worlds

Japan Related

A CROSS-CULTURAL TRADE JOURNAL

Japan Related is an effort to correct the knowledge imbalance among people who need to know about Japan the most—Americans working day-to-day with Japanese bosses, colleagues, subordinates, suppliers and customers. Japan Related's mission is to provide Americans with the information they need to relate comfortably to the Japanese and succeed in a Japanese management environment.

- Interviews
- Case Studies
- Cultural Problems and Solutions
- Communication Tips
- Intercultural Manners and Advice
- Book Reviews
- Information about Japan, its people and the language

Send in this form for a free copy of Japan Related

Name _____

Address _____

Apt. No. _____

City _____

State _____

Zip _____

Send to:

Japan Related
1046 Vance Ave. NE
Atlanta, GA 30306

KANJI BASE<sup>tm</sup>

KanjiBase is a new program for students, translators, interpreters, or anyone who needs to look up Japanese words fast. Containing the complete Hadamitzky and Spahn Japanese Character Dictionary it also has a glossary maker that lets you create, keep, and manage your own unlimited list of expert words on-line. Plus you can quickly look up kanji and compounds by radicals or any other graphical element, by pronunciation, or by English definition. If you translate as you travel, take KanjiBase and leave your heavy dictionaries at home!

SELECTED FEATURES

- operates on ordinary PCs; DOS/V not required
- contains JIS level 1, 2 plus additional kanji (total 8,000)
- over 56,000 dictionary entries
- search by kanji, reading, or English definition
- symbol editor for custom kanji creation
- unlimited custom glossary size, multiple glossaries OK
- in-line romaji to kanji converter
- print glossaries in English or aiueo order on standard dot matrix and laser printers
- runs under DesqView or Windows
- paste Japanese and English into English WordPerfect documents

a product of Siegrist Software

ELECTRONIC JAPANESE-ENGLISH DICTIONARY WITH CUSTOM GLOSSARY "MAKER & MANAGER"

$245

includes JCD and glossary maker/manager

Requires IBM PC, PS/2 or 286, 386, 486, or Pentium-based compatible with 640K memory. Additional 2MB disk cache recommended. Dos 3.1 or later. EGA/VGA or Hercules monitor. Hard disk space: 7MB for KanjiBase + 32MB for JCD.

ORDERING IS EASY!

toll-free 800-947-7271
via fax 510-524-8711

- request our fax brochure
- credit cards welcome

Stone Bridge Press
P. O. Box 8208
Berkeley, California 94707

THE FAR SIDE by Gary Larson

ザ・ファー・サイド ゲリー・ラースン

Moses as a kid

子供の頃のモーゼ

Caption: Moses as a kid

子供の頃のモーゼ
Kodomo no koro no Moze child 's time of (=) Moses

- Moses [mouziz] モーゼ。ヘブライの予言者、立法者。紀元前13世紀頃、エジプトで奴隷の地位にあったイスラエル人を導いてエジプトを脱出。シナイ山で神から十戒を授かり、立法を制定した。旧約聖書のエジプト記によると、エジプトの脱出の際に、神の助けを得てモーゼが紅海の海水を手をひろげて二分し、イスラエル人が全員水の垣根の間の海底を歩いて対岸にたどりついた後に海がもとに戻り、追手のエジプト軍は皆波に吞まれてしまったとされている。この子供は手をひろげてコップの中の水を二分しているもの。

- kid 子やぎの意もあるが、子供を指す語として会話では child より多く使われる。

BASIC JAPANESE through comics

Lesson 32 • Titles

Titles are used in English as well as in Japanese—doctors may be called “Doctor,” professors may be addressed as “Professor,” the boss may be called “Chief,” and, of course, titles are used extensively in the military—but in Japan, titles take on an even greater importance and consequently, are much more widely used. The “politeness levels” in the Japanese language and the corresponding social hierarchy make it important to know exactly where you stand, and the extensive use of titles helps keep this structure clear. Titles may be used in place of “you” when speaking to people, or as pronouns when talking about them. A title can even replace the honorific -san after someone’s name.

Sensei

© Aoyagi Yūsuke / Senka, Shogakukan

Thanks in part to US pop culture icons such as Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles and Karate Kid, even those who know almost nothing about Japanese might realize that sensei means “teacher,” but the scope of sensei is much wider than that of “teacher.” The following examples illustrate some of the possibilities.

Yasushi: 先生、早く書いて。
Sensei, hayaku kaite.
 teacher quickly write (please)
“Please write it quickly, teacher.”

- we translated sensei directly as “teacher” in this example because English speaking children in this age group do sometimes call their teachers “teacher,” but if Yasushi had been a bit older, we probably would have used, “Mrs./Ms. ____.”

© Nitta Tatsuo / Torishimari-yaku Hira Numijirō, Shogakukan

Sensei* can also be used to address anyone who is knowledgeable, skillful, or accomplished in his or her field. The man on the left in this scene is a well-known car critic, and this has earned him the title of sensei. He and a reporter are watching the woman he loves, who has just emerged from an apartment building with another man.

Reporter: 先生、私は相手の男が
Sensei, watashi wa aite no otoko ga
 sir I/me as-for companion (=) man (subj.) 何者か知ってますよ。 nanimono ka shitte-masu yo.
 who (?) know (emph.)

“Sir, I know who the man with her is.” (PL3)

- shitte-masu is a slight contraction of shitte-imasu, the PL3 of shitte-iru, from shiru, “know.”
- nanimono usually has a somewhat derogatory feeling.

Sensei in place of -san

As with most titles, sensei can replace the honorific -san after a person's name.

Office worker: 虎丸 先生、お電話 です!!
Toramaru sensei, o-denwa desu!!
 (name) (title) (hon-) phone is 大阪 の 将棋 連盟 から!!
Osaka no shōgi renmei kara!!
 (place) 's Japanese chess league/union from
“Mr. Toramaru, it's for you!! From the shōgi association in Osaka!!”
 (PL3)

- Mr. Toramaru is a teacher/administrator in a shōgi (Japanese chess) association. As such he is naturally called sensei.

Speaking to a cabinet minister, this man uses the word sensei like the pronoun “you.”

Tsurutake: 光栄です。私も飛田 政権 実現 のため
Kōei desu. Watashi mo Tobita seiken jitsugen no tame honor is I/me also (person's name) political power realization for 粉骨砕身、先生 に従ってまいります。
funkotsu saishin, sensei ni shitagatte mairimasu.
 (do) my utmost (title) will follow (humble)
“I’m honored. I, too, will follow your lead and do everything possible to bring about a Tobita administration.” (PL4)

- funkotsu saishin suru is “do one’s utmost/everything one can.” (Some form of suru is actually necessary to make the verb form, but Tsurutake has omitted it.) The kanji literally mean, “powder (one’s) bones and crush (one’s) body.”
- mairimasu is the PL3 form of mairu, a humble equivalent of iku (“go”) or kuru (“come”).

© Nabeshima & Maekawa / Hyōden no Torakutā, Shogakukan

Hekase

Here’s a similar example from our feature manga, Dr. Slump. The title hakase generally refers to someone with a doctoral degree (but not usually to a medical doctor), and therefore may be translated as “Doctor” or “Professor.”

Arale: はかせ だいスキ!
Hakase daisuki!
 Dr./professor like very much/love
“I’m crazy about you, Doctor!” (PL3)

Sound FX: ブチュッ Puchu!
 (sound of a kiss)

- daisuki means “like very much,” but is often used the same way “love” is used in English.

© Toriyama Akira / Dr. Slump, Shūeisha

The President

The English title “president” corresponds to several more specific titles in Japanese. The president of a country is called daitōryō in Japanese (top example), but the president of a company is called shachō (bottom example). The president of an association or society would be called kaichō, while the president of a university is referred to as sōchō or gakuchō.

Bellmeyer: 大統領... ご決断 を
Daitōryō, go-ketsudan o
 president (hon-) decision (obj.)
“(Mr.) President, (you need to make) a decision.”

- the sentence is left unfinished, implying something like, ... go-ketsuron o (dasanakute wa narimasen) “You must make/come to a decision.”

© Saitō Takao / Goryūgo 13, Shogakukan

In this scene from Tsuri Baka Nisshi, Hamasaki addresses his company’s CEO as shachō (“company president”). Although the situation here is confrontational (the employees are trying to negotiate a pay increase), this usage (title only, without his name) is perfectly acceptable and does not imply any lack of respect toward the president.

© Yamasaki & Kitami / Tsuri Baka Nisshi, Shogakukan

Hamasaki:
 社長!! 我々の要求に応じてください!
Shachō!! Wareware no yōkyū ni kotaete kudasai!
 (company) president we/us 's demand(s) to respond please
“Sir, please respond to our demands!” (PL3)

President:
 そこをどきなさい!!
Soko o doki-nasai!!
 there (obj.) move/get out of the way
“Move aside!!” (PL2)

- shachō is “company president/CEO,” written with the kanji 社 (“company”) and 長 (“head/chief”). Typical corporate structure has the shachō at the top, followed by a number of buchō (“department/division chiefs”) under whom are kochō (“section chiefs”). Under kachō comes kokari-chō, sometimes translated as “sub-section chief.”
- kotaeru is usually written with the kanji 答える, meaning “answer/reply.” Using the kanji 応える implies the broader meaning “respond (to).”
- doki-nasai is from the verb doku (“get/move out of the way”) and the ending -nasai, which makes a gentle command.

A title (kachō) in place of “you”

Company employees normally utilize titles when speaking of or to those above them, but use informal modes of address with their subordinates. In this scene, everyone in the office had a bit too much to drink the night before, and now they are all suffering from hangovers.

© Hayashi & Takai / Yamaguchi Kakarichō, Shogakukan

Arima: 課長 も?
Kachō mo?
 section chief also “Section chief, too?”
 “You, too?”

Imanishi: うん... 君もかね。 un... kimi mo ka ne.
 yeah you also (?) (colloq.)
 “Uh-huh. (Does that mean) you, too?” (PL2)

- un shows agreement and is an informal “yes.”
- kimi is an informal/familiar word for “you.” It is perfectly natural for a kachō (especially an older kachō) to use kimi to address his subordinates, but the converse would be unthinkable.

A title (kachō) in place of -san

As noted in a previous example (sensei), titles can replace the -san that would normally come at the end of a name.

Employee: 大野 課長、お車の用意ができましたが...
Ōno kachō, o-kuruma no yōi ga dekimashita ga...
 (name) section chief (hon-)car 's preparation (subj.) completed but “Mr. Ōno, your car is ready...” (PL3)

Sound FX: カチャ
Kacha
 (sound of the latch as the door is opened)

- adding the honorific o- to kuruma (“car”) is a “polite” touch that could be considered a step above PL3 (Ordinary Polite).
- ending a sentence in ga, literally “but,” softens it by leaving it open to other possibilities. In this example, the ga could imply something like, “but (if you’re not ready yet it can wait).”

© Kamata Yōji / Tanburingu, Futabasha

Other chō (-長) titles

The ending -chō is used in numerous combinations to indicate the head or person in charge. Here are a few examples.

© Yamasaki & Kitami / Tsuri Baka Nisshi, Shogakukan

Committee member: しかし 委員長。
Shikashi iinchō.
 but committee chairman
 “But Mr. Chairman...”

Chairman: ン!?
N!?
 “Huh?”

- iin means “member of a committee,” so iinchō is “committee chairman.”

© Nōjō Jun'ichi / Purinsu, Shogakukan

Detective:
 校長!! あの額の写真
Kōchō!! Ano gaku no shashin principal that frame's photo は 誰 ですか!?
wa dare desu ka!?
 as-for who is (?)
 “Sir, who is (the person) in that framed photo?” (PL3)

- kōchō (or often kōchō sensei) is the title for the principal of a school.

© Kunitomo Yasuyuki / Kikaku Ari, Shogakukan

Secretary:
 会長、お電話が入っておりますが...
Kaichō, o-denwa ga haitte-orimasu ga...
 chairman/director (hon-)phone (subj.) entered (-humble) but “Director, a call has come in but...”
 “Sir, there’s a call for you.” (PLA)

- kaichō is the title for a chairman of the board or the director of an association. In a corporate hierarchy, kaichō is a step above shachō.

Clerk: 店長おおう、たっ、たっ、
Tenchō— ta— ta—
 store manager aw— aw—大変です—!!
taihen desu—!!
 awful is
 “Store manager, i-i-it’s awful!”
 “Mr. Kameyoshi, we- we- we’ve got a big problem!!” (PL3)

- tenchō, written with the kanji for “store” and “head/ chief,” means “store manager.”
- the store manager’s name is Kameyoshi.
- the boy’s apron reads kame-sutoū, kame from the name Kameyoshi plus the katakana version of “store.”

© Hoshi Kira / Konbini Kankei, Shogakukan

Occupation as a title

Occupations can also be used like titles. In this case, it is “Mr. Driver.” (Okyaku-san (“[hon.] Mr./Ms. Customer”) is also used like a title by the person whose business is being patronized. In this scene, the man has caught a taxi for his girlfriend, and is making sure that the driver treats her courteously (doesn’t flirt with her) during the trip.

© Saimon Fumi / Asunaro Hakusho, Shogakukan

運転手さん、大切なお客さんなんだから。
Untenshu-san taisetsu-na okyaku-san na n da kara.
 driver (-hon) important (hon-) customer (explan.-) is because “(Mr.) driver, this is an important client, so ...” (PL2)

Senpai

The senpai-kōhai (“senior-junior”) relationship is an important part of the social hierarchy in Japan. In its broadest sense, senpai refers to “one who goes before and leads the way” — in a school, the upperclassmen, in a company, those who joined before the kōhai “junior.” Senpai are something like mentors to those who come after them. (See Mangajin #15 for a more in-depth look at the senpai-kōhai phenomenon.) The kōhai frequently address the seniors as senpai, while the seniors would simply address the juniors by their name or with an informal word for “you.”

Senior:

とにかく俺と全く同じようにすればいいんだ。
Tonikaku ore to mattaku onanji yō ni sureba ii n da.
 anyway I/me to completely same as if do is good わかったね?

Wakatta ne?
 understood right

“In any case, you do exactly as I do, understand?”

Junior:

はいっ先輩!

Hai! Senpai!

“Yes, senpai!”

- ore is an informal/rough masculine word for “I/me.”

© Yamashina Keisuke / C-kuni Sarariman Kōza, Shogakukan

Some other titles

There are far too many titles to illustrate in our limited space, so here is a listing of a few more.

Chōkan ..... Director, administrator

Chōrō ..... Elder

Fukushachō ..... Vice president (of a company)

Jichō ..... Assistant chief, deputy director

Kakka ..... Your excellency

Kanjichō ..... Executive Secretary

Kantoku ..... Director (of a movie), manager (of a team)

Kashira ..... Boss, head

Keiji/keibu ..... Police detective/inspector

Masutā ..... Master/head (of a shop)

Senmu ..... Managing Director

Shishō ..... Master, teacher (of an art)

Shunin ..... Chief, head

Sōri ..... Prime Minister

ミドリさん Midori-san

by 秋月りす Akizuki Risu

1

Man: 奥さん、新聞...
Okusan, shinbun...
wife/ma'am newspaper
"Ma'am, (I'm from) the newspaper..." (PL3)

Midori: まあ、あつてますっ。
Ma-ni-atte-masu!
is sufficient
"We have enough!/We don't need any!"
"No thanks!" (PL3)

- okusan is a polite/generic term of address for housewives as well as a polite word for referring to another person's wife.
- ma-ni-atte-(i)masu is the PL3 form of ma-ni-atte-iru, from ma-ni-au ("be adequate/sufficient"). It's one of the standard phrases used to turn salespersons away at the door → "We don't need any/no thanks!"

2

Man: お、おくさーん
O-okusa-n.
"Ma-Ma'am" (PL3)

Sound FX: バン ガチャ
Ban Gacha
Bam! Click (sound of slamming door and turning lock)

Midori: まったくもー、朝っばらから...
Mattaku mō, asappara kara...
completely already early morning from
"Good grief, he's got gall, coming so early in the morning!" (PL2)

- mattaku mō (literally "completely/utterly" + "already/now") is an expression of exasperation; the implied ending here is something like iya ni naru, literally "(It makes me) become/feel unpleasant."
- asappara kara is an idiomatic expression that means "from so early in the morning."

3

Man: 毎朝 新聞 です けど もーっ。
Maiasa Shinbun desu kedomo-!
(name) newspaper is but "I'm from the Maiasa Morning News (but)!" (PL3)

FX: びくっ
Piku!
Twitch (effect of a single small movement/twitch, as of an eyelid or eyebrow)

- maiasa literally means "every morning." The name is a combination of Mainichi and Asahi, the names of two real newspapers. The Mainichi (literally, "The Daily Newspaper"), also publishes an English edition tautologically called "The Mainichi Daily News" (lit. "The Daily Daily News").
- kedomo is a colloquial contraction of keredomo ("but"). Here it is merely serving to "soften" the end of the sentence.

4

Man: 3ヶ月 分 たまっています。
Sankagetsu bun tamatte-masu.
three months worth have gathered/are in arrears
"Three months' worth (of bills) have piled up."
"You owe three months' worth." (PL3)

Midori: ほほほほ、すみませーん。普段 いないもんで。
Ho ho ho ho, sumimase-n. Fudan inai mon de.
(fem. laugh) (apology) normally/usually not be present because "(Embarrassed laugh) I'm sorry. It's because I'm usually not home." (PL3)

- 三月 sangatsu is "the third month" → "March," and 三ヶ月 sankagetsu = "three months."
- bun after a quantity means "enough for/equivalent to that much" or "that much's worth."
- tamatte-(i)masu is the PL3 form of tamatte-iru ("has/have collected"), from tamaru ("[something] gathers/collects/piles up").
- inai is the negative of iru ("be/exist [in a place]" for people/animate things).

ミドリさん

Midori-san

by 秋月りす Akizuki Risu

1

Midori: まあ ひどい 熱! 38度5分!!
Mā hidoi netsu! Sanjūhachido gobu!
(interj.) terrible fever 38.5°C/101.3°F
"My goodness, you have a terrible fever! 101.3°!"
(PL2)

Husband: そう でもない よ。
Sō de mo nai yo.
so/that way is not really (emph.)
"It's not really so bad." (PL2)

Sound FX: ゴホゴホ
Goho goho
Cough, cough

- mā is a mostly feminine interjection of surprise/alarm, "my goodness/oh dear!"
- de nai is the negative of desu ("is/are"), and inserting mo to make it... de mo nai gives it the feeling of "is not entirely/really..."

2

Husband: 会社 行きなよ、大丈夫 だ から。
Kaisha ikina yo, daijōbu da kara.
company/work go (emph.) okay am because/so
"Go ahead and go to work. (Because) I'll be okay."
(PL2)

Midori: そんなっ。一人 にしておけない わ。
Sonna! Hitori ni shite okenai wa.
that kind of one person/alone cannot leave (fern. colloq.)
"No way! I can't leave you alone." (PL2)

- kaisha is literally "company/firm" but is often used in situations where it is more natural to say "the office" or "work" in English.
- ikina is a colloquial abbreviation of ikinasai, a relatively gentle command form of iku ("go").
- daijōbu means "all right/okay" in the sense of "safe and secure/no cause for concern" — i.e., "I'm okay"; "Are you all right?" It is not used to express willingness ("Okay, I'll do it/All right, let's do it" = hai/sā), when beginning an action ("All right, here goes" = sā/yoshi), or as an exclamatory "All right!" (= yatta!) when you win the lottery, so if you've been using it indiscriminately, take heed!
- sonna (lit. "that kind of") can be used alone as an exclamation of protest/objection.
- shite okenai is the -te form of suru ("do") and negative potential ("can/able to") form of oku ("leave"). The expression... ni shite oku means "leave (something/someone) as...", so hitori ni shite oku means "leave as one person" → "leave alone," and hitori ni shite okenai = "can't leave alone."

3

Midori: ...というわけですので、今日は休みます、ハイ。
...to iu wake desu no de, kyō wa yasumimasu, hai.
(quote) say situation is because today as-for will take [day] off yes
"... and because that is the situation, I can't come to work today." (PL2)

- ... to iu wake desu could be translated literally as "The situation/reason/explanation is that..." except that in Japanese the explanation precedes, rather than follows, the expression.
- sometimes hai is appended to the end of a sentence like an emphatic, verbal "period."

4

Husband: なんか 利用された よーな 気が...
Nanka riyō sareta yō-na ki ga...
somehow was used is like/type feeling (subj.)
"Somehow I feel like I've been used." (PL2)

Midori: なんか 言ったー?
Nanka itta-?
something said
"Did you say something?" (PL2)

- nanka, a contraction of nanika, is literally "something/anything," but before an adjective it often means "somehow/vaguely." In this case, yō-na makes riyō sareta ("was used," passive past form of riyō suru, "make use of/utilize") function as an adjective modifying ki ("feeling"). Suru is implied at the end: ... ki ga suru = "get/have the feeling that..."

図説 Zusetsu

現代用語 Gendai Yōgo

便覧 Binran

A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms

by
Deluxe Company

Deluxe Company is a graphic design house involved in all kinds of visual communication—advertising, packaging, and, as you see here, manga. Their staff consists of three copy writers, two designers, and one manga artist, all of whom contribute ideas for the four-frame manga strips that they send out into the world. Rather than trying to be on the cutting edge, their philosophy is simply to create material that is omoshiroi (“interesting/funny”).

To quote from their official company profile, “We think our material is really funny, and we wonder why it hasn’t received more recognition. Our dream is to be known as the Sony of the manga world.”

A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms is available in tankōbon (book) form (ISBN4-575-93320-1 C0079). The manga cover all kinds of subject matter, but in this issue of Mangajin we have selected some business-related material to balance out our lighter feature manga, Dr. Slump.

[Note: 便覧 (“glossary/handbook”) is perhaps more typically read benran, but in the title of this manga series, it is read binran.]

© Deluxe Company. All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

1

Boss: いつまでも 残業 だ 徹夜 だ では 人 が 集まらん。
Itsu made mo zangyō da tetsuya da de wa hito ga atsumaran.
 forever overtime is stay up all night is if it is people/employees (subj.) not gather
“If we’re forever turning to overtime and all-nighters (to get the work done), we can’t attract the personnel (we need).” (PL2)

Boss: わが社 も 効率 良い 仕事 を 考えねばならん。
Waga-sha mo kōritsu yai shigoto o kangaeneba naran.
 our company also efficiency good work (obj.) must think about
“This company, too, must think of ways to work more efficiently.” (PL2)

- the . . . da . . . da sequence makes it feel like he’s quoting what he and others in the company have frequently said in the face of unfinished work that had to be ready in the morning.
- atsumaran is a contraction of atsumaranai, the negative form of atsumaru (“[something] gathers/collects”). In the context of work, hito ga atsumaru means “(enough) workers can be found/recruited.”
- kōritsu = “efficiency,” and yoi = “good/fine,” so kōritsu yoi means “efficiency is good” → “is efficient.” (Cf. kōritsu (ga) warui = “efficiency is bad” → “is inefficient.”)
- kangaeneba naran is an archaic (but still used in formal speech) equivalent to kangaenakereba naranai, the “must/have to” form of kangaeru (“think about/consider”).

2

Boss: 一人 一台 のパソコンを 導入し / アフター 5 を 満喫しよう ではないか!
Hitori ichidai no pasokon o dōnyū shi / afutā faibu o mankitsu shiyō de wa nai ka!
 one person one count (=) PC (obj.) introduce/bring in-and after 5:00 (obj.) let’s enjoy fully isn’t it?/shall we not?
“Why don’t we bring in one PC per person and enjoy our after-five time to the full!”
“I say let’s give everyone a PC so we can begin enjoying our evenings to the full.” (PL2)

- -dai is the counter suffix for machinery ranging from cameras and electronic equipment to household appliances and automobiles/trucks.
- pasokon is shortened from パーソナル・コンピューター pāsonaru konpyūtā, the cumbersome katakana rendering of English “personal computer.”
- mankitsu shiyō is the volitional (“let’s/I shall”) form of mankitsu suru (“to enjoy fully/have one’s fill of”), and the question de wa nai ka (or ja nai ka, “isn’t it?”) after a volitional form is merely rhetorical, feeling more like an emphatic “let’s do it, I say,” than “let’s do it, shall we not?”

3

Boss: ウォッホン
Uohhon (clearing his throat)

Sound FX: パチパチパチパチパチパチパチ
Pachi pachi pachi pachi pachi pachi pachi
Clap clap clap clap clap clap clap (applause)

Sound FX: オーッ
O-! (roar of approval)

4

Narration: 夜 9時
Yoru kuji night 9:00
9:00 PM

Employee: おー、まったくわからん。どこを 押せばいい んだ。 教えてくれ。
O, mattaku wakaran. Doko o oseba ii n da? Oshiete kure.
 (interj.) completely not understand where (obj.) supposed to push/press (explan.-?) teach/tell me please “Ohh, I don’t get this at all. What key am I supposed to press? (Someone) please show me!” (PL2)

Employee: マニュアルが お厚すぎて 読みきれん!
Manyuaru ga buatsu-sugite yomi-kiren!
 manual (subj.) too thick-(cause) can’t read completely
“The manual’s too thick for me to get through.” (PL2)

- wakaran is a contraction of wakaranai (“not understand”), from wakaru (“come to know/understand”).
- oseba is a conditional “if” form of osu (“push/press”), and ii means “good/fine/okay.”
- . . . ba ii in a question asks what one is “expected/supposed” to do, so doko o oseba ii = “where am I supposed to press” (cf. doko e ikeba ii = “where am I supposed to go”).
- asking a question with da or n da is masculine and can sound very rough.
- oshiete is the -te form of oshieru (“tell/inform/teach”). Kure after a -te form makes a relatively abrupt request or gentle command.
- buatsu-sugite is from buatsui (“very/considerably thick”; cf. atsui = “thick”). Sugite is the -te form of sugiru, which as a suffix for adjectives means “too much/excessively.”
- yomi-kiren is a contraction of yomi-kirenai, from yomu (“read”). -Kirenai is the negative potential (“cannot”) form of -kiru, which as a suffix for verbs means “do completely/thoroughly/to the end.”

(continued from page 14)

a journalistic cast of thousands? A possible answer is that major Japanese newspapers can't compete because they're hobbled by reporters' clubs.

There are kisha kurabu (記者クラブ "reporters' clubs") for every government ministry and many industry associations. Officials of the ministry or major corporations offer the club members plenty of information, the reporters report the information faithfully, the officials give the reporters special background briefings, the reporters keep the lid on the minister's off-the-record comments, and so on, in a cozy cycle of mutual back-scratching. Rocking the boat is frowned upon, not only by the ministry or industry, but by fellow members of the club; anyone who upsets this insiders' symbiotic system is likely to find himself (or herself) quickly on the outside, so these reporters rarely take risks for the sake of a mere scoop.

Weekly magazine reporters, however, are not allowed to belong to kisha clubs, so working alone—or at best with one or two others—they have to go get their own information, or else they don't have a story. They sniff around, dig things up, telephone or visit people, do some thinking and form their own impressions of events, rather than simply swallowing an official version of what's going on. What they do is sometimes described romantically in Japanese as "guerrilla" journalism; in the West they'd probably be thought of as nothing more than reporters doing their jobs.

Although Asahi Shinbun broke the Recruit Scandal in the 1980s, that sort of investigative coup was an exception to the norm, in which many of the "news" stories in a major daily are more or less updates on official announcements and pronouncements. It often seems as if a tacit division of responsibilities exists in the media: Exposing scandals and bringing down governments are tasks that many people (including editors and reporters) may feel magazines rather than newspapers should perform.

Why? Because Japanese newspapers haven't changed that much from the days when they regarded themselves as shakai no bokutaku (社会のぼくたく, "society's bokutaku." Bokutaku refers to a large bell with a wooden clapper, used when a town crier made an official announcement in ancient China. The word bokutaku, however, was used in Rongo [論語, The Analects of Confucius], to mean "a person who awakens, educates, and leads the public."). The noble intention of the newspapers was to serve as a reliable mechanism to alert and educate the people. The major dailies are part of the consensus-mirroring/engineering infrastructure of the Japanese mind. They're high-minded, aloof, and they go with the deep-running flow of the intellectual establishment. Japanese media giants may criticize the government, for example, but it's generally below their dignity to get their hands dirty with muckraking conducted in such a public forum as the front page.

Rather than take the initiative with an investigative report that spurs the powers that be to action or defense, these media leaders tend to wait for something new—a report on the environment, the arrest of a prefectural mayor, an official announcement that workers will be laid off—to be announced by the government, the police, or some other institutional representative, and then they will describe it in careful detail.

But even weeklies will practice self-censorship if they believe

(continued on page 46)

図説現代用語便覧 Zusetsu Gendai Yōgo Binran

A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms

• keep the lid on = フタをしておく/報道しない futa o shite oku/hōdō shinai • a cozy cycle of mutual back-scratching = 相互の利益をはかる慣れ合い sōgo no rieki o hakaru nareai • spurs the powers that be = 権力者を刺激する kenryokusha o shigeki suru/karitateru

© Deluxe Company. All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

1

Chief: いよいよ 明日 から 新年 が 始まる が

Iyoiyo asu kara shinnen ga hajimaru ga be about to occur/at hand tomorrow from new year (subj.) begins but われわれは 正月 だから といって 浮かれてる わけにはいかん。

wareware wa shōgatsu da kara to itte ukarete-ru wake ni wa ikan.
we/us as-for New Year's because it is (quote) say-and be festive/making merry can't very well

“The new year is about to begin tomorrow, but just because it is New Year's, we can't very well be (losing ourselves in) making merry.” (PL2)

- iyoiyo is used when referring to an action/event that is “about to occur/at hand,” to emphasize the closeness of the action/event.
- shinnen is literally “new year,” while shōgatsu is more like the proper name for New Year's as a holiday. Shōgatsu here refers to the several-day-long holiday period at the beginning of January, but it's also the traditional (and still sometimes used) name for the entire month of January (the kanji 月 means “moon/month”).
- . . . da kara to itte is literally “because you say it's . . .,” but idiomatically it means “yet/just because it's . . .”
- ukarete-(i)ru is the progressive (“is/are -ing”) form of ukareru (“be festive/make merry”).
- ikan is a contraction of ikanai, negative of iku (“go”), and . . . wake ni wa ikanai is an expression meaning “. . . is out of the question” or “can't very well . . .”

2

Chief: この 数日間 の売り上げによって 今年 の 我が社 の 命運 が 決する のだ!

Kono sūjitsu-kan no uriage ni yotte kotoshi no wagasha no meibun ga kessuru no da!
this/these several day period 's sales by/according to this year 's our organization 's fortunes (subj.) will be determined (explan.)

“According to our sales during these several days, our organization's fortunes for the coming year will be determined!”

“Our sales during the next few days will determine our organization's fortunes for the coming year!” (PL2)

- . . . ni yotte is the -te form of . . . ni yoru, an expression meaning “depends on/is based on/is in direct relation to . . .”
- no between two nouns makes the first noun into a modifier for the second noun. The instances here can be thought of as possessive in order to (rather awkwardly) maintain the same word order in English (“this several-day-period's sales”; “this year's organization's fortunes”), or they can be thought of as corresponding to English prepositions like “of/during/for,” in which case the word order has to be reversed (“sales of/during this several-day period”; “the fortunes of our company of/during/for the coming year”).
- kessuru is a more formal/dramatic-sounding word for kimeru (“decide/determine”) or for kimaru (“be decided/determined”), depending on the context. The explanatory no da is here used mainly as an emphatic flourish.

3

Chief: 世の中 は 金 だ。金 を 握った者 が 運 を 勝ちとる!

Yo no naka wa kane da. Kane o nigitta mono ga un o kachitoru!
world/society/life as-for money is money (obj.) grasped person (subj.) [good] fortune (obj.) obtains/secures

“Money makes the world go 'round. The one who holds the money secures good fortune.” (PL2)

Chief: 諸君 の 働き こそ 運 を 切り開く 道。 神のみ は せん!

Shokun no hataraki koso un o kirihiraku michi. Kamidanomi wa sen!
gentlemen/you 's labors (emph.) [good] fortune (obj.) will cut open road/path asking/requesting from gods as-for will not do

“Your labors, indeed, are the road to open up good fortune. We will not ask the gods (for favors).”

“It is none other than your own labors that will open up the road to good fortune. We will not go begging to the gods!” (PL2)

- nigitta is the plain/abrupt past form of niguru (“grasp”). Kane o nigitta is a complete thought/sentence (“grasped the money”) modifying 者 mono, which when written with this kanji means “person.”
- kachitoru (“obtain/secure”) is a combination of katsu (“win”) and toru (“take”).
- shokun is a formal word for addressing or referring to a group of people, “ladies & gentlemen/my friends/brethren.”
- hataraki is the noun form of hataraku (“work/labor”).
- kami = “gods/spirits/powers” and -danomi is the noun form of tanomu (“ask/request [a favor]”); t changes to d for euphony, so kamidandomi is a noun referring to the act of praying for divine assistance.
- sen is an archaic form of shinai (“not do”), from suru (“do”). It's an archaic form that's still used quite widely in modern Japanese.

4

Sign: 神社

Jinja
(Shinto) Shrine

Staff: ガンバロー、オー!!

Ganbarō, ō!!
let's strive hard (cheer)

“Let's give it everything we've got! Yeah!” (PL2)

- ganbarō is the volitional (“let's/I shall”) form of ganbaru, meaning to be “dogged/persistent/unflagging” in working toward some goal or in the face of a challenge.
- millions of Japanese people visit shrines to make offerings during the first week of a new year, a ritual known as 初詣 hatsumōde.

- the 社 sha in 我が社 wagasha normally refers to 会社 kaisha, “company/corporation,” so in frame 2 wagasha appeared to mean “our company,” but we now learn that in this case the sha refers to 神社 jinja (“[Shinto] shrine”); in this combination the pronunciation of 社 changes to ja for euphony). At any other time of year, the chief priest's traditional dress might have tipped us off, but at New Year's it's possible that a corporate chief would appear at the office in traditional garb as well. In its loosest sense, 社 (sha, or yashiro) refers to a group of people united for some common purpose, so we translated it as “organization” to preserve the punch line (punch panel).

(continued from page 44)

the cause is worthwhile. The most recent example was the 1992 "reporting pact" (報道協定, hōdō kyōtei) in which the whole of Japanese media agreed not to cover the pursuit of a bride by the Crown Prince (at the bidding of the Japan Newspaper Association). The first news that the bride would be Owada Masako was published in January 1993 by The Washington Post. As soon as the Post went to press with the news, all the Japanese reporters—for many of whom the information was common knowledge—were free to publish it.

Within the hōdō kyōtei controversy, however, may lie the seeds of an attempt later in 1993 by Takarajima 30 (a monthly) and Shūkan Bunshun to tackle one of the ultimate Japanese taboos—the Imperial Household. Both magazines boldly went where no other magazine had gone before by publishing articles that were somewhat critical of the Empress, and Bunshun was particularly persistent (see sidebar, page 15).

"Controversial," though, is what the weekly magazines are supposed to be, precisely because they're non-mainstream. Put simply, the major dailies (and NHK) are pillars of Japanese society; weeklies (along with certain other magazines and some television programs) are its rebels—or at least its naughty boys.

Perhaps a bit ironically, it was the major newspaper companies that gave birth to the weeklies. Both Sunday Mainichi and Shūkan Asahi were first published in 1922. These weeklies, joined later by Shūkan Yomiuri, tend to uphold, or perhaps to be bound by, the loftier aspirations of the parent firm.

The newspaper weeklies have always sold well. Shūkan Asahi, for example, broke through the 1,000,000 circulation barrier in 1954. This, however, was the zenith of popularity for the magazines published by newspaper organizations.

In 1956, Shūkan Shinchō appeared, the first of a new breed of quality weeklies created by publishing houses outside the newspaper industry. Shūkan Bunshun and Shūkan Gendai followed in 1959. Later additions included the very popular Shūkan Post (1969) and the high cheesecake-diet Shūkan Hōseki (1981).

Meanwhile, magazines emerged that pandered almost exclusively to the primal male mind: Asahi Geinō (1956), Shūkan Jitsuwa (1958), and Shūkan Taishū (1958). And weeklies for women—homemaking hints, gossip, lives of the rich and famous, dieting—were and continue to be represented by Josei Jishin (1958), Shūkan Josei (1957) and Josei Seven (1963). New niches are constantly being explored and filled.

Most of the magazines owe at least some of their spirit to the newspapers from which they sprang—at least, newspapers of a livelier time. Western-style broadsheet newspapers, which first appeared in the Meiji Era, typically had only four pages. The first two would be devoted to hard news such as politics and economics, and page four would include the bungei-ran (文芸欄), featuring serialized novels and so on. Page three, though, was the shakaimen (社会面), and the soft stories it contained became quite popular as low-brow fodder for the masses.

Since they appeared on page three of the paper, these stories came to be referred to collectively as sanmen kiji (三面記事, "page 3 articles"). And because the contents were sexy, shocking, and trivial, such material also came to be referred to as ero-guro

(continued on page 48)

図説現代用語便覧 Zusetsu Gendai Yōgo Binran

A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms

• pandered = (卑しい思考・欲望に) 応える (tyashii shikō, yokubō ni) kotaeru
• lowbrow fodder = 教養の低い人の消費物 kyōyō no hikui hito no shōhibutsu

© Deluxe Company, All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

1

Employee: 他社 は 予想 以上に ハイテク化 が 進んでいます。
Tasha wa yosō ijō ni haiteku-ka ga susunde-imasu.
 other companies as-for expectations more than to high-tech-ization (subj.) is advancing/has advanced “Other companies are progressing more than expected in high-tech-ization/going high tech.”
 “Other companies are making greater strides than expected in their move to high-tech.”
 (PL3)

President: なるほど。 Naruhodo.
 indeed/I see
 “I see.” (PL2)

- haiteku is from English “high tech,” and -ka is a suffix that basically implies “changing into/moving toward . . .,” so it can be considered equivalent to English “-ization” or “-ification.”
- susunde-imasu is the PL3 form of susunde-iru, from susumu (“to advance/progress/move forward”).

2

Employee 1: コンピュータによる マーケティングや 経営 管理 は 今や 常識 です。
Konpyūta ni yoru māketingu ya keiei kanri wa imaya jōshiki desu.
 computers by means of marketing and business management as-for now-(emph.) norm is “Marketing and business management by means of computers is now the norm.”
 “The use of computers in marketing and business management has become the norm.” (PL3)

Employee 2: ハイテク化 が 遅れると 今の 時代に 生き残れません。
Haiteku-ka ga okureru to ima no jidai ni ikinokaremasen.
 high-tech-ization (subj.) if falls behind now 's age/era in cannot survive
 “If we fall behind in going high-tech, we can't survive in the present age.” (PL3)

President: うむ、 検討 しよう。
Umu, kentō shiyō.
 yes/all right consideration/scrutiny [I] shall do
 “All right, I'll consider the matter.” (PL2)

- imaya is an emphatic form of ima (“now”), meaning something like “now in this advanced day/stage.”
- jōshiki = “common sense/standard assumption/the accepted way/the norm.”
- to after the plain, non-past form of a verb can have a conditional meaning, “if.”
- ima no jidai is literally “now's era” → “the present day.”
- iki is the stem form of ikiru (“to live/be alive”), and nokoremasen is the PL3 negative form of nokoreru (“can remain,” from nokoru, “remain”), so ikinokoreru = “can remain alive/survive” and ikinokaremasen = “cannot remain alive/survive”.
- umu is typically used by males of middle age and older as a variation of the informal “hum/grunt” of agreement/assent, un (“yes/all right/indeed”). Umu with the first u lengthened (see final frame) implies pondering rather than assent.
- kentō is a noun referring to “examining/considering/scrutinizing” some matter for action, and kentō shiyō is the volitional (“let's/I shall”) form of its verb, kentō suru (“consider/examine/scrutinize”).

3

Employee 1: 社長 わかってくれた かな。
Shachō wakatte kureta ka na?
 company president understood for us I wonder
 “I wonder if he understood for us.” → “I wonder if he sees our point?” (PL2)

Employee 2: いつまでも 古い 体質 で は やって いけない こと くらい 気付いている よ。
Itsu made mo furui taishitsu de wa yatte ikenai koto gurai kizuite-iru ya.
 forever old physical constitution with as-for cannot go on thing/fact about/at least has realized/is aware (emph.)
 “(I'm sure) he at least realizes we can't go on forever with the old ways.” (PL2)

- wakatte is the -te form of wakaru (“come to know/understand”), and kureta is the plain/abrupt past form of kureru, which after the -te form of a verb implies the action is done for the benefit of the speaker or subject. Wakatte kureru usually implies not only understanding but sympathy/agreement.
- taishitsu is literally “body quality,” referring to the “constitution” of the company. Furui taishitsu = “old constitution” → “old ways.”
- yatte ikenai is from yaru (“do”) and the negative potential (“cannot”) form of iku (“go”). Yatte iku has the idiomatic meaning of “go on doing/conducting business.” Itsu made mo furui taishitsu de wa yatte ikenai is a complete thought/sentence (“cannot forever go on with our old ways”) modifying koto (“thing/fact”).
- gurai (or kurai) is basically “about/approximately,” but depending on context it can mean “at least.”
- kizuite-iru is from kizuku (“notice/realize/become aware of”).

4

President: どう でしょうか。
Dō deshō ka?
 how/what is it, I wonder?
 “How does it look?” (PL3)

- sō 相 can refer to the “outside appearance/countenance/physiognomy” of anything that is examined for purposes of fortune telling, or it can refer to the signs read in such an examination.

Fortune Teller: うーむ、企画書 に 悪い 相 が でてます ぞ。
Umu, kikakusho ni warui sō ga dete-masu zo.
 hmm, planning document in bad physiognomy (subj.) comes out/shows (emph.)
 “Hmm, the planning document shows a negative physiognomy.”
 “Hmm, I'm getting a bad reading about your business plan.” (PL3)

(continued from page 46)

nansensu (エロ・グロ ナンセンス, from "erotic," "grotesque," and "nonsense").

Even today, major newspapers still run quirky or non-mainstream news on a special shakaimen page—the one inside the back cover, where page three used to be—but these articles are a pale shadow of the energetic, rough-and-tumble stuff found in the weekly magazines.

By the end of World War II, there was a flourishing, if volatile, market in Japan for information of questionable authenticity and even more questionable taste. After the war, demand was supplied in part by lurid magazines called kasu-tori zasshi (粕取り雑誌, literally "rough liquor/red-eye magazines"). The names of these magazines—mostly short-lived monthlies—include Stalking The Bizarre (Ryōki 猟奇, 1946), Sex Culture (Seibunka 性文化, 1947) and Avec (アベック, 1948). With the disappearance of these rags, the mantle of "sanmen kiji purveyors to the masses" fell on the shoulders of the modern weeklies.

Like their outlandish counterparts in the States, the weeklies have always been apt to test the boundary between good taste and bad, truth and fabrication, gossip and slander. As a result, they garner lawsuits brought by all manner of people, especially politicians and entertainers who feel that they have been wronged. Between 1988 and mid-1993, Shūkan Bunshun was hit with 13 lawsuits (two wins, two losses so far). Miura Kazuyoshi, charged with having his wife murdered in Los Angeles, has won several of the numerous suits that he has brought against major weeklies for playing loose with the facts and violating his right to privacy.

And so it is that in their efforts to attract as many readers as possible, Japanese shūkanshi continue to provide a vast variety of provocative information, much of it tinged with sensationalism. In the process, they are providing answers to a potentially interesting question for students of moral philosophy: How low can you get?

Adam Fulford, a "free-lance this-and-that" in Tokyo, was formerly editor of the Mainichi Daily News' "Wai Wai Page."

• quirky = 奇抜な kibatsu-na • volatile = 移り気の/気まぐれな utsuriki no/kimagure-na • rags = [軽べつ的に][下らない] 雑誌 [keibetsu-teki-ni] (kudaranai) zasshi • lawsuits = 訴訟 soshō

Letters

(continued from page 4)

For readers who may not have had the benefit of hearing "syllable" used this way in a class, our pronunciation guide explains: "n is like a syllable in itself, and as such it receives a full 'beat'." Though saying kin'en is four syllables may be imprecise in strict linguistic terms, it seems to be accurate enough for most practical purposes. Most students' eyes glaze over when you mention the term "mora" but "syllable" is familiar to them, and they intuitively understand its looser use for referring to "beats" in pronunciation.

図説現代用語便覧
Zusetsu Gendai Yōgo Binran

A Visual Glossary
of Modern Terms

© Deluxe Company, All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

1

President: 今まで 殺人的 スケジュールで 仕事を こなしてきた が、
Ima made satsujin-teki sukejūru de shigoto o konashite kita ga, now until murderous schedule by/with work (obj.) have handled/performed but “Until now we have performed our work on a murderous schedule, but . . .”

President: 時間にゆとり が でてくると jikan ni yutori ga dete kuru to time in leeway (subj.) appears if/when オフィスが あまりにも 殺風景である ことに 気づいた のだ。 ofisu ga amari ni mo sappūkei de aru koto ni kizuita no da.
office (subj.) too much (emph.) bleak/drab is thing/situation to/that realized/noticed (explan.)
“now that we’ve started to have a little more leeway in time, I’ve noticed how terribly drab the office is.” (PL2)

- satsujin = “murder” and satsujin-teki = “murderous.” Sukejūru is from American English “schedule.”
- konashite is the -te form of konasu (“deal with/handle/perform”), and kita is the plain/abrupt past form of kuru (“come”). Kuru is often added to the -te form of verbs to indicate that the action began in the past and has continued to the present, so konashite kita = “has/have performed.”
- yutori can refer not only to “leeway” in space and time, but to a more abstract feeling of “ease/comfort/psychological latitude” (see next frame).
- dete is the -te form of deru (“come/go out” or “appear”), and dete kuru represents another use of kuru after a -te form: to indicate that the action/change has begun to take place. To after a plain, non-past verb can give a conditional “if/when” meaning: “when leeway in time begins to appear” → “now that we’ve started to have some leeway in time.”
- amari ni means “too much/excessively,” and mo adds emphasis.
- de aru is a more formal/“literary” equivalent of da/desu (“is/are”).
- koto is literally “thing,” but is often used more abstractly to mean “situation/circumstance.”
- kizuita is the plain/abrupt past form of kizuku (“realize/notice/become aware of”), and ni marks what it is that has been realized/noticed.

2

President: わが社 も 熱帯魚 を 飼おう!!
Waga-sha mo nettaigyo o kaō!!
our company too/also tropical fish (obj.) let’s keep as pet
“Let’s get some tropical fish for our office, too.” (PL2)

President: こころ にゆとり を 持とう。
Kokoro ni yutori o motō.
hearts/minds in leeway (obj.) let’s hold
“Let’s adopt a more relaxed frame of mind.” (PL2)

- mo, “too/also,” here implies “our company, too, like many others.”
- kaō is the volitional “let’s/I shall” form of 飼う kau, which when written with this kanji means “have/keep/raise animals (as pets or livestock).”
- kokoro can mean either “heart” or “mind,” and motō is the volitional form of motsu (“hold/carry”). Kokoro ni yutori o motsu is an idiomatic expression meaning to “adopt/maintain an easygoing frame of mind,” or “keep psychologically loose.”

3

OL: それはいいわ。
Sore wa ii wa.
that as-for good (fem. colloq.)
“That’s a great idea!” (PL2)

Sound FX: パチパチパチパチパチ
Pachi pachi pachi pachi pachi
Clap clap clap clap clap (sound of applause)

OL: さんせい。 Sansē
approval/endorsement
“I’m in favor!” (PL2)

- strictly speaking, this word should be written さんせい sansei. Writing it as さんせい is kind of a “pop” spelling, like “nite” for “night.”

- the kanji on the sign are reversed because they are in a window and are intended to be read from the other side.
- naran is a contraction of naranai, the negative form of naru (“become”). Nantoka naranai ka is an idiomatic question “Can’t something be done?” Asking questions with ko ne is mostly reserved for superiors speaking to subordinates.
- shinjaimasu is a contraction of shinde shimaimasu, the PL3 form of shinde shimau. Shinde is the -te form of shiru (“die”), and shimau after the -te form of a verb implies the action was/is/will be regrettable.
- the president doesn’t like the sound of the bubbles because they remind him that their current “leeway in time,” which he has tried to paint as a blessing, actually owes to the loss of business that came with the collapse of the “bubble economy.”

4

Backward Sign: 証券
Shōken
Securities

Sound FX: ブク ブク ブク ブク
Buku buku buku buku
Bubble bubble bubble bubble

President: この 泡 の ブクブク は なんとか ならんかね。
Kono awa no buku buku wa nantoka naran ka ne?
this/these bubbles 's (bubbling FX) as-for somehow can’t become/do?
“Can’t we do something about these bubbles?” (PL2)

Employee: 死んじゃいますよ。 Shinjaimasu yo.
will die-(regret) (emph.)
“They’ll die (if we do).” (PL3)

(continued from page 27)

word processor more than any other, it is the front end processor. KanjiWord's excellent front end processor is largely responsible for the program's ease of use.

KanjiWORD does not have the page layout capabilities of WordPerfect, but it does offer acceptable formatting, including border, margin, and tab control; character attributes, such as type size, bold, italics, and shading; customized line and character spacing; and even vertical writing (tategaki). The English spelling checker program could stand improvement, but users can add words to its dictionary, which should make it more accurate with use. One very nice feature of the program is the 50,000 word English to Japanese dictionary, which is both quick and accurate.

There are shortcomings, of course—KanjiWORD has no undo command, the program allows multiple windows, but each must be opened manually, instead of automatically opening when a new file is created, and though it is easy to make a border around blocks of text, removing it is more difficult. But such problems do not hinder the program's usefulness, and are to be expected in the first version of any application. (KanjiWORD is based on the program KCOM2 for Windows by Kureo Technology. Though it is called version 2.0, there is actually no version 1.0—go figure!)

Before recommending any Japanese word processor for DOS or Windows costing over $100, I must first justify why that program is worth more money than the four applications I reviewed in Mangajin #28 ("The Write Stuff: Four Japanese word processors for under $100"). In this case, that justification is simple: KanjiWORD's excellent front end processor and documentation alone are worth the extra money. Add to that the features not available on programs like JWP, such as vertical writing, text control, 48 bit font, and other little extras—such as being able to input a Japanese city's name via its three-digit zip code—and it becomes obvious that though programs like NJ Star will still find users who enjoy their simplicity, anyone who needs a Japanese word processor more than once a week should really invest in KanjiWORD.

Douglas Horn is a free-lance writer and computer consultant in Seattle.

図説現代用語便覧 Zusetsu Gendai Yōgo Binran

A Visual Glossary of Modern Terms

© Deluxe Company. All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

1

Interviewer: すいません。ちょっと いい ですか。
Suimasen. Chotto ii desu ka?
 excuse me a little/a minute good/okay is it?
 “Excuse me. Is it okay (if I bother you) a minute?”
 “Excuse me, but could I ask you a few questions?” (PL3)

Man: はあ。
Hā.
 “Yes (I suppose).” (PL3)

- suimasen is a colloquial sumimasen, which can mean either “sorry/excuse me” or “thank you” depending on the context. It’s obvious here that she is an interviewer, but we don’t know exactly what question she asked, i.e., there is something of a jump to the second panel.
- chotto ii desu ka is a generic expression for checking if a person has time for something: “Do you have a minute?/Could I bother you for a minute?”
- hā is a rather tentative sounding hai (“yes/okay”).

2

Man: 朝 は 早い ので いつも 喫茶店 の モーニングサービス。
Asa wa hayai no de itsumo kissaten no mōningu sābisu.
 morning/breakfast as-for early because always coffee shop’s morning service
 “My mornings are early so I always have a ‘Morning Service’ breakfast at a coffee shop.” (PL2)

昼 は 定食屋 の サービスランチ を セルフサービス で。
Hiru wa teishaku-ya no sābisu ranchi o serufu sābisu de.
 lunch as-for teishoku restaurant’s service lunch (obj.) self-service by
 “For lunch I get the daily special at a teishoku shop, by self-service.” (PL2)

Man: 仕事 が たまっても 手当て の つかない サービス 残業。
Shigoto ga tamatte mo teate no tsukanai sābisu zangyō.
 work (subj.) even when piles up compensation (subj.) not come with service overtime
 “When my work gets backed up, too, I work free overtime, without compensation.” (PL2)

- asa here does double duty, meaning both “morning” and “morning meal → breakfast.” Asa wa hayai no de = “because my mornings are early,” and asa wa . . . mōningu sābisu = “my breakfast is ‘Morning Service.’”
- mōningu sābisu (from English “morning service”) refers to special breakfast sets that can be ordered with coffee or tea until late morning at coffee shops. Typically the set includes toast, a boiled egg, and/or a small salad.
- teishoku refers to the traditional Japanese “set meal” of rice, miso or other soup, and an entree. Teishaku-ya are restaurants that specialize in providing a variety of teishoku type meals. Sābisu ranchi, from English “service lunch,” refers to a “daily special” or some kind of “economy lunch.”
- sābisu in Japanese often means “free/complimentary.” In the case of the menu items, the implication is that the customer is getting something for free because the set costs less than the items would individually, or simply because the price has been held down below other similar items. It doesn’t mean the entire meal is free.
- serufu sābisu is from English “self service,” and has the same meaning.
- tamatte is the -te form of tamaru (“[something] accumulates/gathers/piles up”). -Te mo makes a conditional, “even if/when . . .” or “if/when . . . , too/also, . . .”
- tsukanai is the negative of tsuku (“be included/come with”). Teate ga tsuku = “comes with compensation” and teate ga tsukanai = “is without compensation.” The subject marker ga has changed to no because teate ga/no tsukanai is a modifying clause for sābisu zangyō.
- sābisu zangyō, lit. “service overtime,” means he works overtime for free, just as the modifying clause explains → “unpaid overtime.”

3

Man: で、たまの 休み は こうして 家庭 サービスです わ。
De, tama no yasumi wa kō shite katei sābisu desu wa.
 and occasional/rare day off as-for in this way family service is (colloq.)
 “And on my occasional day off I spend time with my family like this.” (PL3)

Interviewer: で、ご職業 は?
De, go-shokugyā wa?
 and (hon.)-occupation as-for
 “And your occupation?” (PL3 implied)

- de is short for the conjunctive phrase, sore de, lit. “and with that” → “and/and so/and then.”
- kō shite is literally “doing like this” → “in this way.”
- when a man does things with his family on his days off, as opposed to merely lying around all day, it is termed katei sābisu — i.e., it’s thought of as rendering service to the family.
- wa is a colloquial particle for emphasis that’s best described as feminine, but men can also use it, with a slightly different inflection, without sounding effeminate.

4

Man: サービス業 です。
Sābisu-gyō desu.
 service industry is “(I’m in) the service industry.” (PL3)

図説現代用語便覧
Zusetsu Gendai Yōgo Binran
A Visual Glossary
of Modern Terms

by デラックス・カンパニー /Deluxe Company

1 Tanaka: バロー、会社 が なんだ。
Barō, kaisha ga nanda?
idiot/fool company (subj.) what is it?
"Dammit all, what do I care about the company?!" (PL1)

Tanaka: 仕事 が なんだ っ て なんだ。
Shigoto ga nanda tte nanda.
work (subj.) what is it?(quote) (explan.) is
"What do I care about work?!" (PL1-2)

- barō is a slurred contraction of baka yarō (lit. "fool/idiot" + "guy/fellow"), which when directed at a person means "you idiot/S.O.B." but is also used as an all-purpose expletive.
- asking a question with da has a very rough sound. The expression . . . ga nanda is a stock phrase for expressing one's disdain for something, and has the feeling of "What's so great about . . . ?/Who cares about . . . ?"
- tte nanda, a colloquial contraction of the quotative to iu no da, here serves essentially to emphasize his disdain.

2 Colleague 1: おい、田中、いい かげん に しろ よ。
Oi, Tanaka, ii kagen ni shiro yo.
hey (name) good degree/extent to do/make (emph.)
"Hey, Tanaka, take it easy, will you?" (PL2)

Sound FX: うい〜
Uii-
Urp (effect of drunkenness)

Colleague 2: 少し は わきまえろ よ。
Sukoshi wa wakimaero yo.
a little (emph.) show discernment (emph.)
"Show a little restraint." (PL2)

- kagen = "degree/extent," and shiro is the abrupt command form of suru ("do/make"), so ii kagen ni shiro is literally "do/make (it) to a good/appropriate extent" — implying that "good extent" has already been surpassed → "take it easy/that's enough/cut it out!"
- ui is one of the standard sounds associated with drunkenness. It's like a high-pitched "hic/urp!" made with an intake of breath.
- wakimaero is the abrupt command form of wakimaeru ("know what's appropriate/show discernment").

3 Tanaka: うるせー なー。
Urusē nā.
noisy/bothersome (emph.)
"Aw, buzz off." (PL1-2)

Tanaka: 飲んでる 時 ぐらい 言わせて くれ よー。
Nonde-ru toki gurai iwasete kure yo- am drinking time/when at least let speak please (emph.)
"At least when I'm drinking, let me speak (my mind)."
"You could at least let me speak (my mind) when I'm drinking!" (PL2)

- urusē is a masculine/slang version of urusai, which means "noisy/annoying/obnoxious." When urusai is said sharply/emphatically, its feeling can range from "shut up!/be quiet" to "go away/stop bothering me/buzz off."
- nonde-(i)ru is the progressive ("is/are -ing") form of nomu ("drink"), here modifying toki ("time"): nonde-ru toki = "time when (I'm) drinking."
- gurai (or kurai) is basically "about/approximately," but depending on context it can take on the meaning of "just/at least" → "at least when I'm drinking."
- iwasete is from iwaseru, the causative ("make/let . . .") form of iu ("say/speak"). Kure after the -te form of a verb makes an informal/masculine request.

4 Colleague 2: しかし なあ . . .
Shikashi nā . . .
but (colloq.)
"Yeah, but you know . . ." (PL2)

- Japanese business customs allow people to speak their mind when they are drunk, without fear of repercussions. Needless to say, however, it does not normally apply to drinking at the office.

© Deluxe Company, All rights reserved.
First published in Japan in 1993 by Futabasha, Tokyo.
English translation rights arranged through Futabasha.

- 1 Headline: 今サラリーマンに大ヒット!
Ima sarariiman ni dai-hitto!
now salaryman among great hit
Currently a Big Hit Among Salarymen!
- 誰でも どこ(でも) ヨガ 空中(浮遊)
Dare demo doko demo yoga kūchū fuyū
anyone anywhere yoga levitation
Anyone Can Do It Anywhere: Yoga Levitation
- sarariiman, a Japanese word coined from the English "salary" and "man," refers to male white-collar workers.
  - dai- is used as a noun prefix to mean "great/grand."
  - kūchū fuyū is made up of kanji meaning "air/sky," "inside/within," "float," and "play/meander" → "levitation."
- 2 Salaryman 1: 今こんなのがはやってんのか。
Ima konna no ga hayatte-n no ka?
now/currently this kind of thing (subj.) is popular/in vogue (expl.-?)
"This sort of thing is popular right now?" (PL2)
- Salaryman 2: おまえ知らないのか。
Omae shiranai no ka?
you don't know (explan.-?)
"Don't you know?"
"Haven't you heard?" (PL2)
- hayatte-n is a contraction of hayatte-iru ("is popular/in vogue"), from hayaru ("become popular/a fad").
  - no shows he's seeking an explanation, so asking a question with no ka is literally like "Is it the case that . . .?" But explanatory no is used much more frequently in Japanese than such phrasings are used in English.
  - omae is an informal/abrupt word for "you" used mostly by males with their peers or subordinates.
- 3 Salaryman 1: こんなのもって何の役に立つんだ。
Konna no yatte nan no yaku ni tatsu n da?
this kind of thing do-and what purpose/role for stand/serve (expl.-?)
"Doing this sort of thing, what purpose does it serve?"
"What good does it do to learn something like this?" (PL2)
- Salaryman 2: 通勤時に役立つんだよ。
Tsūkin-ji ni yakudatsu n da yo.
commuting time at serves purpose (explan.) (emph.)
"It comes in handy when you're commuting." (PL2)
- yatte is the -te form of yaru ("do"), in this case referring to taking it up as a skill → "learn."
  - yaku ni tatsu means "serve a purpose/be useful/be helpful." The expression comes from yaku ("role/duty") + ni ("for") + tatsu ("stand"). Nan no yaku ni tatsu is literally "serve the purpose of what?" → "what use is it?/what good does it do?"
  - asking a question with n da is mostly masculine and can sound quite rough, but here it is merely informal/familiar. When there's no question word, as in the second man's sentence, n da makes an explanatory statement.
- 4 FX: フワ～
Fuwa～
(effect of floating lightly in the air)
- commuters in Japan would immediately recognize this last scene as looking up toward the ceiling inside a crowded train.

LogoVista

E J

ロ ゴ ヴ ィ ス タ

TRANSLATION SUPPORT SYSTEM

English to Japanese Translation Software

Growing ties between the United States and Japan have created a great demand for the translation of English-Japanese documents for Japanese, yet translation projects can be costly and time-consuming. Recognizing the need to increase the speed and reduce the cost of translation, Language Engineering Corporation has developed LogoVista E to J.

LogoVista E to J can be used to translate a variety of English-language documents into Japanese: product literature, technical articles, news, and correspondence. By using LogoVista E to J, translators can increase productivity and ensure consistency of terminology.

Comprehensive, State-of-the-Art Dictionaries

High-quality, machine-translatable definitions superior dictionaries. Drawing on authoritative references such as the Oxford English Dictionary and Roger's International Thesaurus, LogoVista E to J's Main Dictionary includes more than 100,000 entries covering the most frequently used English words.

The Main Dictionary can be supplemented by Technical Dictionaries and User Dictionaries. Nineteen Technical Dictionaries, which contain a total of over 415,000 business, scientific, and technical terms, are currently available. Users can also build custom User Dictionaries to meet their individual needs.

Broad Grammatical Coverage

LogoVista E to J draws on an extensive tradition of translation system development – over thirty years of pioneering research. Working together closely, a team of Japanese and American linguists has incorporated the latest advances in English analysis and Japanese synthesis into LogoVista E to J.

The Ability to Learn

LogoVista E to J's Translate Interactive feature allows users to choose an alternative translation of a word, a phrase, or an entire sentence. The system records the choices made by users through the Translate Interactive feature and uses that information to influence future translations. In this way, the system is customized as it is used.

An Easy-to-Use Interface

LogoVista E to J's basic functions can be learned quickly. Pull-down menus and a comprehensive help function reduce the need to refer to manuals.

Hardware and Software Compatibility

Versions of LogoVista E to J are available for the Macintosh, for Windows, and for UNIX workstations. LogoVista E to J can be used in conjunction with English and Japanese word processing software on both personal computers and UNIX workstations.

Language Engineering Corporation

365 Commercial Avenue, Belmont, MA 02176
Tel. (617) 489-4100 Fax (617) 489-385

アサヒ電機 • After Zero

by 岡崎二郎 • Okazaki Jirō

— Part III —

After the death of Matsumura Shōzō, the company's founder, strange things began happening at the offices of Taiyō Electric, a major manufacturer of electric appliances.

Late at night, in deserted offices and hallways, voices and what seem to be huge eyeballs appear, asking the enigmatic question, "Jarapachi nē ka?" ("No jarapachi?"). The company management decides that it must be a ghost or spirit of some kind, and two young employees, Mr. Okido and Ms. Hanamura, are assigned to find a countermeasure.

After a disastrous attempt to capture the ghost, Okido consults with the company historian. He recalls that a ghost had appeared at the company many years before, pounding on the floors and knocking over chairs. At the time Matsumura, the chairman, said not to worry, because the presence of a ghost showed that the company had energy. After further research, Okido, acting on a hunch, has a little boy, Tomo-chan, brought in to make contact with what he has deduced must be a childlike ghost.

Through Tomo-chan, the ghost explains that it came a long time ago from a very cold place. Further research reveals that in his school days in northeastern Japan, Matsumura apparently made the acquaintance of a lucky spirit called zashiki-warashi. Okido concludes that Matsumura's spirit friend is the very "ghost" which plagues the company. But why is it causing so much trouble all of a sudden? And what did it mean by "Jarapachi?"

About the title: We have translated the title of this story, Chiisaku Utsukushii Kami (小さく美しい神), as "The Little and Beautiful Spirit." The word kami is usually translated as "god(s)," but in this story we see that it also refers to what would be called "spirits" in English.

1 Okido: (continuing his explanation)
Kaichō wa, nanraka no hōhō de, zashiki-warashi o Tōkyō ni tsurete kite, kaisha ni tsukaseta n da.
 “Mr. Matsumura somehow or other brought the zashiki-warashi with him to Tokyo, and established him in his (new) company.” (PL2)

Soshite Taiyō Denki wa han'ei shita.
 “And Taiyō Electric prospered.” (PL2)

- kaichō actually means “chairman,” but Japanese speakers often refer to others by title when English speakers would use names.
- nanraka no X = “some X or other,” so nanraka no hōhō = “some method or other” → “somehow or other.” The particle de indicates means.
- as we learned in the last installment, zashiki-warashi are spirits said to live in northern Honshū, who bring good fortune to wherever they take up residence.
- tsurete kite is a continuing form of tsurete kuru, “bring along (a person or other animate thing).”
- tsukaseta is the past causative (“make/let do”) form of tsuku, which typically means “possess/haunt” when speaking of malignant spirits. Since it actually means a spirit of some kind “attaches itself,” it can also be used with benevolent/guardian spirits, as here.

2 Okido:
Kare koso wagasha hatten no tateyakusha datto no sa!
 “He, indeed, was the main actor in our company’s development.”
 “The one responsible for our company’s growth was none other than him.” (PL2)

- koso emphasizes kare (“he/him”) with the feeling of “none other than . . .”

3 Okido:
Sugu ni shachō ni shiraseyō!
 “Let’s tell the president right away!” (PL2)
Kaichō wa kitto kono koto o tsutaeru mae ni itte shimawareta n da!
 “Mr. Matsumura probably died before he could tell him about this.”
 “Mr. Matsumura probably died without telling him about this.” (PL2)

- shiraseyō is the PL2 volitional (“let’s/I shall”) form of shiraseru (“inform/tell”).
- kitto = “probably”
- itte shimawareta is an honorific past form of itte shimau, from the verb iku, which when written 逝く means “pass away/die.” Shimau implies regret.

4 Tomo-chan:
Oniichan, / ano ko, dete iku tte itte-ta yo.
 “Mr. Okido, that kid said he was going to leave.” (PL2)

- children often refer to their relatively young male elders as oniichan, literally “older brother.”

5 Okido:
Nan da tte?! “What did you say?” (PL2)

Tomo-chan:
Mō omoshirokunaku natta kara dete iku tte.
 “He said it’s no fun anymore so he was going to leave.” (PL2)

6 Okido:
So . . . sonna!
 “Th-that’s (terrible/impossible)!” (PL2)

Kare ni dete ikaretara uchi wa dō naru n da!?
 “If he leaves, what’s going to happen to this company?” (PL2)

- sonna (lit. “that kind of/such a”) can be used by itself as a generic exclamation of dismay/protest.
- dete ikaretara is a conditional form of the passive dete ikareru (from dete iku, “go out/leave”). Using the passive form implies the action is detrimental to the speaker, “If he up and leaves . . .”

7 Okido:
Ta . . . taihen da!
 “Th- this could be real trouble!” (PL2)

Hanamura:
A, Okido-kun! “Oh, Okido!” (PL2)

- taihen refers to a “serious/terrible situation,” and taihen da is its exclamatory form: “Oh no!/This is terrible!/We’re in big trouble!/etc.”

1 Sound FX:
Ka ka ka... (incredulous/mocking laugh)

Narration:
Kekkyoku, dare mo Ōkido-kun no hanashi o shinjite kuremasen deshita.
But no one was willing to believe Ōkido's tale. (PL3)

- kekkyoku here implies "but in the end, in spite of his efforts."
- shinjite kuremasen deshita is the PL3 form of shinjite kurenakatta, from shinjiru ("believe") and the negative past of kureru, which after the -te form of a verb implies the action is done for the benefit/at the behest of the speaker or subject.

2 Hanamura:
Dō datta?
"How was it?" (PL2)

Ōkido:
Ā... isshō ni fusareta yo.
"Ah, they just laughed me off." (PL2)

- isshō ni fusareta is the passive form of isshō ni fusu, an expression meaning "laugh off/dismiss with a laugh/pooh-pooh."

3 Hanamura:
Watashi wa shinjite-ru wa yo.
"(I want you to know) I believe it." (PL2)

Datte Tomo-chan, tashika-ni mita tte itta mon.
"Cause Tomo-chan said he definitely saw him." (PL2)

- datte is an informal conjunction for introducing explanations or further elaborations.
- yo is used to emphasize something the speaker thinks the listener does/may not know.

4 Ōkido:
Arigatō. "Thanks." (PL2)

5 Narration:
Taiyō Denki no gyōseki ga, totsuzen kakō shi-hajimeta no wa, sore kara mamonaku no koto deshita.
It was not long after this that Taiyō Electric's business suddenly took a downturn. (PL3)

• gyōseki is more literally "business achievements/results."
 • kakō = "descent/decline," and kakō suru is its verb form. Hajimeta is the past form of hajimeru ("begin"), here suffixed to the stem of suru to mean "begin doing."

6 Narration:
Shuryoku shōhin no ureyuki ga pattari tomari, henpin no yama ni narimashita.
Sales of their main products came to an abrupt halt, and (the office) became a mountain of returned merchandise. (PL3)

Employees:
Hie- Hie- Hie-
"Yikes!" "Yikes!" "Yikes!"

- pattari (or battari) is a modifier for stopping "suddenly/abruptly/completely."
Tomari is a continuing form of tomaru ("stop") → "stop, and..."

7 Narration:
Sore ni tsurete, kabuka mo kyūsoku ni ochikonde ikimashita.
As business declined, (the company's) stock prices also went into a tailspin. (PL3)

Stockholder:
Senshū made gosen-en dai datta no ga, konshū wa sanzen-en o kitta?!
"Until last week we were above ¥5,000, but this week we've dropped beneath ¥3,000!?" (PL2)

- sore ni tsurete means "accompanying/right along with/in conjunction with that" → "in conjunction with the decline of business" → "as business declined."

1 Shachō:
Ki- kimi no itta tōri ni natta.
 "I- it has become exactly as you said."
 "Y- you . . . were right." (PL2)

- itta is the plain/abrupt past form of iu ("say"), and tōri (or no tōri) follows a variety of words to mean "like/exactly as/in accordance with," so itta tōri = "exactly as (you) said."
- ni natta is the plain/abrupt past form of ni naru, "become(s)."

2 Shachō:
Dō sureba ii?!
 "What do we have to do?" (PL2)

Sono zashiki-warashi o tsuremodosu ni wa?!
 "In order to bring the zashiki-warashi back?" (PL2)

- dō = "what/how," and sureba is a conditional "if" form of suru ("do"), so dō sureba is "if (we) do what." Adding ii ("good/fine/okay") makes an expression literally meaning "If we do what will it be okay/fine?" implying "What do we have to do (to set things right again)?"
- ni wa = "for the purpose of/in order to."
- he speaks in inverted syntax. His second sentence actually states the topic for his first.

3 Okido:
Bo- boku mo sore o kangaete-ta n desu ga, mada wakaranai n desu.
 "I- I've been thinking about that, too, but I don't know (the answer) yet." (PL2)

- kangaete-(i)ta is the past form of kangaete-iru, from kangaeru ("think about/ponder").

4 Shachō:
Bōnasu gojukkagetsu bun dasu!
 "I'll give you a bonus of 50 months' pay!" (PL2)

Ikkoku mo hayaku kangaero!
 "Think about it even one moment sooner!"
 "You've got to come up with something fast!" (PL2)

- bun after a quantity means "enough for/equivalent to that much" or "that much's worth."
- ikkoku mo hayaku could be translated "as soon as possible," but it tends to have a very urgent feeling, as if seconds count: "Pronto!/Fast!"
- kangaero is the abrupt command form of kangaeru ("think about/ponder").

5 Shachō: Kaisha ga tsubureru mae ni!
 "Before the company collapses."
 "Before we go bankrupt!" (PL2)

Sound FX:
Buooooo
Roar (effect of the shachō's intense fury)

- mae ni after a verb means "before" that action takes place. Again we have inverted syntax. This clause would normally come before ikkoku mo hayaku . . .

1 Narration:
*Zashiki-warashi o tsuremodosu hōhō?!
 A way to bring back the zashiki-warashi?!*

Hanamura:
*Iwate Shisha kara todoita komonjo yo.
 "Here're the old records that arrived from our Iwate branch." (PL2)*

Narration:
*Shikashi, donna hon o yonde mo, sonna
 hōhō wa miatarimasen deshita.
 But no matter what books they read,
 they came across no such method.
 (PL3)*

- todoita is the plain/abrupt past form of todoku ("arrive/be delivered").
- miatarimasen deshita is the negative past form of miataru, which means "find/come across" when the subject is a person and "be found" when the subject is a thing.

2 Okido:
*Miro yo, Hanamura, / Sanraitō Shōji no kabu-ka.
 "Look at this, Hanamura. The stock price for Sunlight Enterprises." (PL2)*

3 Okido:
*Kono ikkagetsu de nijūbai no taka-ne da.
 "In this past month it's gone up 20-fold." (PL2)*

Hanamura:
*To iu koto wa...
 "Which means..." (PL2)*

Okido:
*Koko ga zashiki-warashi no hikkoshi-saki da!
 "This is where the zashiki-warashi moved to!" (PL2)*

- kono ("this/these") followed by a time period (n days/months/years) refers to that long of a period leading up to the present → "the recent/the last/the past (n days/months/years)."
- taka-ne = "high price/increased price"

4 Okido:
*Kuso! Idokoro wa wakatte-ru tte no ni nā.
 "Crap! Even though we know where he is, (we still don't know how to bring him back)." (PL2)*

- tte no ni is a contraction of to iu no ni, "even though it is the case that." No ni, especially at the end of sentence, can express disappointment/dismay; nā emphasizes the dismay.

5 Kachō:
*Oi, Okido, isoge! / Kabu-ka ga sen-en o kitta.
 "Hey, Okido, (you've got to) hurry! / Our stock price has dipped under ¥1,000." (PL2)*

*Kono mama da to, shachō ga mi-uri suru ka mo shiren zo.
 "At this rate, the president might (decide to) sell out." (PL2)*

- kano mama = "unchanged from this" and da to = "if it is" → "if it is unchanged from this" → "at this rate."

4 Hanamura:
*Fū... Nan de zashiki-warashi wa dete itchatta n daro?
 "(Sigh) I wonder why the zashiki-warashi left?" (PL2)*

7 Yumioka:
*Sorya, kaisha ga omoshirokunaku natta kara sa.
 "It's because this company got to be no fun for him anymore." (PL2)*

*Zashiki-warashi wa sō ittottarō.
 "That's what he said, remember?" (PL2)*

- ittottarō is a contraction of itte-ita darō, from iu ("say"). The conjectural darō seeks confirmation/agreement from the listener.

- 1 Hanamura: (off panel)
Nan da ka torabāyu mitai ne.
 “Somehow it looks like a job hunt, doesn’t it?”
“It sorta looks like time to hunt for a new job, doesn’t it?” (PL2)
- nan da ka might literally be translated as “What is it?” but it has the idiomatic meaning of “somehow/for some reason or other.”
  - Torabāyu, from the French travail (“job”), is the name of a popular job information magazine, and from this, torabāyu has become a pop word for “job hunt.” Its verb form occurs both as torabāyu suru and torabaru.

- 2 Sound FX: Gabā!
 (effect of a sudden large movement, such as rising from a sleeping/resting position)
- Hanamura:
Kya!
 (a very brief, squeal/scream from being startled)

- 3 Okido:
Sō ka. Tsumari, ima made wa 'omoshiroi mono' ga kaisha ni atta n da!
“That’s it! In other words this company did have something fun for him until now.” (PL2)
- Kaichō ga, zashiki-warashi o tsurete korareta no mo, sono 'omoshiroi mono' no okage na n da!*
“The very reason Mr. Matsumura was able to bring the zashiki-warashi with him was because of that fun thing.” (PL2)
- sō ka can also be a question (“Is that right?”), but here it expresses a sudden understanding/realization: “That’s it!/I’ve got it!”
  - tsurete korareta is the past potential (“could/was able to . . .”) form of tsurete kuru (see fr. 1).
  - . . . no okage = “thanks to/because of . . .”

- 5 Okido:
'Omoshiroi mono' o mitsukeru n da!
“Find the fun thing!”
“Find what it was that was fun for him.” (PL2)
- Sore de zashiki-warashi wa modotte kuru!*
“Then the zashiki-warashi will come back.” (PL2)
- modotte is the -te form of modoru (“return”) and kuru (“come”) shows that the direction of the return will be toward the speaker rather than away.
- 6 Okido:
Sōmu zen'in de . . . iya, / shain zen'in de sagasu n da!
“Everyone in general affairs . . . No! Everyone in the company must search!” (PL2)
- sōmu refers to sōmu-ka, “the general affairs section” of the company.
  - shain combines sha from kaisha (“company”) and in (“member”), for a word referring to company employees. Zen = “all,” so zen'in = “all members,” and shain zen'in = “all employees/everyone in the company.”

- 4 Okido:
Saikin, kaisha no naka de henka shita mono ya, nakunatta mono o sagasu n da!
“Look for something that has changed or disappeared from our offices recently!” (PL2)
- Donna sasai-na koto mo minogasu na!*
“Don’t overlook anything, no matter how small!” (PL2)
- following a plain, non-past verb with n da can serve as an abrupt command.
  - minogasu = “overlook,” and na after the plain, non-past form of a verb makes a strong prohibition/negative command.

1 Sign:
Sanraito Shōji Kabushiki(gaisha)
Sunlight Enterprises Joint Stock Company

2 Sound FX:
Huuuuuu . . .
 (sound of strong wind)

2 Okido:
Kore shika . . . kangaerarenai!
 “I can think of only this.”
 “It can’t be anything else! —” (PL2)
Zashiki-warashi ga ‘omoshiroi mono’ to itta no wa.
 “The thing the zashiki-warashi called fun.” (PL2)

Headband:
Zashiki-warashi Inochi
Zashiki-warashi or my life

- shika combines with a negative later in the sentence to mean “only.”
- kangaerarenai is the negative potential (“can’t”) form of kangaeru (“think of”).
- he speaks in inverted syntax, his second sentence being only a fragment that states the topic for his first. No makes the complete thought/sentence zashiki-warashi ga ‘omoshiroi mono’ to itta (“the zashiki-warashi called [it] a ‘fun’ thing”) into a noun, and wa marks it as the topic.
- using 命 inochi as a single character after a name implies one is “staking one’s life” on that person. It parallels a custom of the Edo period in which courtesans tattooed “~命” on their arms to show their devotion to a client, essentially meaning “I love you more than my life.”
- the headbands, known as hachimaki, are a standard accessory when heading into battle/competition or engaging in a strenuous effort.

4 Okido:
Mukashi wa dare no seki ni mo atta kedo, saikin wa mō metta-ni minaku natta mono!
 “Something that, in the past, was on everyone’s desk, but now you almost never see.” (PL2)

Wagasha ni hitotsu dake nokotte-ita kore wa, kaichō no motchi-mono de,
 “This, the only one left in our company, belonged to Mr. Matsumura, . . .

sore mo kyonen kaichō ga nakunarareta toki, jitaku ni hikitorareta.
 “and even it was returned to his home after he died last year.” (PL2)

- seki = “seat/place” → “desk.”
- saikin = “recently,” but when used in opposition to mukashi (“before/in the past/long ago”), it is often best thought of as “now.”
- metta-ni plus a negative means “rarely/seldom.”
- minaku is the adverb form of minai, negative of miru (“see/look at”), and natta is the past form of naru (“become”), so minaku natta is

- “has become so you do not see,” and metta-ni minaku natta = “has become so you rarely see.”
- nakunarareta is an honorific form of nakunaru, which when written 亡くなる means “to die.”
- hikitorareta is the passive past form of hikitoru, (“withdraw/take back/receive”).

5 Okido:
Soshite, minna ga kiita zashiki-warashi no koe, ‘Jarapachi’!
 “And then there’s the word everyone heard the zashiki-warashi say, ‘Jarapachi!’” (PL2)

- kiita is the plain/abrupt past form of kiku (“hear”), and minna ga kiita (“everyone heard”) modifies zashiki-warashi no koe (“the zashiki warashi’s voice/utterance”).
- each time the ghost/zashiki-warashi appeared in the first episode of this story, he said, quite mysteriously, Jarapachi nē ka. We noted that the phrase looked like it could be dialect/slang for Jarapachi nai ka (“Do(n’t) you have jarapachi?”), but the meaning of jarapachi remained unclear.

6 FX:
Sa! (effect of quick, sweeping movement)

1 Sign:
Zashiki-warashi Taisaku Honbu
Zashiki-warashi Command Center

Shachō:
Fū (sigh of fatigue)

• taisaku, frequently translated as “counter-measure(s),” is the word most commonly used for referring to “plans/planning” directed at resolving a problem of some kind. Honbu literally means “headquarters,” and taisaku honbu refers to the “planning headquarters” — i.e., “command center.”

2 Employee:
Sha- shachō! Taihen desu!
“Mr. President! It’s unbelievable/Crazy!” (PL3)

Shachō:
Nan da? Shakkin-tori ka? Mō nani mo kowakunai zo.
“What is it? Creditors? Nothing scares me anymore.” (PL2)

• nani mo combines with a negative later in the sentence to mean “not anything.”
• kowakunai is the negative form of kowai (“scary/frightful”).
• zo is a rough/masculine particle for emphasis.

3 Employee:
Kabu-ka ga kyū ni agari-hajimemashita!
Taihen na ikioi desu!
“Our stock prices have suddenly started going up! The pace is incredible!” (PL3)

Shachō:
Nani?!
“What?!” (PL2)

• taihen earlier referred to a “terrible/troublesome” situation, but it can in fact refer to any momentous/astonishing development, including positive ones. In these two frames it has the meaning of “amazing/incredible.”

4 OL:
Kakuchi de seihin ga urehajimete-imasu!
“Our products are starting to sell all across the country!” (PL3)

Employee:
Nanii?! Zaiko ga zenbu haketa?!
“Wha-a-t? All our inventory is sold out?” (PL2)

Employee:
Kabu-ka kyūtō! Nisen-en dai ni norimashita!
“Stock prices are climbing rapidly! They’ve risen to over ¥2,000!” (PL2)

• kakuchi is literally “each land/area/territory,” a term for “all regions/throughout the nation.”
• urehajimete-imasu is from ureru (“[something] sells”) plus the progressive (“-ing”) form of hajimeru (“begin”).
• haketa is the plain/abrupt past form of hakeru (“[merchandise] sells”).

5 Shachō:
Zashiki-warashi ga modotte kita!
“The zashiki-warashi has come back!” (PL2)

Kachō:
Yattā!
“Alright!” (PL2)

• yatta is the plain/abrupt past form of yaru (“do”), so it literally means “(I/we/ he) did it,” but one of its most prominent uses is as an exclamation of joy, “Alright!/Yeah!/Hooray!” See Basic Japanese 13.

6 Employees:
Banza-i! Banza-i! Banza-i!
“Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!” (PL2)

1 Sound FX:

Jarapachi jarapachi pachi pachi
(sound of abacus)

- jarapachi combines two sounds associated with the abacus. Jara(-jara) represents the rattling/clattering of many beads together, as when the abacus is prepared for a calculation by shaking the lower beads to the bottom and pressing the upper beads against the top with the sweep of a finger. Pachi represents the "click/snap" of individual abacus beads being flicked up or down as the calculation proceeds.

2 Narration:

Okido-kun no katsuyaku de, Taiyō Denki wa, mata, moto no kakki o torimodoshimashita.

As a result of Mr. Okido's good work, Taiyō Electric once again regained its former vitality. (PL3)

- katsuyaku refers to activity directed at a good purpose: "heroics/good work(s)."
- moto no = "the original/former"
- torimodoshimashita is the PL3 past form of torimodosu ("take back/recover").

1 Narration:

Soshite, kaku shain wa dentaku o yame, jarapachi, tsumari soroban o tsukau yō, o-fure ga deta no deshita.

And it was decreed that all employees should stop using electronic calculators and (instead) use jarapachi, that is to say, abacuses. (PL3)

- yame is a continuing form of yameru ("quit/cease"): "quit and . . ."
- yō is an abbreviated form of yō ni, "so that." When followed by iu ("say") or another verb indicating speech/communication, yō (ni) essentially makes the preceding sentence into a command.
- o-fure refers to an "official notice/decreed." The honorific prefix o- is not quite obligatory but almost always used. Deta is the plain/shrump past form of deru ("come/go out"), so o-fure ga deta = "a decree came out" → "it was decreed."

4 Sound FX:

Pachi pachi
Click click (sound of abacus beads)

Okido:

Bōnasu gojukkagetsu bun. Kore de kekkon dekiru zo.

"A bonus of 50 months' pay. Now I can get married." (PL2)

Sound FX:

Jarapachi jarapachi
(abacus sounds)

Hanamura:

Sore de ogotte moraeru bun ga kore dake to . . .

"And of that (bonus) I can get you to treat me to lunch/dinner with this much." (PL2)

Sound FX:

Pachi pachi
Click click (sound of abacus beads)

- ogotte is the -te form of ogoru ("treat [someone] to food/a meal"), and moraeru is the potential ("can/able to") form of morau ("receive"). Morau after the -te form of a verb implies the speaker/subject "receives" the action, or has the action done for him/her, so ogotte morau means to "be treated (to food/meals)."
- sore de ogotte moraeru is a complete thought/sentence ("I can be treated with that"), modifying bun, which here means "part/portion" → "the part of that with which I can be treated to food/meals." Ga marks this as the subject.
- kore dake looks like "only this," but its idiomatic meaning is "this much" — without any feeling that it is limited to "only" so much.

Dr. Slump

When it first appeared in the weekly manga magazine Shōnen Jump in 1980, Dr. Slump was an immediate hit, soon leading to an animated TV series. Dr. Slump is the nickname of the character Norimaki Senbei, an inventor whose ingenious creations provide the basis for much of the (slapstick) humor in the series. Even though the doctor is normally portrayed as a slightly nerdy-looking klutz, there is a lecherous side to his nature which apparently enables him to take on a completely different appearance when he spots an attractive woman. He sucks in his gut, straightens his posture, and attains a handsome youthful look that makes him almost unrecognizable. He has yet a third countenance when he gets angry, which is fairly often.

The manga is named for Dr. Slump, but the main character is undeniably Arale (written アラレ in Japanese, this would normally be romanized as Arare, but Toriyama has chosen the English spelling Arale), an incredibly strong android that Slump creates in the first episode and then passes off as a real girl. Arale's supposed "age" is thirteen, but she acts more like a six-year-old with super powers, unintentionally wreaking havoc wherever she goes. The stories are set in Pengin Mura ("Penguin Village"), a remote area in the countryside where pigs talk and fish fly through the air carrying "scuba" tanks full of water to breathe. Slump's wacky inventions, including such things as time machines, spaceships, and x-ray glasses, provide plenty of opportunity for Arale to have adventure and cause mayhem.

Dr. Slump © Toriyama Akira, All rights reserved. First published in Japan in 1980 by Shūeisha, Tōkyō. English translation rights arranged through Shūeisha.

The artist, Toriyama Akira, uses a style of drawing which deforms proportions but retains or even emphasizes small details.

His debut work was entitled Wonder Island, but his first big hit was Dr. Slump. After ending Dr. Slump in 1984, he began work on the immensely popular Dragon Ball, which is still running.

鳥山 明

アラレ誕生!の巻

Title: アラレ誕生!の巻
Arare Tanjō! no Maki
(name) birth of episode

The Episode in which Arale is Born

- the normal Romanization of アラレ is arare, but this manga artist has chosen to spell his character's name Arare. In line 2 we will use the standard Romanization since that is the best way to represent the pronunciation most consistently, but we will use Arare as the character's English name in the final translation.
- maki literally means "scroll," and . . . no maki is a term for "episode/chapter" that ultimately goes back to the time when stories were written on scrolls, and each scroll would typically contain a single chapter/section. With bound books the term came to mean "volume," still often containing only a single chapter, and with the transition to periodicals and TV the term took on the meaning of "episode." . . . No maki has a slightly old-fashioned feel to it, somewhat akin to early English novels with chapter "titles" like: "Chapter the First, Wherein Our Hero is Born."

1	Mailbox: Doctor 則巻 千兵衛  Dokutā Norimaki Senbē          doctor rule/nori-wrapped rice cracker          (family name) (given name)  Dr. Norimaki Senbē <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 則 nori means “rule/law,” but the author is making a pun on 海苔 nori, the seaweed that comes in sheets, familiar to many as the outside covering used in the nori-roll type sushi known as norimaki in Japanese. Since Senbē is a pun on 煎餅 senbei (“rice cracker”), though, the doctor’s name is a pun not on the sushi but on rice crackers that come wrapped with nori. The element 兵衛 was traditionally a part of many “first” names, including names that come from numbers like 一兵衛 Ichibē and 十兵衛 Jūbē, so 千兵衛 Senbē (Sen = 1,000) actually looks very much like a proper name.</li> </ul>
2	Sound FX: キュイーン キュイーン  Kyuūin kyūin          (high-pitched motor sound, like a dentist’s drill)
3	Girl: ふあ…  Fua…          (beginning of yawn)
4	Girl: あああ…  aaa          (yawn)
5	Girl: ムニユ ムニユ  Munyu munyu          (effect of indistinct sounds following yawn)
6	Girl: あ〜〜 たいくつ  Ā- taikutsu          (interj.) boredom  “I’m bored!” (PL2) Dr. Slump: 先に クビ を つくると うるさくて かなわん な。  Saki ni kubi o tsukuru to urusakute kanawan na.          first neck/head (obj.) if/when make noisy/bothersome-(cause) hard to take (colloq.)  “When you make the head first, the noisiness makes it hard to take.”  “If you make the head first, it’s so noisy you can’t concentrate.” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• kubi is literally “neck,” but it’s used in many cases where English speakers would say “head,” including when speaking of a disembodied/decapitated head.</li> <li>• to after the plain form of a verb can give a conditional “if/when” meaning.</li> <li>• urusakute is the -te form of urusai (“noisy/bothersome/pesky/obnoxious”). The -te form is used here to indicate the cause/reason for what follows.</li> <li>• kanawan is a contraction of kanawanai (“be no match for/be unable to take”). The -te form of an adjective followed by kanawan(ai) means “it’s too (adjective) to bear/to put up with.”</li> <li>• na, a mostly masculine equivalent of ne, is here used as a kind of self-confirmation: “that’s the way it is, isn’t it?” — implying he wishes he had done things differently.</li> </ul>

7	Dr. Slump: よし、ちょっと右手をうごかしてみてくれ。  Yoshi, chotto migite o ugokashite mite kure.          okay/all right a little right hand (obj.) please try moving  “Okay, try moving your right hand a little.” (PL2) Girl: はい。  Hai.          yes/okay  “Okay.” (PL3) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• yoshi is an exclamatory/interjectory form of the adjective ii/yoii (“good/fine”). It’s often used to show that one is ready to begin an action (“okay/all right, I’m gonna do it/let’s do it”) or that the time is right for someone else to do the action (“okay, go ahead/start”).</li> <li>• ugokashite is the -te form of ugokasu (“move”), and mite is the -te form of miru (“see/look at”). A form of miru after the -te form of a verb can mean either “try/attempt (the action indicated)” or “do (the action) and see what results.”</li> <li>• kure after the -te form of a verb makes an informal/abrupt request or gentle command, “(do it), please / (do it), will you?” Requesting/commanding with -te kure is masculine; females would add an honorific o- to make it -te o-kure, or use just the -te form by itself.</li> </ul>
8	Girl: よいしょ。  Yoisho.          (interj.)  “Oomph.” (PL2) Sound FX: ズムッ  Zumu!  Thump (dull sound of fist landing in his crotch) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• yoisho is an interjection used when lifting a heavy object or doing something else that requires a particular exertion of energy.</li> </ul>
9	Dr. Slump: あ…あ…  A… a…  “Ohh… ohh…”
10	Dr. Slump: ちょっとうごかしやえーんだ! ちょっと!  Chotto ugokasha e- n da! Chotto!          a little if move good/enough (explan.) is a little  “It’s enough to move it just a little! A little!”  “You just have to move it a little! Just a little!” (PL2) Girl: あ、目がでてる  A, me ga dete-ru.          (interj.) eyes (subj.) are protruding  “Hey, your eyes are bulging out.” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• ugokasha is a contraction of ugokaseba, a conditional “if” form of ugokasu (“move [something]”). E- is a dialect/slang version of ii/yoii (“good/okay”), and -ba ii makes an expression meaning “it is enough to do . . . / all you have to do is . . .”</li> <li>• dete-ru is a contraction of dete-iru (“is protruding”), from deru (“goes/comes/sticks out”).</li> </ul>
11	Dr. Slump: あ～～、死ぬかとおもった。  A~, shinu ka to omotta.          (groan) die ? (quote) thought  “Ohhh, I thought I was going to die.” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• shinu ka is literally the question “will I die?” and omotta is the plain/abrupt past form of omou (“think”), so the sentence literally says “Ohh, ‘Will I die?’ I thought” → “I thought I would die.”</li> </ul>
12	Girl: オッパイペタンコ。  Oppai pettanko.          breasts/boobs flat  “My chest is flat.” (PL2) Dr. Slump: うるさいっ!  Urusai!          noisy  “Shut up!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• oppai is a babytalk word for both “breasts” and “breast milk,” and it’s used as a slang word for “breasts/bust” by adult speakers as well.</li> <li>• pettanko is a variation of pechanko/peshanko, slang words for “flat.”</li> <li>• urusai! when spoken sharply is equivalent to English “Shut up!/Be quiet!”</li> </ul>

13	Girl: よ / ほ Yo / ho “Yo . . . ho . . .” (meaningless sounds she makes as she tries to get the hang of walking)
14	Dr. Slump: ふう . . . 完成した か。 Fū . . . Kansei shita ka. (sigh) completed ? “Whew. Finished, is it?” “Whew. I guess that does it.” (PL2) Girl: ムニツ。 Muni! (effect of making face)
15	Dr. Slump: いらん こと すなっ!! Iran koto su na! unneded thing don't do “Cut that out!” (PL2)
16	Dr. Slump: こわい。 わたし は 自分 の 才能 が こわい。 Kowai. Watashi wa jibun no sainō ga kowai. is scary/frightful I/me as-for myself 's skill/genius (subj.) am scared/fearful “It's frightful. As for me, my genius is frightful.” “It scares me. My own genius scares me.” (PL2) Dr. Slump: こんなに 完璧な 人間型ロボット を かんたんにつくってしまうなんて。 Konna-ni kanpeki-na andoroido o kantan-ni tsukutte shimau nante. this much perfect human-type robot (obj.) easily make completely (quote) “To think I could so easily make such a perfect android!” (PL2) Girl: は、はかせ!!。 Ha- hakase! “Do-doctor!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• kowai (“scary/frightful”) is an attribute of the thing that is feared, so that thing is marked with the subject marker ga — i.e. it's as if you always say “X is scary to me” rather than “I am scared of X.”</li> <li>• jibun = “oneself,” or “me/myself,” “he/himself,” “you/yourself,” “they/themselves,” etc., depending on the context. Jibun no makes it possessive: “my/his/your/their/etc.”</li> <li>• the word andoroido, from English “android,” is given alongside kanji and kana that clarify the word's meaning: “human-type robot.”</li> <li>• tsukutte is the -te form of tsukuru (“make/create”). -te shimau after a verb implies the action was done and is irreversible, often implying regret, but here it's more a feeling of surprise/excitement that he has actually achieved his goal.</li> <li>• nante is a colloquial quotative form that implies the situation described is a surprise/hard to believe.</li> <li>• hakase can refer to anyone with a doctoral degree, but as a term of address it's perhaps most typically used with scientists/engineers/inventors — especially those who are not also teachers/professors (sensei).</li> </ul>
17	Girl: とべません!! Tobemasen! “I can't fly!” (PL3) Sound FX: ばたっ Bata! Bam! (sound of falling flat on floor, a slapstick effect)
18	Dr. Slump: べつに とぶ 必要 など ない だろ がっ!! Betsu-ni tobu hitsuyō nado nai daro ga! [not] particularly fly necessity/need something like not exist surely/probably (emph.) “Something like the need to fly doesn't particularly exist, surely.” “Why the blazes should you need to fly?!” (PL2) Girl: とべない の? Tobenai no? can't fly (explan.-?) “I can't fly?” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• betsu-ni combines with a negative later in the sentence to mean “not particularly.”</li> <li>• darō is a shortened dorō, which makes a conjecture, “is probably/surely”; ga after this conjectural form provides emphasis like “surely must (be) . . .” or “surely must not (be) . . .”</li> <li>• questions are commonly asked with the explanatory no in colloquial speech, especially among female speakers.</li> </ul>

19

Girl: では、 おなか からミサイルが ドドーッ! と?
De wa, onaka kara misairu ga dodo-! to...
 then/in that case stomach/belly from missile (subj.) (shuddering FX) (quote)
"Then do missiles (come) roaring out of my tummy?" (PL2)

Dr. Slump: でんっ!
Den!
 not come out/emerge
"No!" (PL2)

- onaka, essentially meaning "abdomen," can refer variously to "stomach/intestines/uterus/etc.," each of which also has a more technical name. Since it's a little girl speaking we've translated it with the nursery word "tummy," but onaka in Japanese is not a nursery word, and occurs widely in adult conversations without any humorous intent (though more among females than males).
- misairu is a katakana rendering of English "missile." Dodo! is an FX word for a weighty/massive object falling, collapsing, or otherwise causing the ground and everything around it to shudder/tremble. In this case it represents the vibrations and noise of a missile taking off.
- den is a contraction of denai, the negative of deru ("come/go out"). Deru or a synonym is implied at the end of the girl's sentence.

20

Girl: じゃあ、 どうやって悪 とたたかったらいい のかしら? / やっぱし 女 の色気?
Jā, dō yatte aku to tatakattara ii no kashira. / Yappashi onna no iroke?
 then/in that case how doing evil with if fight is good/fine(explan.) I wonder after all female 's seductiveness
"Then how am I supposed to fight with evil, I wonder? With my womanly charm?" (PL2)

Dr. Slump: だれ が 悪 とたたかえちゅーた?
Dare ga aku to tatakae chūta?
 who (subj.) evil with fight (quote)-said
"Who said (you were supposed) to fight with evil?!" (PL2)

- jā is a contraction of dewa ("then/in that case").
- yatte is the -te form of yaru ("do"), so dō yatte = "doing how?" → "how?"
- tatakattara is a conditional "if" form, and tatakae is the abrupt command form, of tatakau ("to fight/battle [with]").
- the expression ... tara ii is literally "is good if ...," but in a question like this it means "what/who/how/etc. should I ..." or "what/who/how/etc. am I supposed to ..."
- yappashi is a colloquial variation of yappari/yahari ("after all").
- chūta is a contraction/variation of to itta, the quotative to plus the plain/abrupt past form of iu ("say").

21

Girl: あれ?
Are?
 (interj.)
"Hey!" (PL2)

- are is an interjection of surprise/bewilderment at something unexpected/abnormal.

Dr. Slump: な、なんだ?
Na-nan da?
 wh- what is it?
"Wh- what?" (PL2)

22

Girl: あたし目 が わるい のかな?
Atashi me ga warui no kana?
 I/me eyes (subj.) bad/dysfunctional (explan.) I wonder?
"I wonder if there's something wrong with my eyes?" (PL2)

- atashi is a variation of watashi, used mostly by female speakers.

Dr. Slump: へ?
He?
 (interj.)
"Huh?" (PL2)

23

Girl: はかせ のカオ が ヘンテコリンにみえる の。
Hakase no kao ga hentekorin ni mieru no.
 doctor/you 's face (subj.) strange/weird appears/looks (explan.)
"Your face looks weird." (PL2)

Dr. Slump: なにっ? そりゃあ いかん!!
Nani!? Soryā ikan!
 what as for that no good/won't do
"What? That won't do!" (PL2)

- Japanese speakers often refer to their listener by name or title when English speakers would use "you."
- hentekorin ni is the adverb form of hentekorin(-na), a slang variation of hen(-na), "strange/weird."
- ... ni mieru = "looks/appears (like)"
- soryā is a contraction of sore wa ("as for that"), and ikan is a contraction of ikenai, "is no good/it won't do."

24	Dr. Slump: これは?  Kore wa?          this as-for  “What’s this?” (PL2) Eye Chart: あほんだら ば(か) / マヌケ ポケカス グ  Ahondara baka manuke bokekasu da          idiot fool blockhead/moron dimwit  IDIOTFOOL/MORONDIMWIT (PL1) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the eye chart is made up of insults. Ahondara is a fancy aho, “idiot/fool/blockhead,” and the other words all mean pretty much the same. Manuke differs a bit from aho and baka in implying the person is not so much a “jerk” as he is missing something upstairs → “halfwit/moron.” Bokekasu comes from boke, which implies the person’s lights have dimmed or he has gone loco/senile, so you could say it’s closer to manuke than the others.</li> </ul>
25	Girl: キ  Ki
26	Dr. Slump: へ?! / じゃあ、これ。  He?! / Jā, kore.          (interj.) then/in that case this  “Huh? / Well, then, what’s this?” (PL2)
27	Girl: ン  n
28	Dr. Slump: ぜんぜん ちがう なあ。え...と、これ。  Zenzen chigau nā. E to, kore.          completely different/wrong (emph.) let’s see this  “Not even close. Let’s see, (how about) this?” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>zenzen is usually followed by a negative for the meaning “(not) at all/completely (not),” but it’s also used with words whose meanings can be thought of as essentially negative, like chigau (“different/wrong” = “not the same/not right”). In recent years young people have begun using zenzen more freely with non-negatives, but it will probably be quite a while before such uses are fully accepted.</li> <li>e to, or more typically ē to, is a pause/hesitation word like “Uhh/well/let’s see.”</li> </ul>
29	Girl: タ / マ  ta / ma
30	Dr. Slump: ま、まさか ジョウダンでやっとる ん じゃな、ない だろ な!!  Ma-masaka jōdan de yatto-ru n ja na-nai daro na!          surely not joke as are doing (explan.) is not perhaps/I suppose (colloq.)  “Su- surely you aren’t doing this as a joke, are you?”  “I don’t suppose you’re pulling my leg by any chance, are you?” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>masaka followed by a conjectural ending (darō/deshō) means “surely not/not by any chance.”</li> <li>yattoru is a contraction of yatte-oru, equivalent to yatte-iru (“is/are doing”) from yaru (“do”).</li> <li>darō is a shortened conjectural darō (“is perhaps/probably/I suppose”).</li> <li>na is a mostly masculine equivalent of ne, which seeks confirmation from the listener.</li> <li>he suspects she’s joking because she has spelled out the word kintama, slang for “testicles/balls.”</li> </ul>
32	Girl: わー、 よく みえる!  Wā, yoku mieru!          (exclam.) well/clearly is visible/can see  “Wow, I can really see!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>yoku (“well”) is the adverb form of the adjective ii/yoi (“good/fine”), so yoku mieru means “can see well,” or in this case, “can see clearly.”</li> </ul>
33	Girl: あ! キングコング だ!  A! Kingu Kongu da!          (exclam.) King Kong is  “Ack! It’s King Kong!” (PL2) Dr. Slump: だまれっ!!  Damare!          be quiet  “Shut up!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>damare is the abrupt command form of damaru (“become quiet/fall silent”) → “Shut up!”</li> </ul>

34

Girl: あれ? どっか いくん ですか?

Are? Dokka iku n desu ka?

(interj.) somewhere go (explan.) is/are ?

“Oh, are you going somewhere?” (PL3)*Dr. Slump: いつまでも オレの パジャマ を きとる わけにはいかん だろ。

Itsu made mo ore no pajama o kitoru wake ni wa ikan daro.

forever I/me 's pajamas (obj.) be wearing can't very well probably/surely

“You can't very well go on wearing my pajamas forever.” (PL2)

- dokka is a contraction of dakoka, “somewhere.”
- ore is an informal/rough, masculine word for “I/me”; no is possessive, so ore no = “my.”
- kitoru is equivalent to kite-iru (“am/is/are wearing”), from kiru (“put on/don/wear” for clothing that involves putting arms through sleeves).
- ikan is a contraction of ikanai, negative of iku (“go”), and . . . wake ni wa ikanai is an idiomatic expression meaning “. . . is out of the question” or “I/you/he can't very well . . .”

35

Dr. Slump: 服 なんかを かってきてやる から、ちょっと 留守番しててくれ。

Fuku nanka o katte kite yaru kara, chotto rusuban shite-te kure.

clothes things like/etc. (obj.) buy-and-come-(favor) because/so a little (please) be watching house

“I'll go buy you some clothes and things, so you stay here and watch the house awhile.” (PL2)

- nanka is a colloquial nado (“things like/such as”); o marks fuku nanka as the direct object of katte kite yaru.
- katte and kite are the -te forms of kau (“buy”) and kuru (“come”), so katte kite is literally “buy and come,” but the -te form of a verb followed by kuru is often equivalent to English “go do” — in this case, “go buy.”
- yaru after the -te form of a verb implies the speaker is doing the action for the benefit of/as a favor to the listener or someone else — “do for you/her/them.”
- rusu refers to someone's, or everyone's, “absence from home,” and ban means “watch/guard.” Rusuban shite-(i)te kure is from rusuban (o) suru, which refers to the act of staying behind to watch the house while the others are away. Kure after the -te form of a verb makes an abrupt request or relatively gentle command.

36

Girl: ミンクの コート?

Minku no kāto?

mink of coat

“A mink coat?” (PL2)*Dr. Slump: おまえ つまらん ことしとる なあ。

Omae tsumaran koto shitto ru nā.

you unimportant/worthless thing know (colloq. emph.)

“You sure know a lot of things you don't need to know.” (PL2)

- omae is a fairly rough, masculine word for “you.”
- tsumaran is a contraction of tsumaranai, which basically implies something is of no interest/importance. Part of the implication here, though, is that she knows more than he wants her to know.
- shitto ru is a contraction of shitte-oru, a colloquial equivalent to shitte-iru (“know[s]”), from shiru (“find out/come to know”).

37

Signs: THE デパート

Za Depāto

The Department (Store)

なんでも 5割引 セール / オムツ からミサイルまで

Nandemo gowaribiki sēru / Omutsu kara misairu made anything/everything 50%-off sale / diapers from missiles to

Everything 50% Off! From Diapers to Missiles

- depāto abbreviates depātomento sutoa, the cumbersome katakana rendering of English “department store.”

- in this usage wari means “tenth,” so gowari is “five-tenths/50%.” -Biki is from hiku (“subtract/take away” — the h changes to b for euphony), so gowaribiki = “50% off.” Waribiki is also used by itself (i.e., without a number before it) to mean “discount.”

38

Dr. Slump: え...と、あれは 買ったし、これも買った。 / あとは...

E...to, are wa katta shi, kore mo katta. / Ato wa...

let's see that as-for bought and this also bought remainder as-for

“Let's see, I bought this, and I bought that. All that's left is . . .” (PL2)

- shi is a conjunctive particle, “and,” for connecting two clauses. It can't be used between two nouns, just as to, the particle for “and” between two nouns, cannot be used to connect two clauses.
- we reversed the order of are (“that”) and kore (“this”) in the translation to give the more usual English word order, “. . . this and . . . that.”

39

Dr. Slump: 下着... か。

shitagi... ka.

underwear ?

“... underwear, I guess.” (PL2)

- the question indicated by the particle ka is strictly rhetorical. The question form is often used like this as a kind of self-confirmation when a person has realized/figured out something, with the feeling of “So it's . . . , is it/I guess / it seems.”

40

Dr. Slump: こまった。オレ なんか が かえば ぜったい 変態 あつかい される。
Komatta. Ore nanka ga kaeba zettai hentai atsukai sareru.
 be in a fix I/me someone like (subj.) if buy absolutely/certainly pervert treatment will be done/given
“What a fix! If someone like me buys it, I’m sure to be treated as a pervert.” (PL2)

Sign: ランジェリー コーナー
Ranjerii Kōnā
Lingerie Corner

- komatta is the plain/abrupt past form of komaru, “to be faced with a problem/caught in a tight spot.” It serves as an exclamation of distress/uncertainty when faced with a problem you’re not immediately sure how to solve: “Oh no!/What a fix!/Now what?/Bummer!” See Basic Japanese #15.
- nanka is a colloquial nado (“something/someone like”).
- kaeba is a conditional “if” form of kau (“buy”).
- atsukai is the noun form of atsukau (“treat/handle”), and sareru is the passive form of suru (“do”). The expression . . . atsukai sareru means “be treated/regarded as . . .”

41

Dr. Slump: そ... そう だ!
So- sō da!
 th- that way is
“Th- that’s it!” (PL2)

- sō da (literally, “[it] is so”) is often used like an exclamation at the beginning of a statement to express a sudden realization/thought/idea, like “Oh, I know/that’s it!”

42

Salesperson: ... と、それから 口紅 ですね?
... to, sorekara kuchibeni desu ne?
 and also/after that lipstick is isn’t it?
“... and also some lipstick, right?” (PL3)

Dr. Slump: はは、 妻 に たのまれましたね。
Ha ha, tsuma ni tanomaremashite ne.
 (nervous laugh) wife by was requested (colloq.)
“Huh huh, my wife asked me, you know.” (PL3)

- to means “and” when connecting two nouns, so . . . to implies she has listed several other items.
- sorekara is literally “from that” → “after that” → “next/also/finally.”
- her ne seeks confirmation from the listener, “that’s right, isn’t it?” On the other hand, there’s not really anything in his statement she can confirm, so his ne is more like an English “you know,” which doesn’t ask for confirmation so much as a sympathetic ear.
- tanomaremashite is the PL3 -te form of tanomareru (“be asked to do a favor”), from tanomu (“ask a favor”). A -te form can be used for explanations like this because one of its functions is to give a reason/cause.

43

FX: ささっ
Sasa!
 (effect of swift movement)

44

Sign: 婦人服 コーナー
Fujin-fuku Kōnā
 women clothing corner
Women’s Apparel

Salesperson: いらっしゃいませ。おにあいの ワンピース がありますよ。
Irasshaimase. O-niai no wan piisu ga arimasu yo.
 welcome (hon.)-becoming one-piece-dress (subj.) have (emph.)
“Welcome to the store. We have some dresses that would look terrific on you.” (PL3)

Dr. Slump: わたし が きる わけ ない でしょ! 母 への プレゼント です!!
Watashi ga kiru wake nai desho. Haha e no purezento desu!
 I/me (subj.) wear situation/reason not exist surely mother to of present is
“It couldn’t possibly be that I will wear it. It’s a present to my mother!”
“It’s not for me! It’s a present for my mother!” (PL3)

- irasshaimase is the polite command form of the PL4 verb irassharu (“come”). Shopkeepers use the word to welcome those who have come into their shop.
- niai is a noun form of niau (“becomes/befits/suits”).
- arimasu is the PL3 form of aru (“have/exist in a place” for inanimate things).
- . . . wake nai desho (or deshō) is an expression literally meaning “the situation of . . . surely cannot/would not exist” → “can’t possibly be/do/have . . .” Even though he speaks with PL3 endings, the short desho makes it feel quite abrupt, almost like he’s saying “It’s not for me, you fool!”

45

Salesperson: なるほど。では、わたしが お見立て しましょう。
Naruhodo. Dewa, watashi ga o-mitate shimashō.
 I see in that case I (subj.) (hon.)-choosing shall do
“I see. Then let me make the selection for you.” (PL4)

- naruhodo expresses one’s understanding of what has been said: “I see/indeed/really.”
- o-mitate shimashō is the volitional (“I shall . . .”) form of o-mitate suru, a PL4 form of mitateru (“choose/select”).

46

Salesperson: ありがとう ございましたー。
Arigato gozaimashita-
“Thank you very much.” (PL4)

47	Sign: トイレット Toiretto Toilets On Paper Roll: ようこそ いらっしやいませ! Yōkoso irasshaimase! A hearty welcome! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• more typically “toilet” is rendered as トイレ toire in katakana.</li> <li>• yōkoso derives from yoku, the adverb form of ii/yoi (“good/fine”), and is a word for emphasizing greetings of “welcome.”</li> <li>• in gestures, a thumb-up refers to a boyfriend/male romantic interest, and a little-finger-up refers to a girlfriend/female romantic interest. Needless to say, these are not typical signs for distinguishing men’s and women’s restrooms.</li> </ul>
48	Sound FX: ぞりぞり Zori zori (the “scraping” sound from shaving with a blade)
49	Sound FX: カパ Kapa (effect of snug-fitting wig, or any snug-fitting item, “popping” into place)
50	Dr. Slump: ぞ～～ Zō- (effect of shuddering) Sound FX: キュッキュツ Kyu! kyu! (the slight sound of the lipstick rubbing against his lips) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• zo! typically represents a chill from either fear or cold, and lengthening the vowel adds emphasis. He is apparently shuddering inwardly at the sight of himself dressed up as a woman.</li> </ul>
51	Dr. Slump: ああ、くそっ! なさけない! Ā, kuso! Nasakenai! (interj.) (curse) pathetic/wretched “Ah, damn it all! Is this pathetic or what?!” (PL1-2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• kuso! is used widely as a curse of chagrin at moments of adversity. Since it literally refers to “excrement,” it is undeniably crude, but it’s not considered objectionable/unprintable to the extent of its English counterparts.</li> <li>• nasakenai, when said of oneself or one’s own situation, means “pathetic/disgraceful.”</li> </ul>
52	Dr. Slump: アホ か、あの 店員! Aho ka, ano ten’in! idiot/crazy? that salesperson “Is that salesperson out of his mind?” (PL2) Dr. Slump: 母 へのプレゼントに セーラー服 おくる バカ が おる かつ!? Haha e no purezento ni sērā-fuku okuru baka ga oru ka! mother to for present for/as sailor suit/middy uniform give fool (subj.) exists ? “Does a fool exist who would give his mother a midddy uniform for a present?” “What fool would give his mother a midddy uniform for a present?!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• sērā-fuku refers to the midddy-style uniform worn by Japanese junior high and high school girls.</li> <li>• okuru here would be written 贈る in kanji, and it means “give (as) a present.”</li> <li>• haha e no purezento ni sērā-fuku okuru is a complete thought/sentence (“give a midddy uniform as a present to his mother”) modifying baka (“idiot/fool”).</li> <li>• oru is equivalent to iru (“exist” for people and animate things).</li> </ul>
53	Dr. Slump: こ… これじゃ 変態 そのもの じゃないか! (thinking) Ko- kore ja hentai sono mono ja nai ka! th- this if it is perversion/pervert the very thing is it not? “If (I go around like) this, I’m the very epitome of perversion!” (PL2) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• sono mono is literally “that thing,” but idiomatically it means “the very thing.” Hentai sono mono is like “the very essence/epitome of perversion.”</li> <li>• ja nai ka, contracted from de wa nai ka, looks like “isn’t it so?” but in this case the question is purely rhetorical, making it into strong assertion.</li> </ul>

54

Dr. Slump: あ...あの、あの パ、パンチー ください。パンチー。
A... ano, ano pa-panchii kudasai. Panchii.
 uh uh uh uh pa-panties please panties
“Uh... urr... uhm, I'd like some pa-panties, please. Panties.” (PL2)

FX: もじもじ
Moji moji
 (effect of timidly/embarassedly holding back from an action that seems too forward/bold)

Salesperson: はあ。
Hā.
“Ye-e-s?” (PL3)

- hā is a polite but uncertain hai (“yes”).
- パンチー is how “panty” is usually written in katakana. パンチー has an unsophisticated/humorous feel.

55

Salesperson: あ... あの... / これ など よろしいかと...
A... ano... / kore nado yoroshii ka to...
 uh uh this something like good/fine ? (quote)
“Uh... urr... (perhaps) something like this (would be good.)” (PL3-4)

- yoroshii is a polite form of ii/yoi (“good/fine”).

56

Dr. Slump: オレが はく ん じゃねえっ!
Ore ga haku n ja nē!
 I (subj.) wear (explan.) is not
“It's not that I will wear them!”
“They're not for me!” (PL2)

- ore is a rough, masculine word for “I/me.”
- haku means “put on/wear” for apparel you put your legs or feet into/through, including all kinds of pants and hosiery/footwear.
- n is a contraction of explanatory no, and ja nē is rough, masculine slang for ja nai = de wa nai = “is not.” The expression n(o) ja nai can literally be translated as “it's not (the case/situation) that...”

57

Dr. Slump: あ、あらっ! / や、やだ、あたし ったら! ほほほほ、ごめんなさい!
A- ara! / Ya-ya da, atashi ttara! Ho ho ho ho, gomennasai!
 (interj.) (interj.) di-disagreeable I/me if speak of (fem. laugh) (apology)
“Oh, oh my! Ho-how crude of me! Tee hee hee, I'm so sorry!” (PL2)

- ara! is an interjection showing a sudden realization/awareness, “oh!/oh my!”
- ya da is a contraction of iya da, literally “is disagreeable/unpleasant.” Ttara is a contraction of to ittara, a conditional “if/when” form of to iu (“say...”), so it literally means “if I speak of...” In colloquial speech, ttara can be used in place of wa to mark the topic, usually with a feeling of disapproval/beratement. His (her) syntax here is inverted. Normal order would be atashi ttara ya da, literally “as for me, I've been disagreeable.”
- gomennasai is one of the most common ways to express an apology.
- ho ho ho generally represents a feminine laugh in Japanese.

59

Girl: なんか 男の子 みたい。

Nanka otoko no ko mitai.
 somehow male (=) child is like
“I look/feel like a boy, somehow.” (PL2)

Dr. Slump: あ〜、えらい ハジ かいた。
Ā-, erai haji kaita.
 (interj.) terrible shame/embarassment experienced/suffered
“Ahh, I experienced a terrible shame.”
“Ahh, I really made a fool of myself.” (PL2)

Narration: もう ヒゲ はえてる。

Mō hige haete-ru.
 now/already mustache has grown
His mustache has already grown (back). (PL2)

- nanka (or nanika) means “something,” but it's also often used idiomatically to mean “(is) somehow/vaguely/kind of-”
- mitai means “is like.” In this case she probably means that the clothes make her “look like” a boy.
- erai literally means “eminent/important/great (person),” but it's also used colloquially as a broadly applicable emphazier, like “great/considerable/terrible.”
- haji (o) kaita is the plain/abrupt past form of haji o kaku, “experience/be put to shame” or “suffer ignominy/embarassment” → “make a fool of oneself.”
- haete-(i)ru (“has grown”) is from haeru, the verb “sprout/grow” for things such as hair/grass/wings/teeth.

To be continued . . .

From MadAd, p. 10

味つけする	ajitsuke suru	season/flatten (v.)
甘い	amai	sweet
防虫	bōchū	anti-pest/pesticidal
防腐	bōfu	anti-decay/preservative
豚肉	butaniku	pork
大豆	daizu	soybean(s)
カリフォルニア	Karifornia	California
国	kuni	country/nation
磨く	migaku	polish/mill (rice)
麦	mugi	wheat/barley
醤油	shōyu	soy sauce
たっぷり	tappuri	plenty/plentifully/amply
薬品	yakuhin	chemical(s)
輸出する	yushutsu suru	export (v.)

From Midori-san, p. 40

朝っぱら	asappara	early morning
普段	fudan	normally/usually
ひどい	hidoi	terrible
熱	netsu	fever
利用される	riyō sareru	be used

From Visual Glossary, p. 42

泡	awa	bubbles
導入する	dōnyū suru	introduce/bring in
はやる	hayaru	become popular/a fad
勝ちとる	kachitoru	obtain/secure/win
飼う	kau	keep (as pet or livestock)
検討	kentō	scrutiny/consideration
決する	kessuru	decide/determine
気付く	kizuku	notice/realize
効率	kōritsu	efficiency
空中浮遊	kūchū fuyū	levitation
満喫する	mankitsu suru	enjoy fully/have one's fill of
熱帯魚	nettaigyo	tropical fish
パソコン	pasokon	PC/personal computer
殺風景	sappūkei	bleak/drab
殺人的	satsujin-teki	murderous
新年	shinnen	a/the new year
正月	shōgatsu	New Year('s), the holiday
数日間	sūjitsu-kan	several day period
進む	susumu	progress/move forward
徹夜	tetsuya	staying up all night/all-nighter
浮かれる	ukareru	be festive/make merry
運	un	(good) fortune/luck
売り上げ	uriage	sales
わきまえる	wakimaeru	show discernment/restraint
世の中	yo no naka	world/society/life
予想	yosō	expectations
ゆとり	yutori	leeway/ease/comfort
残業	zangyō	overtime

From After Zero, p. 55

変化する	henka suru	change/vary
株価	kabu-ka	stock prices
活気	kakki	vigor/vitality
活躍	katsuyaku	activity/good work

見あたる	miataru	find/come across
見逃す	minogasu	overlook
見つける	mitsukeru	find
昔	mukashi	in the past/long ago
亡くなる	nakunaru	die
借金トリ	shakkin-tori	bill-collector/dun (n.)
信じる	shinjiru	believe/have faith
ソロバン	soroban	abacus
トラパーユ	torabāyu	job hunt
取り戻す	torimodosu	take back/recover
憑く	tsuku	possess/haunt/attach to

From Dr. Slump, p. 64

悪	aku	evil
ちがう	chigau	different/wrong
だまる	damaru	be quiet/stop talking
どこか	dokoka	somewhere
婦人	fujin	woman/women
服	fuku	clothes
5割引	gowaribiki	50% off
はえる	haeru	sprout/grow
ハジ(恥)	haji	shame/embarrassment
変態	hentai	perversion/pervert
ヘンテコリンな	hentekorin-na	strange/weird
ヒゲ(鬚)	hige	mustache
必要	hitsuyō	necessity/need
色気	iroke	seductiveness/charm
いつまでも	itsu made mo	forever
自分	jibun	myself
ジョウダン(冗談)	jōdan	joke (n.)
完璧な	kanpeki-na	perfect
完成する	kansei suru	complete/finish
かんたん	kantan-ni	easily
こわい	kowai	scary/frightful
口紅	kuchibeni	lipstick
右手	migi-te	right hand
ミンクのコート	minku no kōto	mink coat
ミサイル	misairu	missile
見立てる	mitateru	choose/select
思う	omou	think
オムツ	omutsu	diaper(s)
おなか	onaka	stomach/belly
オッパイ	oppai	breasts/boobs
男の子	otoko no ko	boy
留守番する	rusuban suru	watch/guard the house
才能	sainō	skill/genius
セーラー服	sērā-fuku	sailor suit/middy uniform
死ぬ	shinu	die
下着	shitagi	underwear
たたかう	tatakau	fight/battle (with) (v.)
店員	ten'in	salesperson/salesclerk
とぶ	tobu	fly
つくる	tsukuru	make/create
妻	tsuma	wife
うごかす	ugokasu	move (v.)
うるさい	urusai	noisy/bothersome/pesky
ワンピース	wan piisu	(one-piece) dress
わるい	warui	bad/dysfunctional
ぜったいに	zettai-ni	absolutely/certainly

The Vocabulary Summary is taken from material appearing in this issue of MANGAJIN. It's not always possible to give the complete range of meanings for a word in this limited space, so our "definitions" are based on the usage of the word in a particular story.

New Anime and Manga Monthly Magazine Bridges Pacific Rim!

Anime & Manga Monthly ANIMERICA

If it's Anime in America, it's Gotta be ANIMERICA!

Rumiko Takahashi, 1993

SUBSCRIBE NOW!!

Big West/Macross Production Committee, 1993

ANIMERICA: THE UNPRECEDENTED ANIME AND MANGA MONTHLY MAGAZINE
Featuring news and reviews on the latest anime and hot new manga, CD's and video games, plus two serial comics in each issue!

ANIMERICA ANIME FEATURE: COMPLETE COVERAGE

ANIMERICA: TWO MANGA EPISODES IN EACH ISSUE

ANIMERICA: THE HOTTEST ANIME NEWS SECTION IN NORTH AMERICA

ANIMERICA: VIDEOS, MANGA, CD'S, VIDEO GAMES—WE COVER THEM ALL!

ANIMERICA, Anime & Manga Monthly
(Monthly 64 pages)
$4.95 USA/$6.50 CAN

ANIMERICA SUBSCRIPTION FORM

1. Mark one box for the subscription period.
2. Make your check or money order payable to Viz Communications, Inc.
3. Print your name and shipping address legibly below.
4. Enclose this form and your money order or check in an envelope and mail to:
Viz Comics
P.O. Box 77010
San Francisco, CA 94107

Yes! I Want:

One Year Subscription
12 issues $48.00 (save 11.40)
Two Year Subscription
24 issues $89.00 (save 29.80)

Name: _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____

Day Phone No. ( ) _____

The subscription to ANIMERICA is available only in the U.S.A. and Canada.

Classified ads are free for individuals and non-profit groups (up to 30 words). Commercial ads are $2.00 per word, $3.00 per word bold-faced, $30 minimum charge or $80/inch for display ads, discounts available for size and/or frequency (2 1/4" width, camera ready). Send to: MANGAJIN Classifieds, P.O. Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065 Categories: • Pen Pals • Notices & Events • Books & Publications • Computers & Software • Job Seekers • Clubs • Consulting • Employment • Travel • Miscellaneous (MANGAJIN reserves the right to edit or reject any classified advertisement.)

日本語のclassified OKです!

日本語のclassified OKです!

日本語のclassified OKです!

Computers & Software

Master Hiragana & Katakana

- Sound & Sound Keyboard -
- Flash Card Printer -
- Stroke Order -
- Kana Derivations -
- On-Screen Stroke Practice Pad -

Kana Helmsman

$25 Requires HyperCard 2.0 or higher

800)859-NOVA
Visa, MC & AmEx

Nova Networks
3111 Phinney Ave. North 2 Seattle, WA 98103

Books & Publications

If you like MANGAJIN, you'll like

THE JAPAN EXPERIENCE
a quarterly newsletter about Japanese

Activities
Culture
Language
High Tech
Travel ... and more!

Subscriptions are just $7 US, $11 overseas. Single issues: $2 US, $3 overseas.
MC/Visa

THE JAPAN EXPERIENCE
P. O. Box 871895 • Dallas, TX 75287
(214) 394 0541 voice/fax

an electronic hand-held dictionary as serious as you are about

Japanese

Canon intelligent

WORD-TANK

ID-7100

- ✓ 200,000-entry dictionary
- ✓ searches for kanji & jukugo
- ✓ input in romaji or kana
- ✓ calculator & calendar
- ✓ powerful expansion cards
- ✓ other models, prices from $198

1-800-JAPAN-07
Visa/MC 1-800-527-2607
GTRCO

Japanese for the Macintosh

JAM

Sweet JAM™ 7.0 is a powerful "front-end" processor that allows you to type and print in Japanese using Mac programs, from Microsoft Word to Page-Maker. TrueType post-script fonts ensure that your work looks as good as it is. JAM works with System 7. And its extensive dictionaries mean you'll never beat a loss for words. $348. Call toll free for more info. JAM. A lot more than a word processor.

1-800-JAPAN-07
VISA/MC Imported by GTRCO

We have an interesting list of educational material (K-12) on Japan. For catalog send US$2 & self-addressed envelope (no stamps) to Pacific-Rim Slide-Shows, #302, 130 East 15th Ave, Vancouver, BC V5T 4L3 Canada

この度BS PUBLISHでは、新しく日本語学習者、日本人留学生を対象に日本語/英語の季刊誌A/Jゲイトウェイを発行します。初版発行は1994年1月の予定。ついでに貴方からの体験談、学習論説、日米間の文化交流、日常生活での日米の違いなどの記事を募集します。日本語、英語どちらでも下記宛先まで。Will be starting a quarterly Japanese/English newsletter for those studying Japanese, and for Japanese nationals studying in the US. First issue in January. Please send your articles on studying cultural exchange, and US-Japan relations to: A/J Gateway, 145 Aspen Dr., Newark, DE 19702-2865

Miscellaneous

Wanted: used CD's or cassettes of Japanese pop music. I don't know enough to waste my money buying new! Help! Todd Ulbrich, 905 S. Superior St., Albion, MI 49224

TOKYO ENGLISH LIFE LINE

Telephone counseling, crisis intervention, information, referrals: (03) 5721-4347

Individual, group, and family therapy, by appointment: (03) 5721-4455

Handy KATAKANA Workbook—米国にて十数年日本語を教えた経験をもとに日本語を学ぶ外国人のために書かれたカタカナとひらがな学習書で、クラスの教師が簡単に使えて教えられるように、また学生が効果的に学べるように各課に工夫がこらされている。初級の外国人学生に最適の仮名練習書である。80 pages, $9.95. Shimazu & Associates, P.O. Box 27544, San Francisco CA 94127

Studying Japanese? For FREE information on GAKUSEI 1.1, the DOS-based beginning grammar tutorial, write to:

BARHAM SOFTWARE
15507 S. NORMANDIE AVE. #245
GARDENA, CA 90247 USA

JAPANESE LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION. Verb Explorer J computer software (verb/adjective forms), Japanese on the Go! audio cassettes (pronunciation, listening skills). Contact JAIMS, 6660 Hawaii Kai Dr., Honolulu, HI 96825 (808-395-2314)

ANIME THIS 'N THAT

Offering a complete line of Anime Products

Models

Video Tapes

Laser Discs

Send $2.00 U.S. for a Catalog to:
Anime This 'n That
P.O. Box 49296
Colorado Springs, Co 80949-9296

International contacts, free newsletter in Japanese and English, meeting place for Japanese and foreigners. Send your written ad, envelope with your address and ¥100 stamp. CPO Box 23+. Tokyo 100-91 (03) 3494-6509

STUDY JAPANESE BUSINESS IN HAWAII, INTERN IN JAPAN with the Japan-focused Executive MBA program or the Japan-focused Management Program. Contact JAIMS, 6660 Hawaii Kai Drive, Honolulu, HI 96825 (808-395-2314)

Old ROLLING STONE magazines. For list: Howard Fields, 1815-67 Street, Brooklyn, NY 11204, USA

Pen Pals

Englishman, 40, living in Denmark wishes to communicate with Japanese female. Enjoy travelling, astrology, cycling, nature, and I love to write. Tim Palmer, Himmerlandsvej 21.3.t.v., DK-270 Vanløse, Denmark

American male, 32, seeks Japanese female 25-30 for correspondence, romance. Interests: music, travel, Japanese culture. Please respond in English, send photo. Christopher Dick, 45 Newell Road, #218, Palo Alto, CA 94303

American male, 24, seeks Japanese pen pals; will be visiting Tokyo next spring. Interests: Japanese language/culture, computers, art and music. Please write to Chris Barker, 425 West Broadway, #3A, New York, NY 10012

Chinese female student, 18, at US university likes Japanese culture, language, people, seeks Japanese pen pals (18-26). Write in English, easy Japanese or Chinese. Asai Li, 5015 16th Ave. NE #2, Seattle, WA 98105

American male, 33, seeks pen pals and friends to aid in Japanese study. Will assist with English & respond quickly to all letters. M. Boyd, PO Box 379, Fairton, NJ 08320

Male, 26, seeking Japanese pen pals. My interests are anime, manga, computers, video games, music and Japan's history and language. Please write in English to Alex Morales, Rod Olmo, C-24, Arecibo, PR 00612

American male seeking friends in Japan. Interests: Japanese, American & world culture, 60s rock music & computers. Paul Goldman, 1316 Stillwood Drive, Atlanta, GA 30306 アメリカの男性, 24, 国際ペンパルを求む。アメリカの印象は?手紙は英語, フランス語, 中国語 または 簡単な日本語でOK. Augie Tam, 376 Broadway #9B, New York NY 10013.

American teenager seeks Japanese pen pals (ages 15-20). Interests include Japanese comics and movies. Wil Surber, 209 East Road, Mt Airy, MD 21771

American businessman, 24, seeks female pen pal in Japan or NY area. Please write in English, send picture. Ben Goodyear, Esq., 365 Harding Ave #3, Clifton, NJ 07011

Music lover (independent, experimental, avant garde) seeks like-minded Japanese individuals for correspondence (mail-music networking). Write in English, learning Japanese. Burkhard Höfler, Römerstr. 235, 69126 Heidelberg, Germany

Canadian male seeks Japanese pen pals interested in Amiga computers, Godzilla anime, music, manga, sci-fi. Write in English: Ed Sum, 1807 Francisco Tce., Victoria, BC V8N 4W2 Canada

American male, 18, seeks friendships from Asia. Interests: computers, Asian & African culture. Lawrence Frelot, 6060 Lindo Paseo Road, #217, San Diego, CA 92115 Internet: 73024.1400.compuserve.com.

I am a Chinese-Singaporean girl who would like pen friends from anywhere; write in English, Chinese or Japanese. I collect postcards, foreign currency, stickers; like to listen to Japanese, English music. Angela Low, Blk 34, #05-86, Cassia Crescent, Singapore 1439

American male, 13, seeks Japanese or American pen pal. Interests are Dragon Ball, Japanese language, comic books. Write in English. Jeff Aziz, 6952 Howden Court, San Jose, CA 95119

Employment Opportunity

MANGAJIN is looking for an associate feature editor. Must be native speaker of English with excellent writing/editing skills, including editorial planning and supervising free-lancers. Also need DTP and layout skills/aptitude. Should be comfortable working from Japanese source material. We offer informal, creative atmosphere and compensation based on skills/experience. Please send samples of work & letter to Feature Ed., PO Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065

WANTED - COMIC BOOK EDITOR Part-time position in Los Angeles available for individual with experience. Company represents a comic book publisher in Japan. Please send resume and references to the following address: DYNA-SEARCH, INC., 11835 W. Olympic Blvd., Suite 825, East Tower, Los Angeles, CA 90064

NIHONGO LEARNING SYSTEMS

漢字
かな
勉強

2440 Southwest Cary Parkway, Suite #205
Cary, NC 27513
Orders/inquiries .... 1-800-353-1706
FACSIMILE ..... 1-919-380-1134
Prodigy ID ..... TWPM00A
Internet ID ..... TWPM00A@PRODIGY.COM

IBM Compatible Software for Learning to Read and Write Japanese

KANJI RENSHUU - Supports learning the Kanji learned in grades 1-6 of Japanese elementary school. Stroke order with brush effect, multiple choice quizzes, and On-Yomi/Kun-Yomi display in kana and/or romaji. Includes 881 kanji deemed ESSENTIAL by the Japanese Ministry of Education. (996 characters supported in all.) PRICE- $50

KANA RENSHUU - Interactive program teaches both Hiragana and Katakana. Stroke order supported at the touch of a key with brush effects. PRICE- $25

JUKUGO RENSHUU - Allows the study of Kanji Combinations. Combinations include Hiragana characters. Customized lists can be built to concentrate on specific areas of vocabulary. Default study list included. PRICE- $25

Graphics - All 1850 Toyo Kanji plus Hiragana and Katakana in graphics compatible with Brodurbund Software Inc's Print shop Series of programs. Over 2000 graphics in all. Price - $35

Prices include shipping and handling. North Carolina residents add 6% sales tax. For free details send or fax name/address to the address above or call toll free and leave the information. For sample diskette illustrating the products, send $4.00 (check or MO) to the address above. Add $4.00 shipping if outside of U.S. Requirements are: DOS 3.3 or higher and EGA graphics or better. Corporate and Educational Site License discounts available. Clip and send this ad for $5.00 off any program. Savings up to $20 if all packages purchased!

JAPAN BUDGET TRAVEL

The lowest fares to Asia and beyond.

Going to Japan, China, Hong Kong, Taiwan or Europe is easy and economical when you turn to Japan Budget Travel.

Whether you're traveling for business or pleasure, our highly-trained agents have the experience and expertise to assist you with all of your travel needs. We offer a complete range of travel services, including the Japan Rail Pass and Eurail Pass.

So when you want fast, dependable service—and the lowest prices around—call Japan Budget Travel.

Call any of our offices toll free:

- New York... 800-722-0797 • 212-686-8855
- Chicago..... 800-843-0273 • 312-236-9797
- Boston..... 800-638-0024 • 617-353-1010
- Houston.... 800-445-5265 • 713-789-6633
- Atlanta..... 800-782-7781 • 404-231-4333
- Tokyo..... 03-504-0698* *not toll free

Want to Exchange Letters with Japanese Friends?

ALC Press is looking for people of all nationalities who would like to exchange letters (in English) with Japanese. In Japan there are lots of people, young and old, who want to correspond with overseas friends.

Sponsoring for ALC Correspondence
 ALCPRESS INC.

ALC Correspondence Club, c/o ALC Press, Inc.
 2-54-12 Etchujy, Suginami-ku Tokyo 168 Japan

Tokyo-based publisher, ALC Press, Inc. have launched the ALC Correspondence Club - a penpal introduction service - in order to promote international exchange and friendship among individuals in Japan and other countries. If you are interested in participating in this exciting program, please complete this form and mail it to our headquarters in Tokyo.

You will become a member of the ALC Correspondence Club upon our receipt of your registration form. Registration is free, and valid for six months. During the six-month registration period, we will match you with Japanese penpals with the help of the information you have provided. The Japanese penpals will then write to you. It is preferred that you write in English, but Japanese is acceptable as well.

ALC Correspondence Club Registration Form

Name: _____ Sex:  Male /  Female

Address: _____

Postal Code: _____ Country: _____

Marital Status:  Married /  Single Age: _____

Occupation: _____ Nationality: _____

Hobbies/Interests: _____

We're waiting to hear from you!

モ ケ

日 本 語 フ ィ ブ
□

MOKE 2.1 enables anyone with an IBM PC or compatible computer, a hard drive, and a graphics monitor to enter Japanese. Japanese is entered via romaji. MOKE 2.1 can input hiragana, katakana, kanji, and ASCII. Japanese can be printed on Postscript printers, HP LaserJet II, and 9, 24-pin Epson compatible dot matrix printers.

Also available: Kanji Guess 1.0 with flashcard, multiple guess, Kanji fish, and GojuuOnJun quizzes.

- MOKE 2.1 - $69.95
- Kanji Guess 1.0 - $30.00

Additional $5.00 per copy for shipping and handling in the U.S. (Outside the U.S. and Canada add $10.00 each.)

KiCompWare

Please check one format:
 5 1/4 (360K)  3 1/2 (720K)

Payment made by:  Check or money order
 MasterCard  VISA TOTAL $ _____

Acct. # _____ Exp. Date _____

Signature: _____

Send to: KiCompWare, PO Box 536
 Appleton, WI 54912 Tel. 612-773-8621

New Version

Use Your PC to Master Japanese and Chinese

Enjoy learning Asian languages with Smart Characters for Students™ word processor and vocabulary tutor. Unlike other word processors, Smart Characters combines reading, writing, translating, and vocabulary study tools to assist non-native speakers who may have only minimal foreign language skills. The result is an effective tool for word processing and foreign language study.

- Displays furigana, bpmf, and pinyin in a variety of styles to help you pronounce unknown or forgotten characters.
- The built-in vocabulary tutor teaches kanji and hanzi rapidly and effectively so you can read without notes. Create your own lessons and contribute to or select from the User's Group library, including each month's vocabulary from Mangajin magazine.
- Use the word processor to display or create sophisticated interactive hypertext lessons to learn or teach technical topics such as grammar and usage.
- Write and print any character; over 7700 are included.
- Handy on-line hypertext references and dictionaries include English notes to speed reading and writing. Optional dictionaries may be added and instantly accessed. The optional radical and stroke dictionary makes a particularly handy rapid reading tool.
- Version 2.5 provides better typography, more dictionary options, and is easier to use. Just $99.95. Call or write for a free brochure.

知 字

Apropos Customer Service, 8 Bellknap St., Arlington, Massachusetts 02174. 800-676-4021

NEW!

Japanese Jive

by Caroline McKeldin

English is widely used in Japanese product names and packaging, often with baffling results. McKeldin presents dozens of hilarious examples of real products bearing unreal English names, accompanied by tongue-in-cheek "analysis." 80 pages, softcover.

$9.95, subscriber price $8.95

Mangajin Subscriptions & T-Shirts

Mangajin Subscriptions:

Subscribe to Mangajin to get each issue delivered conveniently to your door! Subscribe to Mangajin to get substantial subscriber discounts on catalog items! Subscribe to Mangajin just to have something cool for your coffee table! Whatever the reason, subscribe to Mangajin! Only $35 for 10 issues (one year).

Mangajin T-Shirts

Our Clean-Cut Logo shirt, black logo on white 50/50 heavy blend is only $6.50 if you're a subscriber, $8.00 otherwise. This shirt just states what you believe more simply! Please choose size L or XL.

Our Classic Samurai 100% cotton six-color T-shirt is a reproduction of our very first cover. Get it at the low price of $10.00 for subscribers, $12.50 for others. Please choose size L or XL.

Authentic Japanese Manga

These manga books come straight from Japan and are available in their original, untranslated form. Selections from each have appeared in past issues of Mangajin.

Obatarian

by Hotta Katsuhiko. A long-time favorite of Mangajin readers, Obatarian's obnoxious ways & selfishness have endeared her to thousands. Five volume set, original Japanese. $31.50, subscriber price $28.00

Dai Tokyo Binbo Seikatsu Manyuaru

by Maekawa Tsukasa. A series of episodes in the life of a young man who combines a laid-back philosophy with traditional values. Most recently featured in Mangajin #27. Five volume set, original Japanese. $35.00, subscriber price $32.00

O-jama Shimasu

by Imazeki Shin. Known to its fans as the "sheep-counting manga," the offbeat humor in this series is reminiscent of The Far Side. Selections appeared in Mangajin #10, 13, 16, 18, 19, 20 and 21. Three volume set, original Japanese edition. $19.50, subscriber price $17.50

— Mangajin Catalog —

Mangajin "Classics"

Need more Mangajin? Back issues are the answer! $6 each or $5.40 each for subscribers.

No. 6
Profile of sci-fi artist Matsumoto Reiji; Basic Japanese: Omedetō and Ohayō; Ginga Tetsudō 999 (1), Dai-Tōkyō, Pocket Story, Tanaka-kun

No. 10
Roundup of Japanese movies on video; the art of subtitling; sex & violence in manga; Dai-Tōkyō, Ginga Tetsudō (5), OL Shinkaron, Ojama Shimasu

No. 12
Japanese beer brands; A tale of two translations; Mac System 7; Basic Japanese: Ii, the good word; The Far Side, Dai-Tōkyō, Pocket Story, Ningen Kōsaten (2)

No. 16
Getting around the high cost of sushi; Computer Corner: Twinbridge review; Racial stereotypes in manga; Oishinbo (food manga, pt. 1), Bono Bono, Sarariman Senka

No. 17
Tezuka Osamu, Japan's "God of Manga"; Computer Corner: developments in Unicode; Basic Jpse: Baby Talk; The Phoenix, Calvin & Hobbes, Oishinbo (2), Kuriko-san

No. 18
The corporate warrior; Japan-related CompuServe; business books; Eigyō Tenteko Nisshi (business manga, pt. 1), The Phoenix (2), Oishinbo (3), C&H, Ojama Shimasu, Obatarian

No. 19
Controversy over racial images in Tezuka's works; Interviews with pro translators; Sumō, Japan's trendy old sport; Eigyō Tenteko Nisshi (2), Phoenix (3), Mad Ad (Perot)

No. 20
Language learning issue: general pointers, textbook reviews, kana learning programs, Kanji-Flash review; Ningen Kōsaten (medical ethics story, pt. 1), What's Michael, Sarari-kun

No. 21
Tonic ejyō drinks: Salaryman's Secret Weapon?, Mr. Baseball, CD ROM reviews, Kuriko-san, Ningen Kōsaten (2), Beranmei Tōchan, Yūyake no Uta

Other Mangajin back issues available:

- #23: Educational Manga, Takahanada/Rie Wedding, Microsoft: Selling Software in Japan, Taste of Culture: Wasabi, OL Shinkaron, Tanaka-kun, Crayon Shinchan, Sanshirō no Koi, Tsuri-Baka Nisshi (2)
- #24: Bars, Cabarets, and the "Water Trade"; Haiku-mania, Fūryū Manga: Odaji ni, Japan's Choco-Mania, Sarari-kun, Furiten-kun, Crayon Shinchan, What's Michael, Midori-san, Tanaka-kun
- #25: Sake Special: brands, terminology, manga, The "Japanification" of American Fast Food, Kuriko-san, Bar Lemon Hart
- #26: An Interview with Journalist Sam Jameson, Outrageous Japanese, Beranmei Tōchan, Furiten-kun, Manga Business Manners, Yawara! (1), Dai Tōkyō Binbō Seikatsu Manyuaru, OL Shinkaron, Calvin and Hobbes, The Far Side
- #27: Japan's Wedding Industry, Outrageous Japanese, Brand News, Manga Business Manners, Yawara! (2)
- #28: Japan's Vending Machines, Japanese for PCs, Kachō Shima Kōsaku (1), Katsushika Q, Beranmei Tōchan, Furiten-kun
- #29: Japanese Software Special, Interview with Takeuchi: creator of Garcia-kun, Political Cartoon, Taste of Culture: kitchen utensils, Kachō Shima Kōsaku (2), Shanshirō no Koi, OL Shinkaron
- #31: Christmas in Japan, Interview with Ishinomori Shōtarō, Book reviews: Religion in Japan, Ishii Hisaichi, After Zero, Hotel (2)

Mangajin Subscriptions

$35 for 10 issues. Become a subscriber and take advantage of our discounted prices!

To Place an Order • Call 1-800-552-3206 • FAX 404-590-0890 • PO Box 7119, Marietta, GA 30065

Mangajin Catalog

The Nihongo Journal

日本語ジャーナル
The Nihongo Journal

Another fine Japanese language-learning magazine, the Nihongo Journal has something for all levels of study. Each issue contains 100+ pages of lessons, drills, readings and columns exploring contemporary Japanese language, as well as ads for language schools and products.

1993 Nihongo Journals $9 each; subscriber price $8.10 each

#12
A Practical Lesson in Karaoke, including the top 5 karaoke songs & music; Japanese-style fast food; bilingual essay by Yoshimoto Banana; AdLog: Kirby's Adventure (Nintendo); Kabuki

#6
Japan's Imperial Family; Visiting a Doctor; Expressing Criticism; This Month's Guest: Miura Kazuyoshi, Japan's Soccer Ace

#5
A Guide to Modern Fortune-Telling, Basic Japanese: I am Sorry, J through Linguistic Functions: Expressing Emotions

Other 1993 Nihongo Journals Available:

- 1: Promoting Recycling; Off to Kamakura; Beginning Japanese: New Year's Day; Vocab Building, the suffixes -ma and -na,
2: Studying in Japan; Contemporary Kimono; Glassware; News Nihongo: The LDP, Ultra-Rightists & the Yakuza

1992 Nihongo Journals $7 each; special deal — 11 for $75

#12
Stepping Up Your Japanese; Practicing Arts & Hobbies; JLPT: Practice Test; Japanese Through Linguistic Functions: Expressing Opinions; News Nihongo: Priming the Economy

#11
Preparing for Disasters; Japan, Land of Earthquakes; Ogasawara Village, Tokyo; Beginning Japanese: Autumn Leaves; Business Writing: Sending Out Invitations

#10
Attending a Japanese University; Horse Racing; Japanese Paper; Business Writing: Negotiating a Price Increase; Beginning Japanese: Sports

Other 1992 Nihongo Journals Available:

- 2: Studying Abroad in Japan from SE Asia; Let's Go to Nikko; Essay: Inside the Car; Elementary Course: Valentine's Day
3: Pachinko; Stylish Female Office Workers; Elementary Course: Colds; Intermediate Conversation: Japan's Police
4: Katakana—An Initiation; Vocabulary Building, The Fun Method; Course in Business Writing; News Nihongo: Bush Visits Japan
5: The Liberal Democratic Party; Ghouls, Goblins & Imaginary Beings; Symbols in Kanji; Beginning Japanese: Golden Week
6: Job Hunting in Japan; Wedding Fads; Beg. Japanese: Wedding Ceremonies; Course in Business Writing: Writing Estimates
7: Phones for a New Age; Game Arcades; Japanese Through Linguistic Functions: Requests; News Nihongo: Pro Baseball
8: Whaling Controversy; Festival Delights; Beg. Japanese: Summer Vacation; Vocabulary Building: Onomatopoeia
9: The Japanese Language Proficiency Test; Amusement Parks; Jpse Through Linguistic Functions: Denials

$5 Nihongo Journal samples

Want to give the Nihongo Journal a try? We have an assortment left over from 1991 for only $5 each. There are only a few of each issue, so let us choose which one to send.

Nihongo Journal Subs

Have the Nihongo Journal delivered to your door every month. 12 issues for $100; subscriber price $95. (Available in the US only.)

Japan, Inc.

by Ishinomori Shotaro
English translation of the Japanese educational manga Nihon Keizai Nyūmon. The story involves fictional Mitsutomo Trading Co., the kind of company that has presided over Japan's economic expansion during the past century, providing insight into how the Japanese view business and their political economy. 312 pages, softcover. $13.00, subscriber price $12.50

THE JAPANESE THROUGH ~~AMERICAN~~ EYES

Sheila K. Johnson

The Job Hunter's Guide to Japan

by Terra Brockman

If you want to work in Japan, this book is for you. Each chapter focuses on a specific industry (computers, English teaching, etc.) and gives you complete information on that field. The first and last chapters provide an overview. 232 pages, softcover. $12.00, subscriber price $11.50

The Japanese Through American Eyes

by Sheila K. Johnson

The author studied various pop culture media covering a fifty-year period from 1941 to the present to study how American's views of the Japanese have developed since Pearl Harbor. From the "anti-Jap" sentiments of WWII through the guilt about Hiroshima to the latest wave of examination provoked by Japan's economic power, this book provides a fascinating look at Japan through the eyes of Americans. 191 pages, softcover. $10.00, subscriber price $9.50

JTB's Illustrated Book Series Volume 1: A Look Into Japan

An intro to a variety of Japanese traditions, customs, & pastimes. Covers 100 categories: tea ceremony, bonsai, pachinko, eating utensils, hot springs, signs, signals, and more.

Volume 2: Living Japanese Style

Practical explanations of Japanese customs, designed to help avoid culture shock. Includes using the bank, taking the train, advice on how to behave in a variety of situations, etc.

Volume 8: Salaryman in Japan

To understand the salaryman (white collar worker) is to understand Japanese business. This book delves into everyday life. Also features a section on business manners, phrases and terminology.

Volume 14: Japanese Inns & Travel

An intro to the types of Japanese lodgings (ryokan, minshuku, youth hostels) including the history of travel in Japan, culture of hot springs, a catalog of ekiben plus local specialities.

These handy pocket-size books offer a wealth of information. Our price $10.00 each, subscriber price $9.50/each. Set of five $47.50, subscriber price $45.00

Doing Business with Japanese Men

by Brannen & Wilen

Defining problems women have with Japanese businessmen and offering solutions as well, Doing Business explains why misconceptions occur (on both sides) and would be helpful to anyone dealing with Japanese businessmen. Reviewed in Mangajin #26. 174 pages, softcover. $8.95, subscriber price $7.95

Gateway to Japan

by J. Kinoshita & N. Palevsky (Revised) One of the best Japan travel guides on the market. Place names written in English and Japanese characters. With food, lodging, transportation & shopping details, maps, etc. Suitable for high or low budget travelers. 541 pages, softcover. $14.00, subscriber price $12.00

Mangajin Catalog

Manga! Manga!
by Frederik L. Schodt
Tracing manga from its 6th-century roots through its function as propaganda during the war to the billion-yen industry of the present, Manga Manga includes more than 200 illustrations and translated sections of four classic manga works. 260 pages, softcover. $18.50, subscriber price $17.00

Komikku Nichi-Bei Masatsu: Waratte bakari wa iraremasen:

"Comic Japan-US Friction: Not Just a Laughing Matter"
Ono Kosei, translator
Not Just a Laughing Matter has 100 political cartoons on Japan from newspapers and magazines around the world. Everything from the contents to the notes is presented in English and Japanese (no language notes or grammar explanations, though). Priority was given to those comics that evoked a chuckle. Reviewed in Mangajin #28. Price $17.00 subscriber price $15.00

Slugging it Out in Japan

Warren Cromartie w/Robert Whiting
This Montreal Expo turned Tokyo Giant gripes about everything from soulless cities to gutless players; but by the end of the story admits his respect for Japan. Reviewed in Mangajin #14. 277 pages, hardcover. $18.50, subscriber price $17.50

The Way of the Urban Samurai

by Kasumi
There is no saving face when Japan insider Kasumi takes off the gloves and challenges you to get to know the truth about the Japanese male. Reviewed in Mangajin #24. 113 pages, softcover. $9.50, subscriber price $8.50

With Respect to the Japanese
By John Condon
Condon provides a solid foundation for understanding why Japanese and Americans behave, think and see the world as they do, and offers guidelines for establishing effective relationships. 92 pages, softcover. $11.00, subscriber price $10.00

A Half Step Behind
By Jane Condon
This book explores the wide variety of lifestyles led by Japanese women—career women, entertainers, housewives, farmers—through a series of interviews with the women themselves. The result is a rare look at Japan from the woman's point of view. 320 pages, softcover. $12.00, subscriber price $11.00

Monkey Brain Sushi

Edited by Alfred Birnbaum
The eleven short stories in this astounding collection introduce to the West the brightest and boldest voices in up-to-the-moment fiction. Mangajin readers should especially note the story "Japan's Junglest Day" by Hisauchi Michio, done entirely in manga form. Reviewed in Mangajin #12. 305 pages, hardcover. $18.00, subscriber price $17.00

Hidden Differences

By Edward & Mildred Hall
A straightforward examination of the unstated rules of Japanese-American business relations. Renowned anthropologist Edward Hall explains not only how the Japanese think, but why they think that way. 172 pages, softcover. $8.00, subscriber price $7.00

In the Realm of a Dying Emperor
by Norma Field
Set in the final year of the Showa Emperor's fatal illness, Realm examines the dark side of Japanese nationalism. By giving detailed portraits of three people who have taken unpopular stands against a government-endorsed nationalist symbol, a nation is revealed that is far more diverse than most people realize. 273 pages, softcover. $11.50, subscriber price $11.00

The Essence of Modern Haiku

Breaking free from centuries of poetry limited to nature themes, Seishi Yamaguchi has added modern touches while retaining the elegant beauty of the classics. The unique approach of this collection has appeal for students of Japanese language & culture as well as haiku lovers everywhere. 368 pages. Hardcover $24.95, Softcover $19.95

Mangajin Catalog

MANGAJIN'S Basic Jsp- nese Through Comics

A compilation of the first 24 Basic Japanese lessons from Mangajin; the next best thing to a complete set of Mangajin backissues! The lessons cover a wide array of expressions and illustrate usage and cultural context. Beginners will find the concepts and explanations easy to understand while pros can expand their knowledge. 160 pages, softcover. $14.95

Let's Learn Hiragana & Let's Learn Katakana

These two workbooks teach the basic Japanese alphabet and the one used for borrowed foreign words & phrases. Practice and review builds writing skills step by step. A manageable way to learn with or without an instructor, softcover. Two volume set $18.50, subscriber price $17.00, or separately $9.50 each, subscriber price $8.50 each

Kanji & Kana

Presents the 1,945 "daily use" kanji in the format shown along with 60+ pages of kanji and kana history, rules and trivia. Indexed by romaji reading, number of strokes and radical. hardcover. Reviewed in Mangajin #1. $14.00, subscriber price $12.50

楽	358	GAKU, music; RAKU, pleasure; tano(shimu) , enjoy; tano(shii) , fun, enjoyable, pleasant
	75
	2324	音楽 ongaku music	347
	楽	文楽 bunraku Japanese puppet theater	111
		楽天家 rakutenka optimist	141, 165
		安楽死 anrakushi euthanasia	105, 85

楽	'	レ	レ	GAKU, music; RAKU, comfort, ease; tano(shii) , pleasant
	白	白	泊	楽しみ tanoshimi , pleasure 音楽会 ongakukai , concert, musical
331 13 strokes	泊	泊	楽	気楽 kiraku , ease, comfort (木 15)

Essential Japanese Grammar

A summary covering all the grammar needed for speech and comprehension. Not a textbook, but you can learn plenty by browsing through. softcover. $4.50, subscriber price $4.05

A Guide to Reading and Writing Japanese

Gives easy-to-follow stroke order diagrams for 881 "essential characters," plus hiragana/katakana. Also a simple listing for 989 more, for a total of 1,850 kanji. Indexed by romaji reading, stroke count. hardcover. Reviewed in Mangajin #1. $14.00, subscriber price $12.50

Read Japanese Today

Read 300 of the most common characters in a few hours whether or not you have any knowledge of the grammar or spoken language. softcover. Reviewed in Mangajin #1. $7.50, subscriber price $6.75 sample 標本, 見本 (を) 取る; (質) を ぬす; Statistics サンプル.

Kenkyusha's Furigana E-J Dictionary

This dictionary gives readings in hiragana for all kanji used in definitions and explanations. 980 pages, 49,000 headwords, heavyweight paperback. $24.00, subscriber price $21.60

A Reader of Handwritten Japanese

A collection of actual handwritten correspondence received by the author illustrating kanji "shortcuts," cursive, and general differences in handwriting. Each appears in original Japanese, romaji, and English translation, from beginning to advanced. 266 pages. softcover. $27.00, subscriber price $25.00

Japanese for Busy People I

Created by the AJLT, this course offers 30 lessons of survival Japanese with emphasis on vocabulary and grammar with practical value. Dialogs presented in both kana and romaji. 213 pages. $20.00, subscriber price $18.50.
Tapes (four 30-minute cassettes): $40, subscriber price $35.00

Japanese for Busy People II

Sequel to JBPI combines vocabulary and grammar in realistic situations; opening dialogs, practice sections, exercises, quizzes. Kanji are introduced along with hiragana, katakana and romaji. 420 pages. $20.50, subscriber price $19.00.
Tapes (six 60-minute cassettes): $90, subscriber price $85

Sake Sets

There are two to choose from. Both sets include tokkuri (sake jar) and choko (cups). Either makes a wonderful gift (for yourself or someone else). Add a nice touch to your table. Boxed set with 2 cups $24.00, Set with 4 cups $89.00.

Karate Kid

Hachi-maki symbolizes determination and commitment to spiritual, mental, and physical effort. Hand-screened 100% cotton.
Matsuri (Festival), $11
Kamikaze (Divine Wind), $9
Banzai (Hurray), $9
Hissho (Never Beaten), $9

Lantern

Iron fish lantern lights your deck or patio. Black cast iron lantern stands 7 1/2" tall and 13 1/2" long, with bottom opening for a candle, $39

Gong

This brass temple gong rests on its red and yellow pillow, 4 1/2" high, beautiful long mellow tone, $49

Geisha Print Coaster Set

Six Japanese beauties grace this set of sturdy, square coasters on decorated washi paper with gilded edges. The powdered faces and elegant robes are enhanced by subtle seasonal touches in the background. Set of six different designs, $15.00

Daruma Doll

The Daruma brings good luck to your endeavor—at the start of a venture or a new year, one eye is painted and a wish is made for good luck. When the goal has been reached, the other eye is painted as a sign of gratitude. This keepsake papier mâché doll is 5" high and comes with brush and ink, $21.00

Masu

The 180cc masu (measure) is made of natural finished wood. (Comes without salt in the corner.) Traditional cup for drinking cold sake, $9

Paper Wallets

These beautiful paper wallets feature bright ukiyo-e prints on the outside and colorful patterns within. A unique way to hold money, invitations, gift certificates, coupons, you name it. Each wallet measures 3 1/4 x 7, set of four, $12.00

EGWord: EGWord is the word-processor of choice for writing in Japanese! Writes in Kanji, Hiragana, Katagana, and Furigana. Includes EGBridge and a 60,000 word Japanese dictionary. Supports vertical writing, simple DTP, and imports a variety of graphics.

EGWord Classic: EGWord Classic is the economical and simple to use version of EGWord, for all of your basic word-processing needs!

EGTalk: Transmit all of your Japanese documents via modem with this powerful and easy to use communications software. Supports all speeds and protocols.

Kanjitalk 7.1: Kanjitalk 7.1 is the standard operating system software in Japan for the Mac! Compatible with all Japanese language applications.

Apple Japanese Language Kit: The answer to affordable Japanese computing on the Mac! No need to install another system, just run the Language Kit under System 7.1 and use most Japanese applications!

Macintosh Japanese System

Quadra 610 8MB RAM 230 MB HD with CD-ROM Drive (with Mouse)
Apple 14" RGB Monitor
Apple Standard Keyboard
Kanjitalk 7.1
Ergosoft EGWord 5.0
Completely pre-installed and configured!

Do
You Need To Process
Japanese
?

In addition, CCIC carries products from Adobe, Aldus, Claris, Nisus, and Dynaware. Our technical staff is standing by to help you with any questions! Systems bundles are customizable, and many configurations are available.

IBM DOS/V 5.0: The Japanese version of MS DOS, this operating system will allow you to run Japanese applications for the IBM PC!

MS Windows 3.1 J: The Windows operating system software enhances MS-DOS to make your IBM-PC compatible easier to use. Its multimedia capabilities make Windows the logical choice for DOS users!

MS Word 5.0 J for Windows: An easy to use graphical user interface and a wealth of word-processing features makes this the best choice for Windows word-processing!

PC

605 Addison Street Suite A
Berkeley, CA 94710 USA
510.843.5626
510.843.5173 fax

CCiC

New Japanese capability that's all Macintosh.

Introducing the Japanese Language Kit for System 7.1

Add Japanese capabilities to your English system.

WorldScript is Apple's new software technology, included in Macintosh system software version 7.1, that makes it easy to use multiple languages on your Macintosh.

Run Japanese applications.

When you install the software in this kit, applications that have been developed for Japan will display Japanese menu bars and allow you to input Japanese text.

Work with Japanese fonts.

In addition to the Osaka bitmapped font, the Japanese Language Kit includes two Kanji TrueType fonts.

Apple's Japanese Language Kit makes using Japanese on your Macintosh computer easier than ever. Whether you're a native speaker or just learning the language, you can run Japanese applications and include Japanese text in letters, presentations, and reports.

Use the Language Kit to develop Japanese language materials such as brochures, posters, and business cards. Although the Japanese Language Kit does not translate text, it does let you easily input, edit, and print in Japanese.

If you want to improve your Japanese, the Language Kit can help dramatically. It allows your Macintosh to run popular interactive Japanese training materials.

The Japanese Language Kit comes with two

Kanji TrueType fonts, which produce high-quality output from any Macintosh-compatible printer. Documentation is provided in both Japanese and English, and you can type using either the Roman or kana keyboard layout.

As an extension to System 7.1, the Language Kit uses the operating system you already have. There is no need to store an additional system on your hard disk. The Japanese Language Kit also contains Kotoeri, the same, easy-to-use input method that is included with KanjiTalk 7.

Almost every major software program has a version that has been localized for Japanese. All you need to run them is the Japanese Language Kit and System 7.1. You can even use a non-localized program, such as Nisus 3.4, which takes advantage of WorldScript, Apple's new software technology. WorldScript simplifies the way in which a single operating system can support multiple languages.

Getting started with the Japanese Language Kit is easy, too. You can order it through your Apple authorized reseller or mail-order software suppliers by referring to Apple part number M1648LL/A. And, when you purchase a Language Kit you can get support directly from Apple's own technical support staff. For the name of the U.S. Apple software reseller nearest you, call 1-800-732-3131, ext. 500.

See how easily the Japanese Language Kit can give you the power to input Japanese. The power to be your best.

Apple

やっどでました!
Yatto Demashita!

It's Finally Here!

The first 24 'Basic Japanese Lessons' from Mangajin, compiled in book form.

MANGAJIN's
BASIC JAPANESE
through comics

Basic Japanese Through Comics is the ideal supplement to learning Japanese from textbooks. The book uses lifelike situations from real manga to explain linguistic and cultural points quickly and memorably. Each chapter one specific concept of basic Japanese—a phrase, word, or hard-to-grasp idiom—is carefully examined and explained. The lessons cover a wide array of Japanese expression and illustrate usage and cultural context, providing insights into not only the language, but the way the Japanese behave, think and see the world as well.

“...a delightful volume that both educates and entertains. This is 'real' Japanese as spoken by the natives...I highly recommend this book to those who wish to study real 'live' Japanese in its genuine socio-linguistic context.”
- Glen Fukushima, Director, AT&T Japan, and former U.S. trade negotiator

“Basic Japanese through comics presents the reader with enjoyable material as well as valuable information on Japanese language and culture. I recommend it highly as a reference book for learners of Japanese.”
- Professor Akira Miura, U. of Wisconsin, and author of Japanese Words and Their Uses

Learn essential expressions and get a slice-of-life look into Japanese society at the same time!

Each chapter gives you an average of six pages of illustrations from manga covering:

- |   |                                    |                                   |
|---|------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1. Yoroshiku o-negai shimasu     | 9. Dōzo                     | 17. Baby Talk                     |
| 2. Sumimasen                     | 10. Baka , The Basic Insult | 18. Informal Politeness           |
| 3. Feminine Speech                      | 11. Shitsurei               | 19. Introductions                 |
| 4. Gaijin Bloopers                      | 12. Ii , The “Good Word”    | 20. “—sama” Words                 |
| 5. Hiragana, Katakana and Manga         | 13. Yatta! The Exclamation  | 21. Hesitating with Anō    |
| 6. Ohayō &amp; Omedeto Gozaimasu | 14. Saying Goodbye                 | 22. The Wide World of Desu |
| 7. Creative Kanji Readings              | 15. The Concept of Komaru   | 23. Hai (Part 1)           |
| 8. Domō , The All-Purpose Word   | 16. Counters and Classifiers       | 24. Hai (Part 2)           |

Order Yours Today!
Only $14.95/¥2500 in Japan

► In the US, order through Mangajin ..... Tel: 800-552-3206/Fax: 404-590-0890
► In Japan, order through SSKC ..... Tel: 03-3479-4434/Fax: 03-3479-5047